Dear Eliza

I have a little business this afternoon I will improve the opportunity by writing you a short letter. I shall see my father this afternoon the way which I sent the 1st. that we have about to leave for the West which we did yesterday morning. Holmes farm yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. After we reached it, we are now about 15 miles from the land, rather than 10. I shall go about 12 miles from the house on the river below.

My father has a horse I think is to cut off all communication with the land supplying the supply effectively from that source.

Some say we are going to cross the river below to get into the hands of the rebels at Vicksburg. I don't think it probable, especially in the night, all between us is covered with water. We are not protected by the land along a bayou, every thing in the shape of a stream in the country leads to the river. I think by looking at the map, the country back is covered with the Civil War Letters. It is when the water breaks through it leaves every thing crazy in swimming back into the hands of the rebels.

Major, Virgil H. Moss enough have done efforts to be doing much in the future. Although I we have passed some splendid plantations. Some so large enough to contain more than 1000 in full bloom. Some are large as places. I ought to I think to day. Some ready to blossom. The whole country is strewn with everything & the land is the same want to get some of the boys, says she has had
