American Art Pottery Alice Cooney Frelinghuysen, Martin Eidelberg, Adrienne Spinozzi, 2018-09-25 p p1 margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 14 0px Verdana At the height of the Arts and Crafts era in Europe and the United States American ceramics were transformed from industrially produced ornamental works to handcrafted art pottery Celebrated ceramists such as George E Ohr Hugh C Robertson and M Louise McLaughlin and prize winning potteries including Grueby and Rookwood harnessed the potential of the medium to create an astonishing range of dynamic forms and experimental glazes

Spanning the period from the 1870s to the 1950s this volume chronicles the history of American art pottery through more than three hundred works in the outstanding collection of Robert A Ellison Jr In a series of fascinating chapters the authors place these works in the context of turn of the century commerce design and social history Driven to innovate and at times fiercely competitive some ceramists strove to discover and patent new styles and aesthetics while others pursued more utopian aims establishing artist communities that promoted education and handwork as therapy Written by a team of esteemed scholars and copiously illustrated with sumptuous images this book imparts a full understanding of American art pottery while celebrating the legacy of a visionary collector

Inventing Ideas B. Zorina Khan,2020 What determines why some countries succeed and others fall behind Economists have long debated the sources of economic growth resulting in conflicting and often inaccurate claims about the role of the state knowledge patented ideas monopolies grand innovation prizes and the nature of disruptive technologies B Zorina Khan s Inventing Ideas overturns conventional thinking and meticulously demonstrates how and why the mechanism design of institutions propels advances in the knowledge economy and ultimately shapes the fate of nations Drawing on the experiences of over 100 000 inventors and innovations from Britain France and the United States during the first and second industrial revolutions 1750 1930 Khan s comprehensive empirical analysis provides a definitive micro foundation for endogenous macroeconomic growth models This groundbreaking study uses comparative analysis across time and place to show how different institutions affect technological innovation and growth Khan demonstrates how top down innovation systems in which elites state administrators or panels make key economic decisions about prizes rewards and the allocation of resources prove to be ineffective and unproductive By contrast open access markets in patented ideas increase the scale and scope of creativity foster diversity and inclusiveness generate greater knowledge spillovers and enhance social welfare in the wider population When institutions are associated with rewards that are misaligned with economic value and productivity the negative consequences can accumulate and reduce comparative advantage at the level of individuals and nations alike So who will arise as the global leader of the twenty first century The answer depends on the extent to which we learn and implement the lessons from the history of innovation and enterprise
