Shes Not There A Poppy Rice Novel:

She's Not There Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, 2014-05-27 In Poppy Rice's second venture the smart outspoken FBI agent's vacation is rudely interrupted by a sinister murder. FBI agent Poppy Rice is rather unwillingly taking time off to recuperate from injuries sustained on the job. A few days into her ill conceived vacation on Block Island with Joe her sometime lover and soul mate she happens upon a corpse dumped in the middle of the road. The body of the victim a young girl from a summer camp for overweight teenagers is painfully contorted her face frozen in a death scream. There are no visible wounds and the cause of death is a mystery. Although Poppy is no stranger to gruesome scenes she is so disturbed by the murder that she can't help but defy her orders to rest. Then just as she begins poking around another body is found in the same condition as the first. This time the pathologist reveals another similarity the eardrums of both girls were ruptured. Now Poppy must get to the killer before the killer gets to any more girls. With no clue as to the murderer's method or motive she's going to need all the help she can get. But in the close knit tight lipped Block Island community secrets are kept even deadly ones. In Mary Ann Tirone Smith's She's Not There She Smiled Sweetly Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, 2004-06-03 When intrepid FBI agent Poppy Rice is asked to solve two cases separated by thirty years but connected by DNA she finds herself snared in a web of political deceit family intrigue and out and out bad guys She's Not There Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, Girls of Tender Age Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, 2006-02-24 In Girls of Tender Age Mary Ann Tirone Smith fully articulates with great humor and tenderness the wild jubilation of an extended French Italian family struggling to survive in a post World War II housing project in Hartford Connecticut. Smith seamlessly combines a memoir whose intimacy matches that of Angela's Ashes with the tale of a community plagued by a malevolent predator that holds the emotional and cultural resonance of The Lovely Bones. Smith's Hartford neighborhood is small town America where everyone's door is unlocked and the school church library drugstore 5 10 grocery and tavern are all within walking distance. Her family is peopled with memorable characters her possibly psychic mother who's always on the verge of a nervous breakdown her adoring father who makes sure she has something to eat in the morning beyond her usual gulp of Hershey's syrup her grandfather who teaches her to bash in the heads of the eels they catch on Long Island Sound Uncle Guido who makes the annual bagna cauda and the numerous aunts and cousins who parade through her life with love and food and endless stories of the old days. And then there's her brother Tyler. Smith's household was different. Little Mary Ann couldn't have friends over because her older brother Tyler an autistic before anyone knew what that meant was unable to bear noise of any kind. To him the sound of crying laughing phones ringing or toilets flushing was a cloud of barbed needles flying into his face. Subject to such an assault he would substitute that pain with another he'd try to chew his arm off. Tyler was Mary Ann's real life Boo Radley albeit one whose bookshelves sagged under the weight of the World War II books he collected and read obsessively. Hanging over this rough and tumble American childhood is the sinister shadow of an approaching serial killer. The menacing Bob Malm lurks throughout this joyous and chaotic family portrait and the havoc he unleashes when the paths of innocence and evil cross one early December evening in 1953 forever alters the landscape of Smith's childhood. Girls of Tender Age is one of those books that will forever change its readers because of its beauty and power and remarkable wit. Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007, 2008-02 The Publishers Weekly, 2004 Love Her Madly Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, 2004-04-01 A People magazine Page Turner of the Week The Silver Poppy Arthur Stringer, 2021-05-18 Arthur Stringer's The Silver Poppy is a captivating exploration of love, loss, and the complexities of human emotion set against the backdrop of early 20th century society. Stringer's prose is imbued with lyrical elegance, seamlessly intertwining vivid imagery and poignant dialogue that resonate deeply with readers. The novel navigates the intricate dynamics of relationships infused with the tension of societal expectations and personal desires, encouraging reflection on the universal themes of yearning and sacrifice. Arthur Stringer, a Canadian author and screenwriter born in 1874, was significantly influenced by his varied life experiences, including his work in theatre and silent films. These diverse pursuits granted him unique insights into character development and narrative pacing, allowing Stringer to create rich, multidimensional characters. His engagement with the cultural movements of his time, especially in regard to modernity and emotional expression, is evident in this work, which reflects his acute understanding of the human condition. For readers seeking a profound literary experience, The Silver Poppy offers a masterful synthesis of poetic storytelling and complex emotions. It is highly recommended to those who appreciate introspective narratives that illuminate the depths of personal and social conflict, making it a timeless addition to any literary collection. The Silver Poppy Arthur Stringer, 1903. The hero is a young Englishman, a graduate of Oxford who has recently come to the United States. Although of high literary ideals and of real poetical ability, he is obliged to earn a living as a hack writer in New York. He becomes acquainted and finally falls in love with Cordelia Vaughan, an attractive young woman who has won fame and fortune as the author of a novel, The Silver Poppy, which is in reality not her own work but that of a man who bequeathed the manuscript to her on his deathbed. In fact, Cordelia Vaughan is nothing but a literary imposter. New England Magazine, Vol. 29, No. 5. Book Notes Library Journal. Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L. Pylodet, Charles Ammi Cutter, Bertine Emma Weston, Karl Brown, Helen E. Wessells, 2006. Includes beginning Sept. 15, 1954, and on the 15th of each month Sept. May a special section.
