Unmasked, The Index of Middle English Prose: Handlist XXIV, 2023. Handlist to the rich collection of manuscripts contained in five major libraries across New York, giving a full account of their provenance. This volume provides detailed descriptions of Middle English prose materials found in the Columbia University Rare Book and Manuscripts Library, The Pierpont Morgan Library, The New York Public Library, The New York Academy of Medicine Library, and New York University Bobst Library Special Collections. The manuscripts tend to be less well known than those in English libraries, with overlooked texts such as the Pseudo-Hildegard Anti-Mendicant Prophecy, The Book of Palmistry, a subject index of legal statutes, culinary and medical recipes, and English instructions to Latin prayers in Books of Hours. Other manuscripts of note include Trevisa's translation of De proprietatibus rerum by Bartholomaeus Anglicus, used as a copy text for Wynkyn de Worde's first edition, printed ca. 1495, and deluxe illustrated manuscripts of The Pilgrimage of the Soul and Ordinances of Chivalry. The introduction to the volume highlights the particular interests of the various collectors and the influences and characteristics underpinning their acquisitions. All but one of the manuscripts described from Columbia University were acquired by George A. Plimpton, 1855-1936, whose firm Ginn and Co. published spelling books. His collection records an interest in the history of education with MS 258 a primer probably compiled for an English schoolchild being a highlight John Pierpont Morgan 1837 1913 specialized in expensive illustrated manuscripts aided in his purchases by Belle da Costa Greene who became the first director of the Morgan Library as a public institution under J P Morgan Jr Curt F B hler became the Keeper of Printed Books at the Morgan in 1934 bequeathing to the Library the manuscripts that he had bought over the years James Lenox and John Jacob Astor established the New York Public Library with Lenox donating two Wycliffite Bibles and Astor a third The New York Academy of Medicine owns two manuscripts relating to the work of the French surgeon Guy de Chauliac

Alternative Agriculture: A History Joan Thirsk,1997-10-09 People like to believe in a past golden age of traditional English countryside before large farms machinery and the destruction of hedgerows changed the landscape forever However that countryside may have looked both more and less familiar than we imagine Take today's startling yellow fields of rapeseed seemingly more suited to the landscape of Van Gogh than Constable They were in fact thoroughly familiar to fieldworkers in seventeenth century England At the same time some features that would have gone unremarked in the past now seem like oddities In the fifteenth century rabbit warrens were specially guarded to rear rabbits as a luxury food for rich mens tables whilst houses had moats not only to defend them but to provide a source of fresh fish In the 1500s we find Catherine of Aragon introducing the concept of a fresh salad to the court of Henry VIII and in the 1600s artichoke gardens became a fashion of the gentry in their hope of producing more male heirs The common tomato suspected of being poisonous in 1837 was transformed into a household vegetable by the end of the nineteenth century thanks to cheaper glass making methods and the resulting increase in glasshouses In addition to these images of past lives Joan Thirsk reveals how the forces which drive our current interest in alternative forms of agriculture a glut of meat and cereal crops changing dietary habits the needs of medicine have striking parallels with earlier periods in our history She warns us that today's decisions should not be made in a historical vacuum we can find solutions to our current problems in the experience of people in the past
