Teachers and Students, Reflections on Learning in Near and Middle Eastern Cultures, 2024-01-08 Teachers and Students Reflections on Learning in Near and Middle Eastern Cultures Collected Studies in Honour of Sebastian Günther contains essays on the developments, ideals and practices of teaching and learning in the Islamic world past and present. The authors address topics that reflect and thus honour Sebastian Günther's academic achievements in this particular area. The volume offers fresh insights into key issues related to education and human development including their shared characteristics as well as their influence on and interdependence with cultures of the Islamic world especially in the classical period of Islam 9th-15th century CE. The diverse spectrum of topics covered in the book as well as the wide range of innovative interdisciplinary approaches and research tools employed pay tribute to Sebastian Günther's research focus on Islamic education and ethics through which he has inspired many of his students, colleagues and friends.

Philosophy and Arts in the Islamic World Union européenne des arabisants et islamisants. Congress, 1998 The volume contains 26 contributions to literature, philosophy, linguistics and epigraphy in Islamic culture ranging from pre-Islamic poetry to contemporary prose from the Ikhwan as-Safa to the theology of Mawdudi from lexicography to epigraphy. These papers were read at the Eighteenth International Congress of the Union Européenne des Arabisants et Islamisants organized by the Catholic University of Leuven (KU Leuven) from 3 to 10 September 1996. A second volume of proceedings that appears along with this one, OLA 86, is more concerned with questions of actuality and political organisation including Christian minorities in the Arab world in their relation to the Muslim environment. As such, the two volumes put together will provide to the world of learning an overall picture of the current scientific investigations about Islamic culture and society.

Mixed Magic Anna Katrina Gutierrez, 2017-07-26 Mixed Magic: Global local dialogues in fairy tales for young readers considers retellings and adaptations from a global context, a framework focused on the reciprocal and cross-cultural exchange between global processes and local practices and their potential transformative effects. The study examines an eclectic range of retellings from the East and West from the 19th century until the present among them: orientalised picturebook versions of Beauty and the Beast and Bluebeard; Disney's animated classics; Asian versions of Hans Christian Andersen's The Little Mermaid; Gene Luen Yang's graphic novel American Born Chinese; and the fantasy films of Hayao Miyazaki. Drawing on theories of globalization, cognitive narratology, subjectivity and eastern thought, the book reveals new implications for intertextual analysis. This beautifully illustrated volume is the first sustained study of the effects of global local and East-West interchanges on representations of self and Others in children's literature and folklore studies.

Derimian,2021 The Negev desert occupies most of the territory of Israel It has a strategic importance for the existence of the center of the country and at the same time is considered as a natural wild periphery Since the 1920s there was a tendency to conquer and flourish the desert while since the 1980s the ecological values gained importance This manuscript reveals the relationship between man and his environment employing texts analysis according to the ecocriticism approach The study shows how as part of globalization processes the status of collectivism in Israeli society was declined whereas the ability of social groups to influence the spatial identity construction has increased

The Architects of Dignity Kevin D. Pham,2024 The Architects of Dignity Vietnamese Visions of Decolonization traces an intergenerational debate among six major political figures in Vietnam who had competing visions for how the Vietnamese should respond to French colonial domination 1858 1954 These thinkers engaged in cross cultural political thinking drawing on Indian Japanese Chinese French German thinkers and more conducting what political theorists would today call an engaged form of Comparative Political Theory Despite their differences they sought to channel feelings of national shame and inadequacy for constructive dignifying ends In contrast to theorists who tend to view shame as a destructive form of false consciousness these thinkers show how shame can be an emotional engine to generate power for anticolonialism and self determination And while dignity is typically understood in the West as something inherent in individuals as a justification for rights and as requiring recognition these Vietnamese thinkers saw dignity as a property of nations as rooted in the duties a nation s people embrace and as something to be asserted by the nation instead of being dependent on recognition by colonizers
