A Biographical Dictionary of Later Han to the Three Kingdoms (23-220 AD) Rafe de Crespigny, 2006-12-01 This publication is the long awaited complement to Michael Loewe's acclaimed Biographical Dictionary of the Qin Former Han and Xin Periods 2000 With more than 8 000 entries based upon historical records and surviving inscriptions the comprehensive Biographical Dictionary of Later Han to the Three Kingdoms 23 220 AD now provides information on men and women of the Chinese world who lived at the time of Later or Eastern Han from Liu Xiu founding Emperor Guangwu reg 24 57 to the celebrated warlord Cao Cao 155 220 at the end of the dynasty The entries including surnames personal names styles and dates are accompanied by maps genealogical tables and indexes with lists of books and special accounts of women These features together with the convenient surveys of the history and the administrative structure of the dynasty will make Rafe de Crespigny's work an indispensable tool for any further serious study of a significant but comparatively neglected period of imperial China

Dragon in Ambush Jeremy Ingalls, 2013-05-16 Dragon in Ambush by Jeremy Ingalls is a critique and new translation of the first twenty poems of Mao Zedong's published poetry This seminal work stands out from previous translations of Mao's poems in seeing them as an expression of his core political beliefs rather than for their poetic effect Instead Dr Ingalls shows in consummate detail that Mao was careful and deliberate in employing imagery in his poetry to lay out procedures for political supremacy in which the central drive was his will to psychological domination That is domination of the minds of others is the unifying theme of Mao's verse sequence The crux of Prof Ingalls' work lies in her focus on the symbolism in the poems The poems are in Mao's use of them as a means of communication meaningless on their surface No image however seemingly commonplace is ever employed for merely lyrical or aesthetic description Every image functions as a factor in an entirely political calculus According to Dr Ingalls When Mao mentions streams or mountains suns or moons clouds or winds or icicles horses elephants snakes tigers leopards or bears specifies kinds of trees or birds or fish flies brooms mats or bridges these and all his other images have as their primary function neither happenstance descriptions nor whimsical metaphor They all have politically symbolic functions in Mao's algebra of versified political discourse Furthermore in her analysis Prof Ingalls downplays the significance of Marxism Leninism in the Thought of Mao Zedong She shows that throughout his career Mao regarded Marxism Leninism as a political convenience not as a doctrine permanently essential to his master plan Just as Mao used the Nationalists of Chiang Kai shek and Stalin's Soviet Union as means to further his own political ambitions so did he manipulate Marxist Leninist ideology to hoodwink and attract at home and abroad professional revolutionaries to help do his bidding Mao's aims express in their worldviews an entirely Chinese tradition In his poems Mao's dialectics his materialism and his authoritarianism all take their points of reference from within the Chinese cultural order Dragon in Ambush is a thoroughly unique and revolutionary approach to understanding the Mind of Mao Zedong

Javanese Literature in Surakarta Manuscripts Nancy K. Florida, 2018-08-06 This book completes a series of three volumes cataloguing the Javanese language manuscripts housed in four repositories in the Central Javanese city of Surakarta that were preserved in microfilm under the auspices of the Cornell University's Surakarta Manuscript Project. The present volume describes the manuscripts of the Radya Pustaka Museum and the private library of the late Panembahan Hardjonagoro, a body of materials that date from the early eighteenth to the early twentieth century. Detailing the contents of the 1,204 texts inscribed in these 478 manuscripts, Nancy K. Florida's fully indexed catalogue guides the reader through a wide range of materials. The manuscripts catalogued include autobiographical writings, gamelan notation, works of calendrical divination, annotated translations of the Qur'an, compendia of colonial laws and regulations, Sufi poetry, royal genealogies, handbooks on horsemanship, histories of legendary heroes, and scripts for wayang performances. Each entry includes information of titles, authors, dates, and places of composition, dates and places of inscription, identities of scribes and patrons, and concise descriptions of the contents. Each title is also provided with a subject categorization along with notes on the physical size and condition of the original manuscript, descriptions of scripts and scribal styles, papers, and watermarks. It is an essential resource for researchers of Javanese history and culture.

The Plum in the Golden Vase Or, Chin P'ing Mei, Volume Three Hsiao Hsiao Sheng, 2006. A five-volume translation of the classic sixteenth-century Chinese novel on the domestic life of a corrupt merchant.

Mao's Road to Power Stuart Schram, 2018-10-24. By 1939 Mao Zedong was a leader in the Chinese Communist Party through his political acumen, his organizing energy, and his executive ability. At the same time, his abilities to shift register to maintain a sense of the whole and also of the particular, and to absorb seemingly contradictory realities in the social, political, and military arenas, he

A History of Literature in the Ming Dynasty Shuofang Xu, Qiuke Sun, 2022-01-22. This book explores poems, novels, legends, operas, and other genres of writing from the Ming Dynasty. It is composed of two parts: the literary history and comprehensive reference materials based on the compilation of several chronologies. By studying individual literary works, the book analyzes the basic laws of the development of literature during the Ming Dynasty and explores the influences of people, time, and place on literature from a sociological perspective. In turn, it conducts a contrastive analysis of Chinese and Western literature based on similar works from the same literary genre and their creative methods. The book also investigates the relationship between literary theory and literary creation practices, including those used at various poetry schools. In closing, it studies the unique aesthetic traits of related works. Sharing valuable insights and perspectives, the book can serve as a role model for future literary history studies. It offers a unique resource for literary researchers, reference guide for students and educators, and lively read for members of the general public.

The Plum in the Golden Vase or, Chin P'ing Mei, Volume Three, 2011-07-05. The third volume of a celebrated translation of the classic Chinese novel. This is the third volume in David Roy's celebrated translation of one of the most famous and important novels in Chinese literature. The Plum in the Golden Vase or Chin P'ing Mei is an anonymous sixteenth-century work that focuses on the domestic life of Hsi-men Ch'ing, a corrupt upwardly mobile merchant in a provincial town who maintains a harem of six wives and concubines The novel known primarily for its erotic realism is also a landmark in the development of the narrative art form not only from a specifically Chinese perspective but in a world historical context Written during the second half of the sixteenth century and first published in 1618 The Plum in the Golden Vase is noted for its surprisingly modern technique With the possible exception of The Tale of Genji ca 1010 and Don Quixote 1605 1615 there is no earlier work of prose fiction of equal sophistication in world literature Although its importance in the history of Chinese narrative has long been recognized the technical virtuosity of the author which is more reminiscent of the Dickens of Bleak House the Joyce of Ulysses or the Nabokov of Lolita than anything in earlier Chinese fiction has not yet received adequate recognition This is partly because all of the existing European translations are either abridged or based on an inferior recension of the text This translation and its annotation aim to faithfully represent and elucidate all the rhetorical features of the original in its most authentic form and thereby enable the Western reader to appreciate this Chinese masterpiece at its true worth Replete with convincing portrayals of the darker side of human nature it should appeal to anyone interested in a compelling story compellingly told Politics of Chinese Language and Culture Bob Hodge, Kam Louie, 2012-11-12 An innovative text which adopts the tools of cultural studies to provide a fresh approach to the study of Chinese language culture and society The book tackles areas such as grammar language gender popular culture film and the Chinese diaspora and employs the concepts of social semiotics to extend the ideas of language and reading Covering a range of cultural texts it will help to break down the boundaries around the ideas and identities of East and West and provide a more relevant analysis of the Chinese and China The Publisher, 1905 The London Catalogue of Books, with Their Sizes, Prices, and Publishers Containing the Books Published in London, and Those Altered in Size Or Price, Since the Year 1814 to December 1834, 1835

The London Catalogue of Books, with Their Sizes, Prices, and Publishers Containing the Books Published in London, and Those Altered in Size Or Price, Since the Year 1814 to 1839, 1839 The London catalogue of books ... containing the books published in London ... since the year MDCCCXIV to MDCCCXXXIX [compiled by R. Bent]. London catalogue, 1839 The London Catalogue of Books, 1822 Perception, Action, and Cognition Snehlata Jaswal, 2016-11-09 Even as simple a task as quenching thirst with a glass of water involves a sequence of perceptions and actions woven together by expectations and experience What are the myriad links between perception and action and what does cognition have to do with them Intuitively we think that perception precedes action but we also know that action moulds perception The reciprocal links between perception and action are now accepted almost universally The discovery of mirror neurons that encode observed actions has further emphasized the coupling of perception and action The real aim of this research topic is to go beyond identifying the evidence for perception action coupling and study the cognitive entities and processes that influence the perception action link For example the internal representations of perceived and produced events are created and modified through experience Yet the perception action link is considered relatively automatic To what extent is the perception action link affected by representations and their manipulations by cognitive processes Does selective attention modify the perception action coupling How and to what extent does the context provide sources of cognitive control The developmental trajectory of the perception action link and the influence of cognition at various stages of development could be another line of important evidence The responses to these and other such questions contribute to our understanding of this research area with significant implications for perception action coupling
