The Periodical ,1896 Adult Catalog: Authors Los Angeles County Public Library,1970 A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier,2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered

when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history Old Master Drawings Henry Scipio Reitlinger, 1922 The Early Teutonic, Italian, and French Masters Augustus Henry Keane, 1879 The New Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1987 Legacies of Modernism P. McBride, R. McCormick, M. Zagar, 2007-01-22 Between 1890 and 1950 modernist art and culture set out to challenge century old notions of the individual and the community culture and politics morality and freedom placing into question the very foundations of Western civilization The essays in this volume present a novel assessment of various manifestations of modernism in Germany and Scandinavia by posing the question of its critical and political impact beyond traditional polarities such as right vs left illiberalism vs Enlightenment apolitical vs engaged In drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives including literary studies art history film and visual studies urban studies musicology political theory and the history of science and technology the essays in this volume reexamine modernism's bold inquiry into areas such as the relation of art to technology and mass politics the limits of liberal democracy the reconceptualization of urban spaces and the realignment of traditional art forms following the rise of new media such as film The volume's contributors share a belief in the timeliness of modernism's critical impulse for a contemporary age confronted with ethical and political dilemmas that the modernists first articulated and to which they attempted to respond The Faustian Bargain Jonathan Petropoulos, 2000-03-30 Nazi art looting has been the subject of enormous international attention in recent years and the topic of two history bestsellers Hector Feliciano's The Lost Museum and Lynn Nicholas's The Rape of Europa But such books leave us wondering What made thoughtful educated artistic men and women decide to put their talents in the service of a brutal and inhuman regime This question is the starting point for The Faustian Bargain Jonathan Petropoulos's study of the key figures in the art world of Nazi Germany Petropoulos follows the careers of these prominent individuals who like Faust that German archetype chose to pursue artistic ends through collaboration with diabolical forces Readers meet Ernst Buchner the distinguished museum director and expert on Old Master paintings who repatriated the Van Eyck brother's Ghent altarpiece to Germany and Karl Haberstock an art dealer who filled German museums with works bought virtually at gunpoint from Jewish collectors Robert Scholz the leading art critic in the Third Reich became an officer in the chief art looting unit in France and Kajetan Muhlmann a leading art historian was probably the single most prolific art plunderer in the war and arguably in history Finally there is Arno Breker a gifted artist who exchanged his modernist style for monumental realism and became Hitler's favorite sculptor If it is striking that these educated men became part of the Nazi machine it is more remarkable that most of them rehabilitated their careers and lived comfortably after the war Petropoulos has discovered a network of these rehabilitated experts that flourished in the postwar period and he argues that this is a key to the tens of thousands of looted artworks that are still missing today Based on previously unreleased information and recently declassified documents The

Faustian Bargain is a gripping read about the art world during this period and a fascinating examination of the intense relationship between culture and politics in the Third Reich

New Perspectives on Brücke Expressionism Christian Weikop, 2017-07-05 New Perspectives on Brücke Expressionism Bridging History brings together highly renowned international art historians in a scholarly work that offers the first full length reassessment in English of the importance of the Brücke group to German modernism specifically and to international modernism more generally It challenges interrogates and updates existing orthodoxies in the field of Brücke studies by deploying new research combined with innovative interpretative approaches This is an exciting volume of essays with an interlinking tripartite structure that charts the significance of this pioneering German avant garde group in relation to various critical themes namely cultural and material identity collectivity and selfhood as well as defamation and rehabilitation The book is unique in the field in that it seeks to excavate specific historical research relating to the activities of the Brücke as a bohemian yet nonetheless enterprising artists community and considers the contributions of the key members in relation to the dynamics of that group rather than simply on an individual basis It thoroughly explores the historiography of the Brücke artists reception throughout the turbulent history of the twentieth century up until the present day
