Room To Manoeuvre:

What Room for Manoeuvre? Jean Daudelin, Daniel Schwanen, 2008-03-26 Canada's thirty four million people and trillion dollar GDP don't occupy much space on a planet of seven billion whose economy is now worth forty trillion dollars. The country is not a lightweight yet but certainly its position as a power is shrinking. What does that mean for the country's foreign policy and its various players? What room is left and for whom? Room for Maneuver Morwenna Symons, 2005 In the structuring of literary texts that refer extensively to previous texts, intertexts, one issue is paramount: the space accorded to the reader. In the Name of the Poor Neil Webster, Lars Engberg-Pedersen, 2002-02 Current discourse on poverty reduction emphasises the roles of the state and the market. This text stresses the importance of exploring and understanding the poor's own actions. Au Courant, 1980 Life without a Ground: A Praxis of Being-in-the-World Daniil Koloskov, 2024-07-18 This book argues for the pragmatist thesis of the primacy of praxis on a phenomenological basis. Demonstrating the relevance of phenomenology, it provides a systematic overview of the contemporary pragmatic landscape, taking into account not only a family of neo-pragmatic approaches but also the current pragmatic readings of phenomenology. This volume offers an innovative formulation of the primacy of practice thesis based on the genetic reformulation of Heidegger's notions of disclosure, Dasein, and average intelligibility. Das Man Investigating the dynamic interrelation among those notions, the author arrives at the phenomenological conception of forms of life or average background practices and argues that a form of life is not a pragmatic condition of meaningfulness but an outcome of the dynamic process of meaning formation. This text concludes that the formation of meaning has no overarching origin but sources from the bundle of disparate practical spaces and is anarchic in nature. It appeals to students and researchers working in phenomenology and philosophical anthropology. Tell Me, Where Are We Going and How Do We Get There? Ulf Lubienetzki, Heidrun Schüler-Lubienetzki, 2022-09-02 Learn the basics and techniques of a special form of conversation in this descriptive textbook: facilitation. Find out how facilitation supports communication and cooperation in groups and unleashes the potential existing in the group. This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition Sag mal, Wo geht's lang und wie kommen wir dahin by Ulf Lubienetzki, Heidrun Schüler-Lubienetzki, published by Springer Verlag GmbH, Germany, part of Springer Nature in 2020. The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL.com. A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation. Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors. European Discourses on Environmental Policy Marcel Wissenburg, Gökhan Orhan, Ute Collier, 2018-08-20 First published in 1999, this volume contributed to the debate on the European Union in furthering the study of environmental policy and expressly by introducing promising young scholars to the debate. The volume is based on a series of seminars for the Interdisciplinary Research Network on Environment and Safety.

IRNES with funding from the UK Economic and Social Research Council ESRC These new scholars explore areas including post decisional politics sustainability and agricultural biotechnology regulation Trade and Transitions Marsha Chandler, Robert Howse, Michael Trebilcock, 2004-01-14 Faced with increased levels of international competition and mounting budget deficits some developed Western economies have responded by introducing trade restrictions This book uses a comparative analysis of eight leading industrial nations including Japan the United States West Germany and Britain to demonstrate that such policies are mistaken Alternatives to trade restrictions including subsidies for industries and labour market policy instruments are also shown to have their drawbacks and the book emphasises the need for countries to find and exploit policies which fulfil their own political and social needs but which are least injurious to their trading partners

Judicial Lawmaking and Administrative Law, 2005 The book before carries a broad title In the Dutch literature the terms lawfinding and lawmaking are often used interchangeably From a legal point of view however it makes quite a difference to the position of the court whether lawfinding or lawmaking is meant Why write a book about lawmaking by the courts just in the area of administrative law In administrative law the administration is positioned between the legislature and the judiciary The courts review decisions taken by the administration in implementing the law however where the administration has often been granted a degree of discretion the courts assess the lawfulness of the decision The relation administration judiciary raises so many specific questions that it justifies a book on judicial lawmaking in administrative matters The authors are all members of the research program Public Law of the Ius Commune School

Non-Governmental Organisations - Performance and Accountability Michael Edwards, David Hulme, 2014-03-18 The last decade has seen some significant changes in international development and in the status of non governmental organisations operating in the field Not only has the number of NGOs virtually doubled many of them have seen a considerable growth in their budgets and have grown closer to governments and official aid agencies NGOs are acknowledged by many to be more effective agents of development than governments or commercial interests even as a magic bullet for development problems Despite these positive trends the real impact of the NGO sector is not well documented This is partly because NGO performance assessment and accountability methods are weak and partly because NGOs are caught up increasingly in the world of official aid which pushes them towards certain forms of evaluation at the expense of others This unique book takes a hard and critical look at these issues and describes how NGOs can and must improve the way they measure and account for their performance if they are to be truly effective Faithful to Science Andrew Steane, 2014-07-24 Science and religious faith are two of the most important and influential forces in human life yet there is widespread confusion about how or indeed whether they link together This book describes this combination from the perspective of one who finds that they link together productively and creatively The situation is not one of conflict or uneasy tension or even a respectful dialogue Rather a lively and well founded faith in God embraces and includes science and scientific ways of thinking in their proper role Science is an activity right in the bloodstream of a reasonable faith The book interprets theism broadly and engages carefully with atheism while coming from a Christian perspective The aim is to show what science is and what it is not and at the same time give some pointers to what theism is or can be Philosophy evolution and the nature of science and human life are discussed in the first part of the book questions of origins in the second It is the very mind set of scientific thinking that is widely supposed to be antagonistic to religious faith But such suspicions are too sweeping They misunderstand both faith and science Faith can be creative and intellectually courageous science is not the all embracing story that it is sometimes made out to be It is not that science fails to explain some things but rather it does not explain anything at all on its own It is part of a larger explanation And even explanation has to take a humble place it is not the purpose of life

The Governance of British Higher Education Ted Tapper, 2007-05-05 How has the system of governance changed Do British higher education institutions still exercise autonomous control over their development as was widely believed to be the case but a few years ago These questions are pursued through a three pronged strategy Firstly to examine the institutional changes which have occurred since the 1988 Education Reform and the emergence of the funding council model of governance In particular we want to know how the various institutional actors the higher education institutions the government departments and the funding councils interact with one another to shape policy outcomes Secondly to explore the political context within which these institutional actors have to work This means examining the role of the political parties policy networks and the parliamentary forces all of which have a major stake in influencing the direction of higher education policy This section of the book incorporates the move towards political devolution in the United Kingdom and examines what is different and what is similar about higher education policy making in Scotland and Wales in comparison to England Thirdly the book observes the process of policy making and change in relation to critical issues the funding of higher education the research assessment exercises the quality assurance regime and the widening participation agenda In effect it examines policy making in action

Frontex and Human Rights Melanie Fink, 2018-12-13 This book analyses the allocation of responsibility for human rights violations that occur in the context of border control or return operations coordinated by Frontex The analysis is conducted in three parts The first part examines the detailed roles and powers of Frontex and the states involved during joint operations focussing on the decision making processes and chains of command The second and third parts develop general rules that govern the allocation of responsibility under public international law ECHR law and EU non contractual liability law in order to apply them to Frontex operations To illustrate the practical implications of the findings the study uses four hypothetical scenarios that are based on situations that have in the past given rise to human rights concerns The book concludes that whilst responsibility for most human rights violations lies with the host state of an operation it often shares this responsibility with participating states who contribute large assets as well as Frontex However the book also exposes how difficult it is for individuals to find a place for bringing complaints against violations of their human rights suffered at the EU's external borders This casts doubts on whether the current legal framework offers them an effective remedy

Future Financing of the European Union Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords. European Union Committee, 2005 Negotiations are underway to agree the details of the European Union budget for the period of 2007 to 2013 known as the Financial Perspective covering the newly enlarged EU of 25 member states Further enlargement is likely with Bulgaria and Romania due to join in 2007 and the possible accession of Croatia and Turkey being considered The Committee's report considers a range of issues in relation to the current budget debate including the merits of the Commission's proposals within the framework of recent and future EU enlargement the Common Agricultural Policy Structural and Cohesion Funds the Lisbon Agenda other spending categories the functioning of the Own Resources and a EU tax UK abatement and the Commission's proposal for a Generalised Corrective Mechanism Conclusions reached include support for the UK Government's insistence that the UK rebate is non negotiable given the inadequate reforms of the CAP however if real reform of the budget was offered then the UK Government should be prepared to negotiate Structural funds should be focused on the 10 new member states as well as the two applicant countries of Romania and Bulgaria with the phasing out of EU regional development funds for all old member states with the exception of Greece and Portugal

Intercreditor Equity in Sovereign Debt Restructuring Astrid Iversen, 2023 The question of intercreditor equity is one of the most contentious issues in debt restructuring both historically and today Intercreditor Equity in Sovereign Debt Restructuring maps and establishes the content of these intercreditor equity rules and analyses how they influence the restructuring process Through this analysis Astrid Iversen outlines how creditors can predict their legal rights in the unfortunate event of a debt restructuring and strives to improve our understanding of the boundaries within which a debt restructuring offer must be designed Iversen also seeks to shed light on the functioning of the legal framework governing sovereign debt more broadly In this book she examines whether intercreditor equity rules and the legal framework of sovereign debt are compatible with a debtor state's responsibility to ensure monetary and financial stability and to establish sustainable debt burdens Iversen also explores how certain intercreditor equity rules constitute an obstacle to sustainable debt restructurings and highlights how the number of different intercreditor equity rules that a sovereign debtor state typically is bound by as well as the scope of these rules risk tightening the policy space of debtor states to the extent that it is difficult to design and implement a sustainable debt restructuring Suitable as an introductory text for readers new to the topic of sovereign debt restructurings and as an instructive guide for debt management offices creditors and their lawyers this publication provides a comprehensive legal study of intercreditor equity rules in sovereign debt restructuring

Understanding Street-Level Bureaucracy Hupe, Peter, Hill, Michael, Aurélien Buffat, 2016-07-06 This book draws together internationally acclaimed scholars from across the world to address the roles of public officials whose jobs involve dealing directly with the public Covering a broad range of jobs including the delivery of benefits and services the regulation of social and economic behavior and the expression and maintenance of public values the book presents in depth discussions of different approaches the possibilities for discretionary autonomy and directions for further research in the field Space, Time, World Michael Fortescue, 2024-02-15 Although major cognitively based studies of SPACE and TIME in language have appeared in terms of Frames of Reference these do not extend to a wide selection of the world's languages nor do they combine SPACE and TIME in the overarching concept of WORLD which has its own corresponding frames of reference The aim of relating and unifying these concepts and their expression across languages constitutes the unique thrust of the present book which will represent a significant extension of earlier approaches Among its main conclusions will be that the complete separation of terms for SPACE and TIME is a relatively recent cultural phenomenon rather than just a metaphorical extension of the latter from the former The book will be of interest to all students and practitioners of Linguistics in particular Cognitive Linguistics and Linguistic typology but also to a more general readership interested in the historical evolution of concepts of SPACE and TIME
