Origins Ancestry And Alliance Explorations In Austronesian Ethnography:

Origins, Ancestry and Alliance James J. Fox, Clifford Sather, 2006-10-01 This collection of papers the third in a series of volumes on the work of the Comparative Austronesian Project explores indigenous Austronesian ideas of origin ancestry and alliance and considers the comparative significance of these ideas in social practice The papers examine social practice in a diverse range of societies extending from insular Southeast Asia to the islands of the Pacific Origins, Ancestry and

Alliance Clifford Sather, 2006 Hawaiki, Ancestral Polynesia Patrick Vinton Kirch, Roger C. Green, 2001-03-15 The power of an anthropological approach to long term history lies in its unique ability to combine diverse evidence from archaeological artifacts to ethnographic texts and comparative word lists In this innovative book Kirch and Green explicitly develop the theoretical underpinnings as well as the particular methods for such a historical anthropology Drawing upon and integrating the approaches of archaeology comparative ethnography and historical linguistics they advance a phylogenetic model for cultural diversification and apply a triangulation method for historical reconstruction They illustrate their approach through meticulous application to the history of the Polynesian cultures and for the first time reconstruct in extensive detail the Ancestral Polynesian culture that flourished in the Polynesian homeland Hawaiki some 2 500 years ago Of great significance for Oceanic studies Kirch and Green s book will be essential reading for any anthropologist prehistorian linguist or cultural historian concerned with the theory and method of long term history Leaves of the Same Tree Leonard Y.

Andaya, 2008-01-22 Despite the existence of about a thousand ethnolinguistic groups in Southeast Asia very few historians of the region have engaged the complex issue of ethnicity Leaves of the Same Tree takes on this concept and illustrates how historians can use it both as an analytical tool and as a subject of analysis to add further depth to our understanding of Southeast Asian pasts Following a synthesis of some of the major issues in the complex world of ethnic theory the author identifies two general principles of particular value for this study the ideas that ethnic identity is an ongoing process and that the boundaries of a group undergo continual if at times imperceptible change based on perceived advantage The Straits of Melaka for much of the past two millennia offers an ideal testing ground to better understand the process of ethnic formation The straits forms the primary waterway linking the major civilizations to the east and west of Southeast Asia and the flow of international trade through it was the lifeblood of the region Privileging ethnicity as an analytical tool the author examines the ethnic groups along the straits to document the manner in which they responded to the vicissitudes of the international marketplace Earliest and most important were the Malayu Malays whose dominance in turn contributed to the ethnicization of other groups in the straits By deliberately politicizing differences within their own ethnic community the Malayu encouraged the emergence of new ethnic categories such as the Minangkabau the Acehnese and to a lesser extent the Batak The Orang Laut and the Orang Asli on the other hand retained their distinctive cultural markers because a separate yet complementary identity proved to be economically and socially advantageous for them Ethnic communities are shown as fluid and changing exhibiting a porosity and flexibility that suited the mandala communities of Southeast Asia Leaves of the Same Tree demonstrates how problematizing ethnicity can offer a more nuanced view of ethnic relations in a region that boasts one of the greatest diversities of language and culture in the world Creative and challenging this book uncovers many new questions that should revitalize and reorient the historiography of Southeast Asia      The Mobility Imperative Augustin F. C. Holl, 2022-09-23 This work explores the long term evolutionary implications of the Mobility Imperative the foundational nature of mobility for human beings and their societies The author puts forward a parsimonious but comprehensive model based on Extended Evolutionary Synthesis EES rationales The selected case studies range from the emergence and expansion of humans to cattle domestication and beyond      Land and Life in Timor-Leste Andrew McWilliam, Elizabeth G. Traube, 2011-12-01 Following the historic 1999 popular referendum East Timor emerged as the first independent sovereign nation of the 21st Century The years since these momentous events have seen an efflorescence of social research across the country drawn by shared interests in the aftermath of the resistance struggle the processes of social recovery and the historic opportunity to pursue field based ethnography following the hiatus of research during 24 years of Indonesian rule 1975-99 This volume brings together a collection of papers from a diverse field of international scholars exploring the multiple ways that East Timorese communities are making and remaking their connections to land and places of ancestral significance The work is explicitly comparative and highlights the different ways Timorese language communities negotiate access and transactions in land disputes and inheritance especially in areas subject to historical displacement and resettlement Consideration is extended to the role of ritual performance and social alliance for inscribing connection and entitlement Emerging through analysis is an appreciation of how relations to land articulated in origin discourses are implicated in the construction of national culture and differential contributions to the struggle for independence The volume is informed by a range of Austronesian cultural themes and highlights the continuing vitality of customary governance and landed attachment in Timor Leste      Talepakemalai Brian S Bauer, Javier Fonseca Santa Cruz, 2021-11-15 The Lapita Cultural Complex first uncovered in the mid 20th century as a widespread archaeological complex spanning both Melanesia and Western Polynesia has subsequently become recognized as of fundamental importance to Oceanic prehistory Notable for its highly distinctive elaborate dentate stamped pottery Lapita sites date to between 3500-2700 BP spanning the geographic range from the Bismarck Archipelago to Tonga and Samoa The Lapita culture has been interpreted as the archaeological manifestation of a diaspora of Austronesian speaking people specifically of Proto Oceanic language who rapidly expanded from Near Oceania the New Guinea Bismarcks region into Remote Oceania where no humans had previously ventured Lapita is thus a foundational culture throughout much of the southwestern Pacific ancestral to much of the later ethnographically attested cultural diversity of the region      Divided Loyalties Andrey Damaleda, 2018-09-27 Drawing on extensive ethnographic fieldwork this study explores the ideas of belonging and citizenship among former pro autonomy East Timorese who have elected to settle indefinitely in West Timor The study follows different East Timorese groups and examines various ways they construct and negotiate their socio political identities following the violent and destructive separation from their homeland The East Timorese might have had Indonesia as their destination when they left the eastern half of the island in the aftermath of the referendum but they have not relinquished their cultural identities as East Timorese The study highlights the significance of the notions of origin ancestry and alliance in our understanding of East Timorese place making and belonging to a particular locality Another feature of belonging that informs East Timorese identity is their narrative of sacrifice to maintain connections with their homeland and move on with their lives in Indonesia These sacrificial narratives elaborate an East Timorese spirit of struggle and resilience a feature further exemplified in the transformation of their political activities within the Indonesian political system

Contesting Malayness Timothy P. Barnard, 2004 Contesting Malayness assembles research on the theme of how Malays have identified themselves in time and place developed by a wide range of scholars While the authors describe some of the historical and cultural patterns that make up the Malay world taken as a whole their work demonstrates the impossibility of offering a definition or even a description of Melayu that is not rife with omissions and contradictions

The Separation of Heaven and Earth Harold W. Montzka, 2010-02-25 Unlike today's world religious views the belief in one Supreme Being was once a widespread phenomenon In The Separation of Heaven and Earth author Harold Montzka provides evidence of this contemporary view with new arguments By studying anthropology and the history of religions Montzka shows evidence for the belief system of the egalitarian hunters who spread across the globe In the Near East the area from the mountains in Turkey to the Persian Gulf people traded freely without evidence of borders or conflict Then social hierarchy became evident in a small area Shortly after this a number of hierarchical sites appeared suddenly and society saw massive buildings city walls ethnic divisions trade to benefit the elites war and instability Developed over forty years The Separation of Heaven and Earth points out that a single cosmological theme was present in ancient literature as well as recent preliterate hierarchies The cosmology justifying the elites in hierarchical societies provided for the society by control of nature Those few groups who have remained egalitarian do not use this cosmology They are not dependent on the rituals of a social hierarchy they depend on the providence of their creator

The Literature of Brunei Ooi Keat Gin, Kathrina Mohd Daud, 2025-02-18 This book presents an overview of the literature of Brunei surveying literary traditions innovations and new approaches as well as historical and contemporary issues and challenges This book highlights the unique characteristics of Bruneian literature including its approach to bilingualism Brunei Malay and English its historical intertwining with monarchs and myths and how its emerging developments can be charted in the twenty first century Gathering together the work of both established and emerging scholars of Bruneian literature and history this book brings detailed scholarship to an English speaking audience some of which was originally written in the Malay language and highlights a Bruneian perspective In drawing out the peculiar traditions innovations and challenges of Bruneian literature this collection of essays is not only original in concept but also a pioneering endeavour The Literature of Brunei will be of interest to researchers in World and Asian Literature in particular Southeast Asian literature      A Papuan Plutocracy John Liep, 2009-08-31 This book of classic scope is a monograph on a Melanesian society an exploration of ranked exchange and a bold critique of anthropological exchange theory John Liep unravels the complex society and exchange system on Rossel Island east of New Guinea At centre stage is the famous Rossel Island money a hierarchy of more than twenty classes of sea shells displayed in payment rituals such as bridewealth and pig feasts High ranking shells are monopolized by big men who control exchange and dominate social life on the island Theories of reciprocity and gift exchange with their built in utopian assumption of social equality Liep finds cannot account for a system of ranked exchange Instead exchange is unequal and money an instrument of distinction and power Liep argues that ranked exchange has remained undiscovered as a general phenomenon Still found in some Pacific societies it was formerly widespread in Oceania and beyond The book will be essential to students of indigenous currencies and exchange theory and of interest to economic anthropologists and Oceanists      Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, Noor Hasharina Hassan, 2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council's international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region      Endangered Languages of Austronesia Margaret Florey, 2010 This book explores the challenges to linguistic vitality confronting many minority languages in the highly diverse and geographically far flung Austronesian language family The contributions bring together Indigenous language activists and academic researchers with a long standing commitment to language documentation      The Land of Gold Judith M. Bovensiepen, 2018-08-06 In the village of Funar located in the central highlands of Timor Leste the disturbing events of the twenty four year long Indonesian occupation are rarely articulated in narratives of suffering Instead the highlanders emphasize the significance of their return to the sacred land of the ancestors a place where gold is abundant and life is thought to originate On one hand this collective amnesia is due to villagers exclusion from contemporary nation building processes which bestow recognition only on those who actively participated in the resistance struggle against Indonesia On the other hand the cultural revival and the privileging of the ancestral landscape and traditions over narratives of suffering derive from a particular understanding of how human subjects are constituted Before life and after death humans and the land are composed of the same substance only during life are they separated To recover from the forced dislocation the highlanders experienced under the Indonesian occupation they thus seek to reestablish a mythical primordial unity with the land by reinvigorating ancestral practices Never leaving out of sight the intense political and emotional dilemmas imposed by the past on people s daily lives The Land of Gold seeks to go beyond prevailing theories of postconflict reconstruction that prioritize human relationships Instead it explores the significance of people s affective and ritual engagement with the environment and with their ancestors as survivors come to terms with the disruptive events of the past      Living Kinship in the Pacific Christina Toren, Simonne Pauwels, 2015-04-01 Unaisi Nabobo Baba observed that for the various peoples of the Pacific kinship is generally understood as knowledge that counts It is with this observation that this volume begins and it continues with a straightforward objective to provide case studies of Pacific kinship In doing so contributors share an understanding of kinship as a lived and living dimension of contemporary human lives in an area where deep historical links provide for close and useful comparison The ethnographic focus is on transformation and continuity over time in Fiji Tonga and Samoa with the addition of three instructive cases from Tokelau Papua New Guinea and Taiwan The book ends with an account of how kinship is constituted in day to day ritual and ritualized behavior      Intertidal History in Island Southeast Asia Jennifer L. Gaynor, 2016-06-15 Intertidal History in Island Southeast Asia shows the vital part maritime Southeast Asians played in struggles against domination of the seventeenth century spice trade by local and European rivals Looking beyond the narrative of competing mercantile empires it draws on European and Southeast Asian sources to illustrate Sama sea people s alliances and intermarriage with the sultanate of Makassar and the Bugis realm of Bon Contrasting with later portrayals of the Sama as stateless pirates and sea gypsies this history of shifting political and interethnic ties among the people of Sulawesi s littorals and its land based realms along with their shared interests on distant coasts exemplifies how regional maritime dynamics interacted with social and political worlds above the high water mark      Theory in the Pacific, the Pacific in Theory Tim Thomas, 2020-07-27 Theory in the Pacific the Pacific in Theory explores the role of theory in Pacific archaeology and its interplay with archaeological theory worldwide The contributors assess how the practice of archaeology in Pacific contexts has led to particular types of theoretical enquiry and interest and more broadly how the Pacific is conceptualised in the archaeological imagination Long seen as a laboratory environment for the testing and refinement of social theory the Pacific islands occupy a central place in global theoretical discourse This volume highlights this role through an exploration of how Pacific models and exemplars have shaped and continue to shape approaches to the archaeological past The authors evaluate key theoretical perspectives and explore current and future directions in Pacific archaeology In doing so attention is paid to the influence of Pacific people and environments in motivating and shaping theory building Theory in the Pacific the Pacific in Theory makes a significant contribution to our understanding of how theory develops attuned to the affordances and needs of specific contexts and how those contexts promote reformulation and development of theory elsewhere It will be fascinating to scholars and archaeologists interested in the Pacific region as well as students of wider archaeological theory Iban Ritual Textiles Traude Gavin,2022-07-04 On the Road of the Winds Patrick Vinton Kirch,2002-03-15 Providing a synthesis of archaeological and historical anthropological knowledge of the indigenous cultures of the Pacific islands this text focuses on human ecology and island adaptations
