Up on the Rooftop Kristine Grayson,2012-07-10 Julka is part of Santa s Advance team but she s spending her days inspecting rooftop entrances for the Big Night And she s traveling with an annoying elf who just happens to be on double secret forever probation She hates her job She wants excitement She wants to explore the Greater World She wants romance Disgraced investment banker Marshall doesn t have a job Not any more He spends his days trying to ingratiate himself with neighbors who believe he s personally responsible for the Great Recession even though he isn t Then he sees a pretty woman dressed like an elf standing on a rooftop He has no idea that entrancing vision will change his life forever Part of the Kristine Grayson Santa Series Interiors and Narrative Estela Vieira,2012-12-17 Interiors and Narrative shows how crucial interiors are for our understanding of the nature of narrative A growing cultural fascination with interior dwelling so prevalent in the late nineteenth century parallels an intensification of the rhetorical function interior architecture plays in the development of fiction The existential dimension of dwelling becomes so intimately tied to the novelistic project that fiction surfaces as a way of inhabiting the world This study illustrates this through a comparative reading of three realist masterpieces of the Luso Hispanic nineteenth century Machado de Assis s Quincas Borba 1891 E a de Queir s s The Maias 1888 and Leopoldo Alas s La Regenta 1884 1885 The first full length study to juxtapose the renowned writers Interiors and Narrative analyzes the authors spatial poetics while offering new readings of their work The book explores the important links between interiors and narrative by explaining how rooms furnishings and homes function as metaphors for the writing of the narrative reflecting on the complex relation between private dwellings and human interiority and arguing that the interior design of rooms becomes a language that gives furnishings and decorative objects a narrative life of their own The story of homes and furnishings in these narratives creates a semiotic language that both readers and characters rely on in order to make sense of fiction and reality

Sutton, 2015-06-04 This book provides an up to date coverage of green vegetated roof research design and management from an ecosystem perspective It reviews explains and poses questions about monitoring substrate living components and the abiotic biotic and cultural aspects connecting green roofs to the fields of community landscape and urban ecology The work contains examples of green roof venues that demonstrate the focus level of detail and techniques needed to understand the structure function and impact of these novel ecosystems Representing a seminal compilation of research and technical knowledge about green roof ecology and how functional attributes can be enhanced it delves to explore the next wave of evolution in green technology and defines potential paths for technological advancement and research Bridges, Borders and Bodies Christine Vogt-William, 2014-10-02 South Asian diasporas can be considered transcultural legacies of colonialism while constituting transcultural forms of postcolonial reality in today's globalised world The main focus of investigation here is South Asian women's fiction where diverse forms of identity negotiation undertaken by the protagonists in a number of contemporary novels from the 1990s to the early 2000s are read as transgressions. The themes of early gendered experiences of South Asian indentured labour migration, female genealogies and transmissions of cultural heritages down female lines, as well as negotiations of patriarchal violence, are read using a framework culled from postcolonial and feminist criticism. The literary representations of South Asian diasporic female experience in these texts are forms of commentary and critique by contemporary South Asian diasporic women writers. Hence, these novels can be viewed as feminist strategies of textual creativity with distinct political aims of presenting transformative narratives addressing the tensions of diaspora and patriarchy. This book is intended to contribute to the current spectrum of academic work being done in diaspora studies in that it brings together the concepts of diaspora, transculturality, contemporary women's writing, and transnational feminist critical approaches to bear on South Asian women's diasporic literature. Contrary to the celebratory notion of the concept in much theory, transculturality as represented in these texts is fraught with ambivalence.
