Matriliny and Migration Tsuyoshi Kato, 2007-03-01 The Minangkabau who are from the mountainous region of western Sumatra have long been a tangle of paradoxes to the outsider Ardent believers in Islam a partially orientated religion the Minangkabau are one of the few remaining matrilineal groups in the world A well educated and enterprising people they continue to uphold a seemingly archaic kinship system They have always been highly mobile yet their strong sense of ethnic identity is rooted in their homeland Focusing on Minangkabau matriliney and its relation to migration Tsuyoshi Kato has written a comprehensive and authoritative study of the society history and traditions of this complex people Studies of the Minangkabau since the middle of the nineteenth century have often indicated that matriliney is giving way to a bilateral or even patrilineally inclined system Kato however asserts that the matrilineal system is surviving owing to Minangkabau mobility Exploring matriliney s evolution in response to changing times he studies the reasons for the tradition s resilience Kato adopts an historical approach claiming that a static analysis can capture only part or seemingly contradictory parts of a complex and changing culture He examines different types of migration that characterizes three distinct historical periods village segmentation a migration to establish new settlements which took place up until the mid nineteenth century circulatory migration to small towns and markets by individual males a distinguishing feature of the period from the late nineteenth century to the 1930s and the more permanent Chinese migration in which nuclear families leave the village for larger cities a pattern that continues today Kato bases his analysis on his extensive field work in Sumatra and on such varied evidence as recent census data and Minangkabau proverbs and legends Matriliny and Migration now brought back to life as a member of Equinox Publishing s Classic Indonesia series is a balanced account of change and continuity in a society It will appeal to readers interested in Southeast Asia and to sociologists and anthropologists studying the family urbanization mobility and the question of ethnic identity TSUYOSHI KATO received his PhD degree from Cornell University He taught at Sophia University Tokyo from 1977 1979 when he joined the faculty of Kyoto University
