Böhm, Bucerius Kunst Forum, 2008 Henri Matisse 1869 1954 is considered to be one of the preeminent artists of the early twentieth century By placing its focus on the artist's portraits the show as well as the exhibition catalogue will concentrate on a facet of his oeuvre which has never yet been the theme of an exhibition The concern here will be with the fascinating question as to how Matisse managed to create a likeness of his subject despite the fact that his consistent aim was the generally valid synthesis of the outward appearance of nature and not exactitude true character true portrait The

Henri Matisse, 1936 1000 Portraits of Genius Victoria Charles, Klaus Carl, 2014-11-24 According to the defined canons of art technique a portrait should be above all a faithful representation of its model However this gallery of 1000 portraits illustrates how the genre has been transformed throughout history and has proven itself to be much more complex than a simple imitation of reality Beyond exhibiting the skill of the artist the portrait must surpass the task of imitation as just and precise as it may be to translate both the intention of the artist as well as that of its patron without betraying either's wishes Therefore these silent witnesses carefully selected in these pages reveal more than faces of historic figures or anonymous subjects they reveal a psychology more than an identity illustrate an allegory serve as political and religious propaganda and embody the customs of their epochs With its impressive number of masterpieces biographies and commentaries on works this book presents and analyses different portraits consequently exposing to the reader and to any art lover a reflection of the evolution of society and above all the upheavals of a genre that over 300 centuries of painting has shaped the history of art Matisse Portraits John Klein, 2001 Portraits by Henri Matisse Henri Matisse, 1954
