Matthew His Mind And His Message:

Matthew Peter F. Ellis, 1974 Matthew Peter F. Ellis, 1974 The Restoration of Messianic Hope Brian Main, 2025-06-25 The New Testament portrays the apostles as placing great emphasis on Jesus resurrection in their preaching and teaching This emphasis is often lacking however in contemporary preaching and teaching If Jesus resurrection is to regain the centrality it held in the apostolic age its significance must be understood In this study Brian Main attempts to understand the significance of Jesus resurrection in the Gospel of Matthew Since Jesus resurrection is the proper conclusion of the story in Matthew it is necessary to understand what the story is that it concludes By analyzing the characters settings plot and point of view in Matthew 1 1 4 11 as well as those in the resurrection narrative 28 1 20 Main and his readers come to grasp the expectations that Matthew s audience develops as that story unfolds As readers understand those expectations they will gain a better appreciation of what was at stake when Jesus experienced opposition and therefore of what was restored and guaranteed by his resurrection The Synoptic Gospels, Revised and Expanded Keith F. finds several other uses for John in the development of the narrative not only while he is still alive but also after he is dead In examining John s role Yamasaki deploys an audience oriented critical methodology an approach that chronicles the narrator s efforts to influence first time readers experience of the narrative as they proceed sequentially through the text He traces John s characterization as forerunner from a glowing introduction in ch 3 albeit with a slight flaw in his ideological point of view on Jesus through a progressive exacerbation of this flaw to a rehabilitation of John in ch 11 As a result of this rehabilitation the narrator is able to continue to use John in his role as forerunner in the second half of the narrative even after John s death has removed him from the story line Acts: An Exegetical Commentary : Volume 3 Craig S.

The Theology of the Four Gospels

Mel Shoemaker, 2011-10 Biblical theology is the discovery and development of doctrine as found and emphasized by a specific book of the Bible Instead of beginning with a subject and then searching the scriptures broadly to assemble what may be relevant and illuminate one s understanding of that specific topic biblical theology starts with a particular author and focuses upon a specific scriptural unit The objective is to let the Bible speak for itself and discover what the original writer s wanted readers or those listening to the reading to understand Therefore New Testament biblical theology assists the student in understanding the distinctive doctrinal enrichment each book in the Christian canon brings to the collection of authoritative literature The Theology of the Four Gospels is designed to engage an individual or group in a fresh study of the teachings of Jesus and the distinctive perspectives of the Four Evangelists Matthew Mark Luke and John Even though everyone participating in the study is examining the same literature the conclusions may vary widely which may contribute to a very fruitful discussion Why should one anticipate a variety of interpretations Each person comes to the study of the Bible with prior opinions judgments and beliefs These presuppositions have been formed by our culture e g ethnicity political social economic and religious background critical knowledge educational background in history literature language natural abilities life experiences and age and character moral values belief in the supernatural human immortality accountability rational choices and spiritual maturity This is the goal to let the Four Gospels speak for themselves The theological outcome may be tentative and provisional however the reader or student becomes engaged in the process of building a sound personal theology and a steadfast living faith in Jesus Christ
