Gallagher,James C. Kaufman,2004-12-27 Females consistently score lower than males on standardized tests of mathematics yet no such differences exist in the classroom These differences are not trivial nor are they insignificant Test scores help determine entrance to college and graduate school and therefore by extension a person s job and future success If females receive lower test scores then they also receive fewer opportunities Why does this discrepancy exist This book presents a series of papers that address these issues by integrating the latest research findings and theories Authors such as Diane Halpern Jacquelynne Eccles Beth Casey Ronald Nuttal James Byrnes and Frank Pajares tackle these questions from a variety of perspectives Many different branches of psychology are represented including cognitive social personality self oriented and psychobiological The editors then present an integrative chapter that discusses the ideas presented and other areas that the field should explore     Women and Minorities in Science and Engineering ,1992     The Condition of Education ,1996     Psychological Testing George Domino,Marla L. Domino,2006-04-24 This book is an introductory text to the field of psychological testing primarily suitable for undergraduate students in psychology education business and related fields This book will also be of interest to graduate students who have not had a prior exposure to psychological testing and to professionals such as lawyers who need to consult a useful source Psychological Testing is clearly written well organized comprehensive and replete with illustrative materials In addition to the basic topics the text covers in detail topics that are often neglected by other texts such as cross cultural testing the issue of faking tests the impact of computers and the use of tests to assess positive behaviors such as creativity
