Schmidt,Jens Elmegard Rasmussen,Werner Winther,2012-09-27 Tocharian and Indo European Studies is the central publication for the study of two closely related languages Tocharian A and Tocharian B Found in many Buddhist manuscripts from central Asia Tocharian dates back to the second half of the first millennium of the Common Era though it was not discovered until the twentieth century Focusing on both philological and linguistic aspects of this language Tocharian and Indo European Studies also looks at it in relationship to other Indo European languages The Tocharian Verbal System Melanie Malzahn,2010-04-27 This book presents a synchronic and diachronic study of all verbal classes and categories of the Tocharian branch of Indo European It lists all attested Tocharian verbal forms together with semantic and etymological information The material has been subject to careful philological evaluation and incorporates unedited or unpublished texts of the Berlin London and Paris collections In addition this study consistently takes into account the linguistic variation within the Tocharian B language and the relative chronology of texts Moreover Tocharian offers crucial evidence for the reconstruction of the PIE verbal system and is also of interest to the general linguist for the interaction of voice and valency The Syntax of Colophons Nalini Balbir,Giovanni Ciotti,2022-12-31 This volume is the first to attempt a comprehensive and cross disciplinary analysis of the manuscript cultures implementing the pothi manuscript form a loosely bound stack of oblong folios It is the indigenous form by which manuscripts have been crafted in South Asia and the cultural areas most influenced by it that is to say Central and South East Asia The volume focuses particularly on the colophons featured in such manuscripts presenting a series of essays enabling the reader to engage in a historical and comparative investigation of the links connecting the several manuscript cultures examined here Colophons as paratexts are situated at the intersection between texts and the artefacts that contain them and offer a unique vantage point to attain global appreciation of their manuscript cultures and literary traditions Colophons are also the product of scribal activities that have moved across regions and epochs alongside the pothi form providing a common thread binding together the many millions of pothis still today found in libraries in Asia and the world over These contributions provide a systematic approach to the internal structure of colophons i e their syntax and facilitate a vital comparative approach

Language and Meter, 2018-04-17 In Language and Meter Dieter Gunkel and Olav Hackstein unite fifteen linguistic studies on a variety of poetic traditions including the Homeric epics the hieratic hymns of the gveda the Gathas of the Avesta early Latin and the Sabellic compositions Germanic alliterative verse Insular Celtic court poetry and Tocharian metrical texts The studies treat a broad range of topics including the prehistory of the hexameter the nature of Homeric formulae the structure of Vedic verse rhythm in the Gathas and the relationship between Germanic and Celtic poetic traditions The volume contributes to our understanding of the relationship between language and poetic form and how they change over time

Comparative Indo-European Linguistics Robert Stephen Paul Beekes, 2011 This book gives a comprehensive introduction to Comparative Indo European Linguistics It starts with a presentation of the languages of the family from English and the other Germanic languages the Celtic and Slavic languages Latin Greek and Sanskrit through Armenian and Albanian and a discussion of the culture and origin of the Indo Europeans the speakers of the Indo European proto language The reader is introduced into the nature of language change and the methods of reconstruction of older language stages with many examples from the Indo European languages A full description is given of the sound changes which makes it possible to follow the origin of the different Indo European languages step by step This is followed by a discussion of the development of all the morphological categories of Proto Indo European The book presents the latest in scholarly insights like the laryngeal and glottalic theory the accentuation the ablaut patterns and these are systematically integrated into the treatment The text of this second edition has been corrected and updated by Michiel de Vaan Sixty six new exercises enable the student to practice the reconstruction of PIE phonology and morphology

Language in Time and Space Brigitte L.M. Bauer, Georges-Jean Pinault, 2011-03-01 The honoree of this Festschrift has for many years now marked modern trends in diachronic and synchronic linguistics by his own publications and by stimulating those of numerous others This collection of articles presents data oriented studies that integrate modern and traditional approaches in the field thus reflecting the honoree s contribution to contemporary linguistics The articles relate to comparative data from early Indo European languages and a variety of other languages and discuss the theoretical implications of phenomena such as linguistic universals reconstruction and language classification

Chindian Myth of Mulian Rescuing His Mother - On Indic Origins of the Yulanpen Sūtra Xiaohuan

Zhao, 2023-09-05 This book addresses the thorny issue regarding the authenticity of the Yulanpen Sūtra the scriptural source for the Yulanpen Festival or Hungry Ghost Festival in East Asia The sūtra which features Mulian Skṛ Maudgalyāna adventuring into the Preta realm to rescue his mother is catalogued in the Chinese Buddhist bibliography with the Indo-Scythian Dharmarakṣa Ch Zhu Fahu ca 266-308 given as the translator However in modern Chinese Japanese and Western scholarship the sūtra is more often than not regarded as a Chinese Buddhist apocryphal scripture and the Mulian myth as an apocryphal story created by Chinese Buddhists to foster the sinicisation and transformation of Indian Buddhism mainly on the grounds that there is no extant Yulanpen Sūtra in Indic sources and that the sūtra stresses Confucian filial piety and ancestor worship This book challenges these widely held beliefs by demonstrating that filial piety and ancestor worship are not peculiar to Confucian China but also inherent in Indic traditions and that the sūtra is a Chinese creative translation rather than an indigenous Chinese composition

The Oxford Handbook of Classical Chinese Literature Wiebke

Denecke, Wai-Yee Li, Xiaofei Tian, 2017-03-21 This volume introduces readers to classical Chinese literature from its beginnings ca 10th century BCE to the tenth century CE It asks basic questions such as How did reading and writing practices change over these two millennia How did concepts of literature evolve What were the factors that shaped literary production and textual transmission How do traditional bibliographic categories modern conceptions of genre and literary theories shape our understanding of classical Chinese literature What are the recurrent and evolving concerns of writings within the period under purview What are the dimensions of human experience they address Why is classical Chinese literature important for our understanding of pre-modern East Asia How does the transmission of this literature in Japan Korea and Vietnam define cultural boundaries And what in turn can we learn from the Chinese style literatures of Japan Korea and Vietnam about Chinese literature In addressing these questions the Oxford Handbook of Classical Chinese Literature departs from standard literary histories and sourcebooks. It does not simply categorize literary works according to periods, authors, or texts. Its goal is to offer a new conceptual framework for thinking about classical Chinese literature by defining a four-part structure. The first section discusses the basics of literacy and includes topics such as writing systems, manuscript culture, education, and loss and preservation in textual transmission. It is followed by a second section devoted to conceptions of genre, textual organization, and literary signification throughout Chinese history. A third section surveys literary tropes and themes. The final section takes us beyond China to the surrounding cultures that adopted Chinese culture and produced Chinese style writing adapted to their own historical circumstances. The volume is sustained by a dual foci: the recuperation of historical perspectives for the period it surveys and the attempt to draw connections between past and present, demonstrating how the viewpoints and information in this volume yield insights into modern China and East Asia.

Pakistan Army Dr Shah Alam, 2012-06-12. The book explains the genesis, expansion, development, and modernisation of the Pakistan Army. It undertakes only the Pakistan Army and does not include the Pakistan Navy and the Pakistan Air Force. The book comprehensively explains and analyses the Pakistan Army. Initially, Pakistan had faced several challenges to meet its defence needs. Pakistan pursued a strategy of external alignment to get arms and financial assistance. Pakistan obtained arms from various sources such as the US, Britain, China, Russia, former USSR, France, and others. It explains Pakistan's tie with arms suppliers and dynamics in their relationships. China transferred not only arms to Pakistan but also assisted in establishing defence industries. Pakistan's complex relationship with China and Beijing's arms transfer policy towards Islamabad added intricacies in the regional security. Pakistan's arms acquisitions policy helped not only in expanding and modernising the Pakistan Army but also contributed in expanding and strengthening the defence industrial base. With the 550,000 strength, modern and sophisticated arms, missiles, and nuclear-capable delivery missiles, the Pakistan Army has emerged as a force in the region.

The Woman Who Raised the Buddha Wendy Garling, 2021-03-23. Nautilus Book Award Winner. The first full biography of Mahaprajapati Gautami, the woman who raised the Buddha, examining her life through stories and canonical records. Mahaprajapati was the only mother the Buddha ever knew. His birth mother, Maya, died shortly after childbirth, and her sister, Mahaprajapati, took the infant to her breast, nurturing and raising him into adulthood. While there is a lot of ambiguity overall in the Buddha's biography, this detail remains consistent across all Buddhist traditions and literature. In this first full biography of Mahaprajapati, The Woman Who Raised the Buddha presents her life story with attention to her early years as sister, queen, matriarch, and mother, as well as her later years as a nun. Drawing from story fragments and canonical records, Wendy Garling reveals just how exceptional Mahaprajapati's role was as leader of the first generation of Buddhist women, helping the Buddha establish an equal community of lay and monastic women and men. Mother to the Buddha, mother to early Buddhist women, mother to the Buddhist faith, Mahaprajapati's journey is finally presented as one interwoven with the founding of Buddhism.

India China Relations D P Tripathi, B R Deepak, 2011-07-01. India and China had a glorious history of cultural and material exchanges which developed into friendship and subsequently into camaraderie during first half of the twentieth century when both India and China fought western imperialism. Owing to serious misconceptions and misjudgements the relations remained under the shadow of animosities and mutual distrust for over three decades until Rajiv Gandhi's China visit in 1988. After 62 years of diplomatic relations between the two there is a certain maturity in the relations as both are sharing new responsibilities in the stupendously changing global architecture. India China Relations Future Perspectives is a collection of eighteen essays by eminent Indian and Chinese scholars, diplomats and political personalities who look at the complex and multi-layered relationship from different perspectives covering various domains such as civilizational dialogue through history, the 1950s brotherhood, the border and various other issues pertaining to education, agriculture, security, defense and economic complementarities etc. The complex and multi-layered character of the relationship makes it difficult to define as an adversarial or competitive for there has been cooperation at various levels between the two such as climate change and many other multilateral forums like G20 and BRICS. Notwithstanding the cooperation there have been incremental yet cautious approaches towards cooperation in various fields from both the sides. As the global economic and political scenario is undergoing a tremendous change and its shift to Asia is visible, the contributors feel that India and China need to handle the hypersensitive issues with care and tap the existing complementarities appropriately or else the Asian century would not only be a distant dream but could also endanger the peace and stability of the region and the world.
