Cine-Ethiopia Michael W. Thomas, Alessandro Jedlowski, Aboneh Ashagrie, 2018-08-01 Over the past decade Ethiopian films have come to dominate the screening schedules of the many cinemas in Ethiopia's capital city of Addis Ababa as well as other urban centers Despite undergoing an unprecedented surge in production and popularity in Ethiopia and in the diaspora this phenomenon has been broadly overlooked by African film and media scholars and Ethiopianists alike This collection of essays and interviews on cinema in Ethiopia represents the first work of its kind and establishes a broad foundation for furthering research on this topic Taking an interdisciplinary approach to the topic and bringing together contributions from both Ethiopian and international scholars the collection offers new and alternative narratives for the development of screen media in Africa The book's relevance reaches far beyond its specific locale of Ethiopia as contributions focus on a broad range of topics such as commercial and genre films diaspora filmmaking and the role of women in the film industry while simultaneously discussing multiple forms of screen media from satellite TV to video films Bringing both historical and contemporary moments of cinema in Ethiopia into the critical frame offers alternative considerations for the already radically changing critical paradigm surrounding the understandings of African cinema Possible Spaces of Somali Belonging Vivian Gerrand, 2016-06-13 What happens when Somalis migrate to countries with which they have few cultural ties What helps Somalis to feel at home in their new Western countries of residence Possible Spaces of Somali Belonging explores representations of Somali resettlement to understand the mechanics of contemporary belonging and the challenges faced by Western societies as they attempt to integrate Somali migrants How do particular representations contribute to or detract from Somali belonging In the contexts of Australia and Italy taken as case studies Somalis are marginalised in different ways With a multi disciplinary approach this book examines different forms of Somali representation in Australia and Italy that engender a sense of belonging and expands exclusive definitions of nationhood Islamic Studies Series Volume 21 Law, Culture and Visual Studies Anne Wagner, Richard K. Sherwin, 2013-07-11 The proposed volumes are aimed at a multidisciplinary audience and seek to fill the gap between law semiotics and visuality providing a comprehensive theoretical and analytical overview of legal visual semiotics They seek to promote an interdisciplinary debate from law semiotics and visuality bringing together the cumulative research traditions of these related areas as a prelude to identifying fertile avenues for research going forward Advance Praise for Law Culture and Visual Studies This diverse and exhilarating collection of essays explores the many facets both historical and contemporary of visual culture in the law It opens a window onto the substantive jurisdictional disciplinary and methodological diversity of current research It is a cornucopia of materials that will enliven legal studies for those new to the field as well as for established scholars It is a must read that will leave you wondering about the validity of the long held obsession that reduces the law and legal studies to little more than a preoccupation with the word Leslie J Moran Professor of Law Birkbeck College University of London Law Culture Visual Studies is a treasure trove of insights on the entwined roles of legality and visuality From multiple interdisciplinary perspectives by scholars from around the world these pieces reflect the fullness and complexities of our visual encounters with law and culture From pictures to places to postage stamps from forensics to film to folklore this anthology is an exciting journey through the fertile field of law and visual culture as well as a testament that the field has come of age Naomi Mezey Professor of Law Georgetown University Law Center Washington D C USA This highly interdisciplinary reference work brings together diverse fields including cultural studies communication theory rhetoric law and film studies legal and social history visual and legal theory in order to document the various historical cultural representational and theoretical links that bind together law and the visual This book offers a breath taking range of resources from both well established and newer scholars who together cover the field of law's representation in interrogation of and dialogue with forms of visual rhetoric practice and discourse Taken together this scholarship presents state of the art research into an important and developing dimension of contemporary legal and cultural inquiry Above all Law Culture and Visual Studies lays the groundwork for rethinking the nature of law in our densely visual culture How are legal meanings produced encoded distributed and decoded What critical and hermeneutic skills new or old familiar or unfamiliar will be needed Topical diverse and enlivening Law Culture and Visual Studies is a vital research tool and an urgent invitation to further critical thinking in the areas so well laid out in this collection Desmond Manderson Future Fellow ANU College of Law Research School of Humanities the Arts Australian National University Australia

Networks of Belonging Estelle Boyle, 2025-08-28 Networks of Belonging examines how digitally networked communication technologies create spaces of belonging for people of refugee and migrant backgrounds in resettlement contexts focusing on Australia The internet has become a primary facilitator for social connection transforming how displaced and mobile people maintain relationships across distance For communities facing significant barriers to connection such as globally dispersed social networks and often the inability to return to their place of origin digital technologies can offer vital pathways to belonging and social inclusion in new environments The book begins by considering the history of refugee and migrant inclusion in Australia and the historical practice of migrant letter writing as a critical analogue reference point to today's digital ubiquity By investigating how communication technologies enable access to social connection particularly among those navigating resettlement the research offers lived perspectives on the evolving nature of digital sociality and its importance for refugee and migrant communities Three key dyadic relationships of interstitiality frame the analysis Inclusion/exclusion digital/physical and local/global This approach highlights the nuances of situated lives and personal narratives gathered through qualitative interviews and photo elicitation with people of refugee and migrant backgrounds in Melbourne Australia while advocating for a relational understanding of social inclusion/exclusion and belonging digital and physical sociality and a local and global sense of place This book will be of value to students and researchers across multiple fields including media and communications refugee and migration studies social inclusion multiculturalism and belonging and digital communication

The African Diaspora in Canada Wisdom Tettey, Korbala P. Pupilampu, 2005 This book addresses the conceptual difficulties and political contestations surrounding the applicability of the term African Canadian In the midst of this contested terrain the volume focuses on first generation Black Continental Africans who have immigrated to Canada in the last four decades and have traceable genealogical links to the continent

Sing and Sing On Kay Kaufman Shelemay, 2022-01-11 A sweeping history of Ethiopian musicians during and following the 1974 Ethiopian revolution Sing and Sing On is the first study of the forced migration of musicians out of the Horn of Africa dating from the 1974 Ethiopian revolution a political event that overthrew one of the world's oldest monarchies and installed a brutal military regime Musicians were among the first to depart the region their lives shattered by revolutionary violence curfews and civil war Reconstructing the memories of forced migration Sing and Sing On traces the challenges musicians faced amidst revolutionary violence and the critical role they played in building communities abroad Drawing on the recollections of dozens of musicians Sing and Sing On details personal cultural and economic hardships experienced by musicians who have resettled in new locales abroad Kay Kaufman Shelemay highlights their many artistic and social initiatives and the ways they have offered inspiration and leadership within and beyond a rapidly growing Ethiopian American diaspora While musicians held this role as sentinels in Ethiopian culture long before the revolution began it has taken on new meanings and contours in the Ethiopian diaspora The book details the ongoing creativity of these musicians while exploring the attraction of return to their Ethiopian homeland over the course of decades abroad Ultimately Shelemay shows that musicians are uniquely positioned to serve this sentinel role as both guardians and challengers of cultural heritage

Migration, Diaspora and Information Technology in Global Societies Leopoldina Fortunati,Raul Perterra,Jane Vincent,2013-03-01 Migrants and diaspora communities are shaped by their use of information and communication technologies This book explores the multifaceted role played by new media in the re location of these groups of people assisting them in their efforts to defeat nostalgia construct new communities and keep connected with their communities of origin Furthermore the book analyses the different ways in which migrants contribute along with natives in co constructing contemporary societies a process in which the cultures of both groups are considered Drawing on contributions from a range of disciplines including sociology anthropology psychology and linguistics it offers a more profound understanding of one of the most significant phenomena of contemporary international societies the migration of nearly a billion people worldwide and the relationship between technology and society

Not Just Child's Play Felicia R. McMahon,2009-10-20 Winner of the 2008 Chicago Folklore Prize Felicia R McMahon breaks new ground in the presentation and analysis of emerging traditions of the Lost Boys a group of parentless youths who fled Sudan under tragic circumstances in the 1990s With compelling insight McMahon analyzes the oral traditions of the DiDinga Lost Boys about whom very little is known Her vibrant ethnography provides intriguing details about the performances and conversations of the young DiDinga in Syracuse New York It also offers important insights to scholars and others who work with refugee groups The author argues that the playful traditions she describes constitute a strategy by which these young men proudly position themselves as preservers of DiDinga culture and as harbingers of social change rather than as victims of war Drawing ideas from folklore linguistics drama and play theory the author documents the danced songs of this unique group Her inclusion of original song lyrics translated by the singers and descriptions of conversations convey the voices of the young men Well researched and carefully developed this book makes an original contribution to our understanding of refugee populations and tells a compelling story at the same time

Improvised Adolescence Sandra Grady,2015-05-26 Explores how teens from southern Somalia who spent much of their childhood in East African refugee camps are adapting to resettlement in the American Midwest negotiating two sets of cultural expectations those of the resettled Somali Bantu community and those of the surrounding US culture

Transnational Migration-Development Nexus Mulugeta Bezabih Mekonnen ,2018 With a tenfold increase in remittance flows over the last 25 years the diaspora s role in the development efforts of the global South has gained broader interest Besides financial remittances flows of skills and social remittances have gained attention particularly the relevance of diaspora associations as drivers of development This book explores the engagement of Ethiopian diaspora associations in Germany for their home country s development It investigates the policies of the Ethiopian and Germany governments and the opportunities the policies generate for diaspora engagement efforts

Social Construction and Social Work Practice Stanley L. Witkin,2011-11-22 Social construction addresses the cultural factors and social dynamics that give rise to and maintain values and beliefs Drawing on postmodern philosophies and critical social and literary theories social construction has become an important and influential framework for practice and research within social work and related fields Embracing inclusivity and multiplicity social construction provides a framework for knowledge and practice that is particularly congruent with social work values and aims In this accessible collection Stanley L Witkin showcases the innovative ways in which social construction may be understood and expressed in practice He calls on experienced practitioner scholars to share their personal accounts of interpreting and applying social constructionist ideas in different settings such as child welfare agencies schools and the courts and with diverse clientele such as resistant adolescents disadvantaged families indigenous populations teachers children in protective custody refugee youth and adult perpetrators of sexual crimes against children Eschewing the prescriptive stance of most theoretical frameworks social construction can seem challenging for students and practitioners This book responds with rich illustrative descriptions of how social constructionist thinking has inspired practice approaches illuminating the diversity and creative potential of practices that draw on social constructionist ideas Writing in a direct accessible style contributors translate complex concepts into the language of daily encounter and care and through a committed transnational focus they demonstrate the global reach and utility of their work Chapters are provocative and thoughtful reveal great suffering and courage share inspiring stories of strength and renewal and acknowledge the challenges of an approach that complicates evidence based evaluations and requirements

The Journal of Oromo Studies ,2005 Melbourne Historical Journal ,2003 Permissive Residents Diana Glazebrook,2008-09-01 This book offers another frame through which to view the event of the outrigger landing of 43 West Papuans in Australia in 2006 West Papuans have crossed boundaries to seek asylum since 1962 usually eastward into Papua New Guinea PNG and occasionally southward to Australia Between 1984 86 around 11 000 people crossed into PNG seeking asylum After the Government of PNG acceded to the United Nations Convention and Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees West Papuans were relocated from informal camps on the international border to a single inland location called East Awin This volume provides an ethnography of that settlement based on the author s fieldwork

African Sociological Review ,2005      Anthropologists in the Field Lynne Hume, Jane Mulcock, 2004 An excellent introduction to real world ethnography this book covers short and long term participant observation and ethnographic interviewing and uses diverse cultures as cases      Contested Terrain Ezekiel Gebissa, 2009 Since 1991 there has been renewed debate in Ethiopia concerning the implication of the country's past for the present polity. The long standing debate was given an added impetus by Eritrea's independence from Ethiopia and the threat of disintegration posed by the continued struggle for self determination by other ethnonational groups. Ethiopianist scholars always committed to the indivisibility and unassailability of the Ethiopian state blamed the country's political troubles on nationalist scholars accusing them of fabricating history and instigating people into taking up arms against the state. Vowing to protect Ethiopia from further disintegration the Ethiopianist elite called on patriotic scholars to challenge, expose and discredit what they described as the politically motivated propaganda of irresponsible nationalists. In Contested Terrain a team of historians and sociologists confront the scholarship of power that dismisses politically engaged scholarship in the name of academic objectivity. Based on the experience of the Oromo in Ethiopia they tackle the methodological and political challenges of nationalist scholarship within the highly contested terrain of Ethiopian studies and argue that objectivity in scholarship should not mean neutrality in the face of injustice and exploitation. In eight chapters they show that scholars can recover the experiences of the disadvantaged and underrepresented and give voice to the powerless and downtrodden. They demonstrate that there is no contradiction between challenging prevailing dogmas and inherited orthodoxies in academia on the one hand and giving support to struggles aimed at ending exploitative practices and dismantling institutions of oppression on the other. Academic objectivity must not be a tool for questioning the scholarly value of nationalist scholarship solely on the basis of the scholar's commitment to certain political causes. As an intellectual enterprise politically engaged scholarship should be judged on its own merits not on the basis of its implications for the well being of political entities. Amazon.com
