Human Rights and Personal Self-defense in International Law Jan Arno Hessbruegge, 2017 While an abundance of literature covers the right of states to defend themselves against external aggression this is the first book dedicated to the right to personal self defense in international law Dr Hessbruegge sets out in careful detail the strict requirements that human rights impose on defensive force by law enforcement authorities especially police killings in self defense The book also discusses the exceptional application of the right to personal self defense in military led operations notably to contain violent civilians who do not directly participate in hostilities The author establishes that international law gives individuals the right to forcibly resist human rights violations that pose a serious risk of significant and irreparable harm At the same time he calls into question prevailing state practice which fails to recognize any collective right to organized armed resistance even when it constitutes the last resort to defend against genocide or other mass atrocities The Right to Life and Conflicting Interests Elizabeth Wicks, 2010 The right to life is a core human right which has not yet received the detailed legal analysis that it requires This book provides detailed critical analysis of the controversial human right to life and in particular assesses the weight of conflicting interests which could and or should serve to override the right This contemporary study of the right to life focuses on the legal as well as ethical issues raised by the value of life in modern day society It seeks to analyse the development meaning and value of the fundamental human right to life in the context of its conflicts with other competing interests The book begins with an overview of the right to life in which the concept of life itself is first analysed before both the right and its legal protection and enforcement are subjected to historical philosophical and comparative analysis The remainder of the book identifies and assesses the merits of various competing interests These comprise armed conflict prevention of crime rights of others autonomy quality of life and finite resources The right to life is unusual in having potential application to so many of today's ethically controversial questions This new work investigates specific topics of current political legal and ethical concern such as the right to life during international conflicts the role of lethal force in law enforcement the death penalty the right to life of a foetus in the context of legalised abortion and the significance of quality of life and autonomy issues in respect of euthanasia and assisted suicide Civil Liberties and Human Rights Helen Fenwick, 2009-06-02 More than merely describing developments in the field of civil liberties and human rights this comprehensive and challenging textbook provides students with detailed and thought provoking coverage and analysis of the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 in an era in which human rights are coming increasingly under pressure Extensively re written and updated since the last edition here Helen Fenwick considers the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 paying particular attention to Labour legislation especially in the fields of criminal justice and terrorism This book considers recent key domestic decisions in the post Human Rights Act era including Campbell A and Others v Secretary of State for the Home Dept Ghaidan v Mendoza R Gillan v Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis contains a new chapter on important developments in counter terrorism law covering the Anti Terrorism Crime and Security Act 2001 and the Terrorism Acts 2005 and 2006 analyzes key developments in the sphere of media freedom including the impact of the Communications Act 2003 Pro life Alliance and Campbell explores new developments in criminal justice including the Serious and Organized Crime Act 2005 addresses the changes in the field of anti discrimination law including the Sexual Orientation Regulations 2003 and Equality Act 2006 This textbook is an essential resource for students studying the development of human rights and civil liberties in the early years of the twenty first century A Practitioner's Guide to the European Convention on Human Rights Karen Reid, 2011 Nutshells present the essentials of law in clear and straightforward language explaining the basic principles Features such as diagrams and checklists make them easy to use while the inclusion of model questions and answer plans help students test their knowledge Nutshells are an essential revision aid and ideal for getting fully up to speed with a new subject *Shoot to Kill?
