Shifting Worlds Changing Minds Where The Sciences And Buddhism Meet:

Shifting Worlds, Changing Minds Jeremy W. Hayward, 1987 Revisioning Transpersonal Theory Jorge N.

Ferrer, 2002-01-01 A participatory alternative to the perennialism and experientialism dominant in transpersonal psychology

A Recursive Vision Peter Harries-Jones, 1995-01-01 Gregory Bateson was one of the most original social scientists of this century. He is widely known as author of key ideas used in family therapy including the well known condition called double bind. He was also one of the most influential figures in cultural anthropology. In the decade before his death in 1980, Bateson turned toward a consideration of ecology. Standard ecology concentrates on an ecosystem's biomass and on energy budgets supporting life. Bateson came to the conclusion that understanding ecological organization requires a complete switch in scientific perspective. He reasoned that ecological phenomena must be explained primarily through patterns of information and that only through perceiving these informational patterns will we uncover the elusive unity or integration of ecosystems. Bateson believed that relying upon the materialist framework of knowledge dominant in ecological science will deepen errors of interpretation and in the end promote eco crisis. He saw recursive patterns of communication as the basis of order in both natural and human domains. He conducted his investigation first in small scale social settings then among octopus, otters and dolphins. Later he took these investigations to the broader setting of evolutionary analysis and developed a framework of thinking he called an ecology of mind. Finally his inquiry included an ecology of mind in ecological settings: a recursive epistemology. This is the first study of the whole range of Bateson's ecological thought: a comprehensive presentation of Bateson's matrix of ideas. Drawing on unpublished letters and papers, Harries-Jones clarifies themes scattered throughout Bateson's own writings, revealing the conceptual consistency inherent in Bateson's position and elaborating ways in which he pioneered aspects of late twentieth century thought. Pragmatism, Spirituality and Society Ananta Kumar

Giri, 2020-12-02 This book explores border crossing among pragmatism, spirituality and society. It opens up American pragmatism to dialogues with pragmatism and spiritual quest from other traditions such as India and China, thus making contemporary pragmatism a part of much needed planetary conversations. It cultivates new visions and practices of spiritual pragmatism building upon the seminal works of Charles Sanders Pierce, William James, Sri Aurobindo, John Dewey, Martin Heidegger, Mahatma Gandhi, B. R. Ambedkar, Ludwig Wittgenstein and Luce Irigaray, which can help us rethink and transform conventional conceptions and constructions of practice, pragmatism, language, religion, politics, society, culture and democracy, and create new relationships of pragmatism, spirituality and society. Human Development and the Spiritual Life

Ronald R. Irwin, 2012-12-06 The author proposes a theory of the development of consciousness in which ego is the central agent of socialization and culture and the driving force behind individual self control and self regulation. He reviews the literature on identity and narrative, outlines the fields of intellectual, self, moral and consciousness development, and discusses the evidence indicating that the development of consciousness transcends the limitations of conventional ego development.

Buddhist Theology Roger Jackson, John Makransky, 2013-12-16 Scholars of Buddhism themselves Buddhist here seek to apply the critical tools of the academy to reassess the truth and transformative value of their tradition in its relevance to the contemporary world

Racing to Justice John A. Powell, 2024-11-19 In Racing to Justice renowned social justice advocate John A. Powell persuasively argues that we have yet to achieve a truly post racial society and that there is much work to be done to redeem the American promise of inclusive democracy. Gathered from a decade of writing about social justice and spirituality these meditations on race identity and social policy provide an outline for laying claim to our shared humanity and a way toward healing ourselves and securing our future. With an updated foreword and a new chapter on polarization this new edition continues to challenge us to replace the attitudes and institutions that promote and perpetuate social suffering with those that foster relationships and a way of being that transcends disconnection and separation. Racing to Justice is a thought provoking book that offers readers a look into the issues that continue to plague our society. It is a reminder that we have yet to address and reckon with the challenges we face in providing equal opportunities for all people in this country and the world.

Body of Knowledge Robert Marrone, 1990-08-09 This book introduces readers to the many facets of body mind psychology such as its history and its basis in physiological processes the framework of its theories and models its clinical application in counseling psychotherapy and the treatment of psychosomatic disorders and its growing impact on our understanding of healing communication and conscious living. From Freud Reich and Lowen to holography and Tibetan Buddhist theories of madness from Perls Laslow and self actualization to acupuncture Rolfing and insight medication Marrone provides a challenging and sophisticated synthesis of highly diverse and powerful ideas in an exciting and readable style.

Thinking Creatively Kenneth G. Johnson, 1991 Models of the Self Shaun Gallagher, Jonathan Shear, 1999 A comprehensive reader on the problem of the self as seen from the perspectives of philosophy development psychology robotics cognitive neuroscience psychopathology semiotics phenomenology and contemplative studies all focused on a keynote paper.
