Sheltered Land

LL Leslie

Sheltered Land:

A Sheltered Crisis ,1984 , Private Housing Land in Liverpool ,1985 Housing in the South East Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: South East Regional Committee,2010 The South East Plan contains an annual target for new homes that provides a benchmark which can be reviewed Sub regions will have their own targets that allow local circumstances to be taken into account but the regional overview is valuable to ensure consistency and to enable review of the regional target as a whole It is important that any review of housing targets in the South East takes into account the range of numbers put forward their underlying reasons and the consequences of not meeting any decided targets The economic downturn has meant that fewer homes are being built and there are concerns that the lack of infrastructure provision alongside housing development is stopping schemes from making progress The Committee recommends that the Government review the funding mechanisms currently available for this infrastructure It feels it is important that the Homes and Communities Agency is given the resources it needs in future years The Committee also acknowledges that while focusing development on brownfield land is important to stimulate regeneration there must be care that concentrating development in such areas does not have adverse effects such as using up urban land or valuable urban greenspace The Committee also recommends that greater attention be paid to alternative models for providing housing land that the region provides the right mix of homes and that the Government stick to its timetable for the Code for Sustainable Homes ensuring that all housing has a zero carbon rating by 2016 The Farmer's Magazine ,1840 Transactions of the Scottish Arboricultural Society ,1869 The rural housing question Satsangi, Madhu,Gallent, Nick,2010-09-01 For the past century governments have been compelled time and again to return to the search for solutions to the housing and economic challenges posed by a restructuring countryside The rural housing question is an analysis of the complexity of housing and development tensions in the rural areas of England Wales and Scotland It analyses a range of topics from attitudes to rural development economic change land use planning and counter urbanisation through retirement and ageing leisure consumption lifestyle shifts and homelessness to public and private house building private and public renting and community initiatives Across this spectrum of concerns it attempts to isolate the fundamental tensions that give the rural housing question an intractable quality The book is aimed at policy makers researchers students and anyone with an interest in the future of the British countryside Credit Nation: Property Laws and Institutions in Early America Claire Priest,2021-02-02 Even before the United States became a country laws prioritizing access to credit set colonial America apart from the rest of the world Credit Nation presents a new vision of American economic history examining how the drive to expand credit shaped property laws and legal institutions in the colonial and founding eras of the republic Claire Priest describes how the British Parliament enacted laws for the colonies that privileged creditors by defining land and slaves as commodities available to satisfy debts Colonial governments in turn created local legal institutions that enabled people to further leverage their property to obtain credit Priest shows how loans backed with slaves as property fueled slavery from the colonial era through the Civil War and how increased access to credit was key to the explosive growth of capitalism in nineteenth century America Decisions of the Court of Session Scotland. Court of Session,1828 Deepening Reform for China's Long-term Growth and Development Ligang Song,Ross Garnaut,Cai Fang,2014-07-10 The Chinese economy has entered a new phase of development in which sources of growth are not so much dependent upon pure increases in labour investment and credit expansion but from productivity improvement structural changes technological progress and the benefits from improvement of the social security and welfare improvement When market functions are fully established to become a main channel for allocating resources the entrepreneurship will flourish engaging in more innovative activities workers will move more freely and have more incentives to improve their skills firms will become more productive through market entry and exit the economic structure will become more balanced because of the improved resource allocation and in the end growth will become more spontaneous and sustainable In this sense reforms could deliver dividend by raising China s potential economic growth rates For China to confront all the challenges it faces at present the reforms undertaken now have to be deep comprehensive and far reaching in order to succeed in paving the way for China to complete the task of transformation in the long term There is no better alternative than deepening the market oriented reform in advancing the course of China s modernisation for future development and prosperity and lifting China to the status of a developed economy in the next two decades The recent China update books have covered the topic of reform from different angles and this new book is another attempt to address this important issue
