The Deadly Ethnic Riot Donald L. Horowitz, 2023-11-15 Donald L Horowitz's comprehensive consideration of the structure and dynamics of ethnic violence is the first full scale comparative study of what the author terms the deadly ethnic riot an intense sudden lethal attack by civilian members of one ethnic group on civilian members of another ethnic group Serious frequent and destabilizing these events result in large numbers of casualties Horowitz examines approximately 150 such riots in about fifty countries mainly in Asia Africa and the former Soviet Union as well as fifty control cases With its deep and thorough scholarship incisive analysis and profound insights The Deadly Ethnic Riot will become the definitive work on its subject Furious and sadistic the riot is nevertheless directed against a precisely specified class of targets and conducted with considerable circumspection Horowitz scrutinizes target choices participants and organization the timing and supporting conditions for the violence the nature of the events that precede the riot the prevalence of atrocities during the violence the location and diffusion of riots and the aims and effects of riot behavior He finds that the deadly ethnic riot is a highly patterned but emotional event that tends to occur during times of political uncertainty He also discusses the crucial role of rumor in triggering riots the surprisingly limited role of deliberate organization and the striking lack of remorse exhibited by participants Horowitz writes clearly and eloquently without compromising the complexity of his subject With impressive analytical skill he takes up the important challenge of explaining phenomena that are at once passionate and calculative Donald L Horowitz's comprehensive consideration of the structure and dynamics of ethnic violence is the first full scale comparative study of what the author terms the deadly ethnic riot an intense sudden lethal attack by civilian members of one ethn

Agusti-Panareda R.P. Misra,2007      Emotions in Conflict Eran Halperin,2015-12-07 Social and political psychologists have attempted to reveal the reasons why individuals and societies that acknowledge that peace would improve their personal and collective well being and are aware of the required actions needed to promote it are simply incapable of making this step forward Some social psychologists have advocated the idea that certain societal beliefs and collective memories about the nature of the opponent the in group the history and the current state of the conflict distort the perceptions of society members and prevent them from identifying opportunities for peace But these cognitive barriers capture only part of the picture Could identifying the role of discrete emotions in conflicts and conflict resolution potentially provide a wide platform for developing pinpoint conflict resolution interventions Using a vast array of primary sources critical literature analysis and firsthand personal experiences in various conflict zones Middle East Cyprus Bosnia and Northern Ireland Eran Halperin introduces a new perspective on psychological barriers to peace Halperin focuses on various emotional mechanisms that hamper peace processes even when parties face real opportunities for conflict resolution More specifically he explores how hatred anger fear angst hope despair empathy guilt and shame combined with various emotion regulation strategies provide emotions based explanations for people s attitudinal and behavioral reactions to peace related events during the ongoing process of conflict resolution Written in a clear and accessible style Emotions in Conflict offers a thought provoking and pioneering insight into the role discrete intergroup emotions play in impeding as well as facilitating peace processes in intractable conflicts This book is essential reading for those who study intractable conflicts and their resolutions and those who are interested in the real world implication of recent theories and findings on emotion and emotion regulation      War Criminals on Trial Damien Scalia,2025-10-16 This book critically examines the practice of international criminal justice based on the experience of war criminals who have been tried for their crimes Presenting the perspectives of those commonly referred to as genocidaires war criminals or criminals against humanity this book presents their experience of international criminal justice and its impact on them By presenting their points of view and their feelings about justice it becomes possible to describe the way in which this branch of justice is apprehended by the perpetrators of mass crimes to produce testimony about the lived penal experience and to analyse the functioning of this institution through a new prism that of the persons standing trial From this perspective a new analysis of international justice is produced one that reveals its aporias as it demonstrates the difficulties international criminal justice faces insofar as the justifications that support it are not all confirmed and as some of the expectations placed on it are shown to be difficult to reach if not clearly unattainable Based on over 60 interviews carried out over a period of twelve years with persons tried by the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda this book offers a unique analysis of the working of international criminal justice This interdisciplinary book will appeal to those with relevant interests in law criminology sociology and criminology      Building Sustainable Peace Arnim Langer,Graham K. Brown,2016-06-16 Countries emerging from civil war or protracted violence often face the daunting challenge of rebuilding their economy while simultaneously creating the political and social conditions for a stable peace The implicit assumption in the international community that rapid political democratisation along with economic liberalisation holds the key to sustainable peace is belied by the experiences of countries such as Iraq and Afghanistan Often the challenges of post conflict reconstruction revolve around the timing and sequencing of different reform that may have contradictory implications Drawing on a range of thematic studies and empirical cases this book examines how post conflict reconstruction policies can be better sequenced in order to promote sustainable peace The book provides evidence that many reforms that are often thought to be imperative in post conflict societies may be better considered as long term objectives and that the immediate imperative for such societies should be people centred policies
