Jones,1998 Jones offers a lucid and thorough analysis of the economic social military and environmental problems that contributed to the failure of the Romans drawing on literary sources and on recent archaeological evidence Britannia Sheppard Sunderland Frere,1967 Life in Roman Britain Anita Ganeri,2014-04-10 This title introduces readers to life in Roman Britain from a child s viewpoint The book introduces general features of the time period but focuses on what life was like for children including where they lived what they learned at school and where they worked The text is supported by primary source material paintings artefacts quotes etc that brings the past to life A final section explains how we use historical evidence to reconstruct the past The Real Lives of Roman Britain Guy de la Bédoyère,2015-07-28 The Britain of the Roman Occupation is in a way an age that is dark to us While the main events from 55 BC to AD 410 are little disputed and the archaeological remains of villas forts walls and cities explain a great deal we lack a clear sense of individual lives This book is the first to infuse the story of Britannia with a beating heart the first to describe in detail who its inhabitants were and their place in our history A lifelong specialist in Romano British history Guy de la Bédoyère is the first to recover the period exclusively as a human experience He focuses not on military campaigns and imperial politics but on individual personal stories Roman Britain is revealed as a place where the ambitious scramble for power and prestige the devout seek solace and security through religion men and women eke out existences in a provincial frontier land De la B doy re introduces Fortunata the slave girl Emeritus the frustrated centurion the grieving father Quintus Corellius Fortis and the brilliant metal worker Boduogenus among numerous others Through a wide array of records and artifacts the author introduces the colorful cast of immigrants who arrived during the Roman era while offering an unusual glimpse of indigenous Britons until now nearly invisible in histories of Roman Britain Britain, Rome's Most Northerly Province: a History of Roman Britain, A.D. 43-A.D. 450 Gladys May Durant,1969 Spectacle and Display: A Modern History of Britain's Roman Mosaic Pavements Michael Dawson,2021-05-20 Antiquarian interest in the Roman period mosaics of Britain began in the 16th century This book is the first to explore responses and attitudes to mosaics not just at the point of discovery but during their subsequent history It is a field which has received scant attention and provides a compelling insight into the agency of these remains The Roman Conquest of Britannia Charles River Charles River Editors,2018-02-06 Includes pictures Includes ancient accounts of Britain Includes online resources and a bibliography for further reading The Romans thinking that it might be some help to the allies Britons whom they were forced to abandon constructed a strong stone wall from sea to sea in a straight line between the towns that had been there built for fear of the enemy where Severus also had formerly built a rampart Bede s description of Hadrian s Wall in the Middle Ages The famous conqueror from the European continent came ashore with thousands of men ready to set up a new kingdom in England The Britons had resisted the amphibious invasion from the moment his forces landed but he was able to push forward In a large winter battle the Britons large army attacked the invaders but was eventually routed and the conqueror was able to set up a new kingdom Over 1 100 years before William the Conqueror became the King of England after the Battle of Hastings Julius Caesar came saw and conquered part of Britannia setting up a Roman province with a puppet king in 54 BCE In the new province the Romans eventually constructed a military outpost overlooking a bridge across the River Thames The new outpost was named Londinium and it covered just over two dozen acres For most of the past 1 000 years London has been the most dominant city in the world ruling over so much land that it was said the Sun never set on the British Empire With the possible exception of Rome no city has ever been more important or influential than London in human history Thus it was only fitting that it was the Romans who established London as a prominent city Londinium was initially little more than a small military outpost near the northern boundary of the Roman province of Britannia but its access to the River Thames and the North Sea made it a valuable location for a port During the middle of the 1st century CE the Romans conducted another invasion of the British Isles after which Londinium began to grow rapidly As the Romans stationed legions there to defend against the Britons Londinium became a thriving international port allowing trade with Rome and other cities across the empire By the 2nd century CE Londinium was a large Roman city with tens of thousands of inhabitants using villas palaces a forum temples and baths The Roman governor ruled from the city in a basilica that served as the seat of government What was once a 30 acre outpost now spanned 300 acres and was home to nearly 15 000 people including Roman soldiers officials and foreign merchants The Romans also built heavy defenses for the city constructing several forts and the massive London Wall parts of which are still scattered across the city today Ancient Roman remains continue to dot London's landscape today reminding everyone that almost a millennium before it became the home of royalty London was already a center of power The Romans were master builders and much of what they built has stood the test of time Throughout their vast empire they have left grand structures from the Forum and Pantheon in Rome to the theatres and hippodromes of North Africa and the triumphal gates in Anatolia and France Wherever they went the Romans built imposing structures to show their power and ability and one of their most impressive constructions was built on the northernmost fringe of the empire Shortly after the emperor Hadrian came to power in the early 2nd century CE he decided to seal off Scotland from Roman Britain with an ambitious wall stretching from sea to sea To accomplish this the wall had to be built from the mouth of the River Tyne where Newcastle stands today 80 Roman miles 76 miles or 122 kilometers west to Bowness on Solway The sheer scale of the job still impresses people today and Hadrian's Wall has the advantage of being systematically studied and partially restored
