Orphan Train Journey:

Emily's Story Clark Kidder, 2007-01-01      Orphan Train Journey Janine Rancourt, 2004 An orphan boy's journey by train from New York City to Kansas where he is adopted to help in the fields      Houghton Mifflin Leveled Readers: Orphan train journey, 2004 An orphan boy's journey by train from New York City to Kansas where he is adopted to help in the fields

Save the Children Virginia Loh-Hagan, 2020-01-01 The events surrounding the Orphan Trains did not look the same to everyone involved Step back in time and into the shoes of an orphan child heading to the Midwest a Midwestern family awaiting a child and a New York City child welfare worker as readers act out the scenes that took place in the midst of this historic event Written with simplified considerate text to help struggling readers books in this series are made to build confidence as readers engage and read aloud This book includes a table of contents glossary index author biography sidebars and timelines

Orphan Train Rider Andrea Warren, 1996 Discusses the placement of over 200 000 orphaned or abandoned children in homes throughout the Midwest from 1854 to 1929 by recounting the story of one boy and his brothers

Orphan Trains and Their Precious Cargo Herman Clarke, 2012-02-10 By the mid 1800s the street corners of New York City were home to several thousand homeless abandoned and orphaned children These poor unfortunates were often the sons and daughters of newly arrived immigrants separated from their parents or relatives in the confusion and chaos of Ellis Island and forced by circumstance to fend for themselves Although some found refuge in orphanages and sanitariums these facilities were ill suited for the care of these children and lacked the resources to provide for more than a handful at a time Those that remained on the street often turned to theft and burglary or even prostitution as a means of survival compounding the city's already rampant crime problem Clearly a solution was needed for the good of both New York City and its orphan population Relief came with the establishment of the Children's Aid Society in 1853 by one Charles Loring Brace Brace was a theologian and a reformer whose answer to New York's orphan problem was a practice known simply as placing out The society would gather likely orphans and send them west by train in groups of anywhere from six to one hundred individuals stopping at predetermined destinations where it was known foster homes were available The American West was at this time in critical need of laborers in both agriculture and industry and many families were eager to provide foster homes to a child who was willing to work Children would be periodically checked on by an agent of the society and were required to write the society at least twice a year describing their experiences As with any foster care system placing out could be a hit or miss affair many children would bounce from home to home and some were returned to New York as undesirables There were many success stories however with orphans finding supportive homes and loving foster families Some were actually adopted into the families with which they were placed All faced the challenge of a new life in unfamiliar surroundings without the comfort of friends relatives and siblings left behind The orphan trains of the Children's Aid Society ran until 1929 and this text presents the story of one of its agents the Rev Mr Herman Clarke Rev Clarke entered the employ of the Society in 1900 and was a tireless devotee to the children entrusted to his care His ministry was in Dodge Center Minnesota and he was later placed in charge of Children's Homes in Cincinnati Ohio and Battle Creek Michigan Over the years he would travel thousands of miles on the rails with his orphan charges and received as many as two thousand letters a year from them In the twilight of life the reverend began to compile scrapbooks for his grandchildren detailing both the family's genealogy and his years spent working with the society Six out of these seven scrapbooks have been discovered by the author and they form the basis of this history Numerous photographs of orphans and their foster families as well as facsimiles of advertisements published by the society and a special section of orphan train poetry enrich this text Orphan Trains Rebecca Ann Langston-George, 2016-10-01 Discover the true story of seven orphans who were settled with families in the Midwest by the Children's Aid Society We Rode the Orphan Trains Andrea Warren, 2001 Listen to child orphans as they share their memories of transition and adventure disappointment and loneliness but ultimately of the joy of belonging to their own new families They were throwaway kids living in the streets or in orphanages and foster homes Then Charles Loring Brace a young minister working with the poor in New York City started the Children's Aid Society and devised a plan to give homeless children a chance to find families to call their own Thus began an extraordinary migration of American children Between 1854 and 1929 an estimated 200 000 children mostly from New York and other cities of the eastern United States ventured forth to other states on a journey of hope Andrea Warren has shared the stories of some of these orphan train riders here including those of Betty who found a fairy tale life in a grand hotel Nettie Evans and her twin Nellie who were rescued from their first abusive placement and taken in by a new kindhearted family who gave them the love they had hoped for brothers Howard and Fred who remained close even though they were adopted into different families and Edith who longed to know the secrets of her past This is powerful nonfiction for classroom and personal reading and for discussion School Library Journal starred review From Cradle to Grave Louisiana Orphan Train Society, 2014-09-01 On the mean streets of New York City in the early 1900s children were either left on the streets to fend for themselves or taken to an orphanage They were torn from families who were destitute sick or dying Leaving the streets of New York the children came to the countryside of Louisiana by trains escorted by their nuns nurses and agents The orphan train rider's stories may sound like fiction but in reality it is the story of their lives From Cradle to Grave is only a small collection of stories from the descendants who put together the bits and pieces they received from relatives Treatment of the orphans to some was an injustice but in actuality it was a blessing They were given shelter food and medical care With the passage of time they were placed on trains and sent to other states They rode the rails for a better life Though many were faced with perils and hardships many were not They were survivors and overcame those perils and hardships For many orphans cotton corn and sweet potato fields were not only their workplace but their playgrounds as well especially in the southern part of Louisiana where farming was the way of life Many of the orphans who were brought to these farms learned farming first hand and became successful later in life even though they may not have had a formal education For too many years they were ignored and their stories were hushed They were ashamed of being orphans mostly because they were often reminded of who they were and where they came from However they bounced back they were accepted and were raised in the cultures of their communities Though most have left their earthly homes it s time to reflect on what they were able to accomplish The majority were good providers and overprotective of their children They were always looking for better things for their children than they had been provided with Their stories are proof that hard work and a positive attitude make anything possible

Journeys of Hope Mary Ellen Johnson,1999      A Journey West Annette M. Bielema,2003 History of the Orphan Trains that began in 1864 and the story of three brothers Wilhelm Frederich and Edward Grauhering Charles Loring Brace began the Orphan Train Movement in the United States      Journey's End Barbara Heise Grooman,2001-02-28 Journey s End is the story of a remarkable man George Wells of Nebraska an Orphan Train Rider Readers first met him as the hero of Train To Red Cloud A Small Boy s Journey In these pages meet him as the author did through personal letters anecdotes from friends and neighbors who knew him and the author s sentimental journey to Red Cloud to trace his steps The train that brought him to Red Cloud was not the end but the beginning of a joyous journey through life      A History of the New York Juvenile Asylum and Its Orphan Trains Clark Kidder,2021-02 History of the New York Juvenile Asylum and the orphan trains that sent orphans west mostly to Illinois from 1854 to 1921 By the time this practiced ended over 6 600 children were sent to Illinois      Orphan Train Riders Amanda Zieba,2016-12-29 These stories are wonderful believable and historically consistent with many of the true stories They brought a tear goosebumps and the chills C Warren Moses retired Children s Aid Society CEO and Archivist Charles William and Joanna all find themselves alone and in need of help Thanks to the Children s Aid Society and the orphan trains they are given a second chance at a happy ending In each of the three historical fiction stories in this collection readers meet an orphan train rider and follow them on their journey Can Charles find a new home before Christmas Will Joanna ever find a place where she belongs Can Irish William find a way to fit in America

The Orphan Trains Alice K. Flanagan,2006 Learn about the homeless city children who were taken out West to have new homes in the early 1900s      From Cradle to Grave ,2016 What happened to the children from the Orphan Trains Through the years many have wondered and questioned Today that question can be answered strolling through many lanes nestled in Le Vieux Village of Opelousas stands a beautiful renovated old warehouse depot The LA Orphan Train Museum Within its walls graces the many artifacts and memorabilia giving the answer to the question What happened to the children from the Orphan Trains We are proud of what we have accomplished and collected and continue to do so with hopes that all of the children of the Orphan Trains will be honored and remembered We offer you a challenge do you descend from an orphan train rider If you do and you have not joined us in this journey would you consider doing so Our journey is to have all come aboard there are still many avenues to hunt and look for the answers are there it s left up to you and to all of us to
