Classical Review For all the authors attention to the ensemble a sense of the relation between the formal and the iconographic and the desire to historicize their material contribute to making this anthology unusual in its rigorous and creative attention to the way that art and architecture participate in the construction of the image of the Roman elite Art Bulletin Roman Art in the Private Sphere presents an impressive case for the social and art historical importance of the paintings mosaics and sculptures that filled the private houses of the Roman elite The six essays in this volume range from the first century B C E to the fourth century C E and from the Italian peninsula to the Eastern Empire and North African provinces The essays treat works of art that belonged to every major Roman housing type the single family atrium houses and the insula apartment blocks in Italian cities the dramatically sited villas of the Campanian coast and countryside and the palatial mansions of late antique provincial aristocrats In a complementary fashion the essays consider domestic art in relation to questions of decorum status wealth social privilege and obligation Patrons emerge as actively interested in the character of their surroundings artists appear as responsive to the desire of their patrons The evidence in private art of homosexual conduct in high society is also set forth Originality of subject matter sophisticated appreciation of stylistic and compositional nuance and philosophical perceptions of the relationship of humanity and nature are among the themes that the essays explore Together they demonstrate that Roman domestic art must be viewed on its own terms Elaine K Gazda is Professor of the History of Art and Curator of Hellenistic and Roman Antiquities at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology University of Michigan      Art and Archaeology of Ancient Rome ,2021-04 Classical archaeology was long equated to ancient art history Today these fields find themselves at a major crossroads The influence on them from the discipline of anthropology has increased substantially in the past 15 years adding to the ways in which scholars can study the Roman past The classical archaeologist of the 21st century is likely to be versed in Greek and Latin computer technology ancient history great monuments various hard sciences such as physics or even astronomy GPS GIS surveying mapping digitizing artistic rendering numismatics geo science astronomy environmental studies material culture analysis and or a host of other disciplines and sub disciplines Universities are seeking specialists whose talents embrace not one but several different fields of research It is not necessary for each scholar to know everything about each discipline being used within the fields of art history classical archaeology and anthropology but these days a basic knowledge of all relevant disciplines is becoming indispensable This book will layout the basic information and steps necessary to take the beginning archaeologist s search for knowledge of the past and lead them to adventures of the future here have been numerous textbooks about the art history and monuments of ancient Rome With this new work the authors have attempted to create something slightly different Students of the subject will still be able to gain the essential basic knowledge of the most important works of art and architecture that have been the focus of university art history courses for more than a century and remain the essential starting point for gaining a window into Roman Antiquity In addition to this however anthropology classical studies social history and computer graphics have been used throughout this text in order to help the beginning student understand the daily life of the ancient Romans The authors have sought to emphasize not only the greatest works of ancient art but have also included utilitarian objects which were more typical of the Roman life experience It is hoped that this holistic approach can afford an appreciation not only of that estimated one sixth that formed the Roman elite but also the remaining five sixths who formed the majority of the Roman people New technologies are being developed each year allowing increased possibilities for understanding the past These range from innovations in museology as exemplified by the ruin within a museum approach of Rome s Capitoline Museums to the virtualreality 3D walk throughs that allow the general public to experience the past first hand by passing through museums or even reconstructed ancient buildings and sites If a picture is worth a thousand words the 21st century is showing that there is a growing desire to offer detailed and intimate snapshots that allow the past to resonate and reveal itself in ways not thought possible a generation ago In this textbook the authors present more than 400 images including over 100 new plans and specially commissioned reconstructions

Rome and the Vatican City Brigitte Hintzen-Bohlen,Jürgen Sorges,2013      The Genesis of Roman Architecture John North Hopkins,2016-01-01 An important new look at Rome s earliest buildings and their context within the broader tradition of Mediterranean culture This groundbreaking study traces the development of Roman architecture and its sculpture from the earliest days to the middle of the 5th century BCE Existing narratives cast the Greeks as the progenitors of classical art and architecture or rely on historical sources dating centuries after the fact to establish the Roman context Author John North

Hopkins however allows the material and visual record to play the primary role in telling the story of Rome's origins synthesizing important new evidence from recent excavations Hopkins's detailed account of urban growth and artistic political and social exchange establishes strong parallels with communities across the Mediterranean From the late 7th century Romans looked to increasingly distant lands for shifts in artistic production By the end of the archaic period they were building temples that would outstrip the monumentality of even those on the Greek mainland The book's extensive illustrations feature new reconstructions allowing readers a rare visual exploration of this fragmentary evidence Light on the Eternal City Hellmut Hager, Susan C.
