Making Sense Of Competition Policy:

Competition Policy in the European Union Michelle Cini, Lee McGowan, 2008-10-30 Competition Policy in the European Union provides a comprehensive introduction to the European Union's policies on restrictive practices, mergers, monopolies and state aid. The authors offer a wide-ranging analysis of the evolution, operation and regulation of one of the EU's most important policies in a clear and accessible format.

Competition Policy Analysis Einar Hope, 2000 As markets become increasingly integrated and globalised, competition policy is facing new challenges. Contributions from leading international experts explore theoretical and methodological issues of practical relevance for the new competition policy order and give examples of practical policy adjustments.

Competition Policy and Regulation Michael Faure, Xinzhu Zhang, 2011-01-01 This unique book considers competition policy and regulation in light of the recent introduction of the anti-monopoly law in China. It addresses the relevance of competition policy for China from a broad theoretical and practical perspective, bringing together lawyers and economists from China, Europe and the US to provide an integrated law and economics approach. Given that the development of the Chinese anti-monopoly law in China was heavily reliant on a comparative approach, the contributors analyse how its text and practice actually compare to European and US legislation. The first cases in which Chinese anti-monopoly law were applied are explored, and both competition law and competition policy are discussed in detail. Topics include industrial and professional regulation and their relationship to competition law, merger control, substantive competition law issues, cartels and abuse of dominance and predation. This unique book will prove a fascinating read for competition lawyers, economists with a special interest in regulation and competition, and for practitioners concerned with competition policy and regulation.

Competition Policy Massimo Motta, 2004-01-12 This is the first book to provide a systematic treatment of the economics of antitrust or competition policy in a global context. It draws on the literature of industrial organisation and on original analyses to deal with such important issues as cartels, joint ventures, mergers, vertical contracts, predatory pricing, exclusionary practices and price discrimination, and to formulate policy implications on these issues. The interaction between theory and practice is one of the main features of the book, which contains frequent references to competition policy cases and a few fully developed case studies. The treatment is written to appeal to practitioners and students, to lawyers and economists. It is not only a textbook in economics for first-year graduate or advanced undergraduate courses, but also a book for all those who wish to understand competition issues in a clear and rigorous way. Exercises and some solved problems are provided.

The Development of European Competition Policy Brian Shaev, Sigfrido M. Ramírez Pérez, 2024-06-03 This book considers a central issue of our time: the relationship between the macroeconomic objectives of political parties in democratic countries and the legal framework of market economies. The impressive panel of contributors examines social democratic policies on cartels, market concentration and competition in different European countries spanning a hundred-year period, specifically the interwar period, the initial postwar period, the 1960s and 1970s the 1980s and 1990s and the 2000s This thought provoking volume challenges the dominant belief that the EU s economic system and competition policy were mainly influenced by neoliberal economic thinking instead showing that Keynesian and social democratic positions played a major role in the emergence of this system It will be valuable reading for advanced students researchers and policymakers interested in modern economic history industrial organization political economy European legal history and political science

A Framework for European Competition Law Christopher Townley, 2018-11-29 This book asks whether the current push to increase uniformity in substantive and procedural competition policy and enforcement in Europe as well as in related institutional structures is desirable It focuses on

European Union EU competition policy and enforcement related to Articles 101 and 102 TFEU and the merger rules the equivalent rules in the Member States and the relationships between these different legal orders Uniformity has many benefits yet the advantages of diversity are also legion enabling more policy experimentation and innovation and improving the ability to accommodate national preferences Contrary to the overwhelming view of academics practitioners and regulators in this area the book argues that uniformity is insufficient and examines ways of achieving a better mix of uniformity and diversity the EU's motto is United in Diversity To achieve this better mix the book offers a new framework for European competition law Coordinated Diversity Finally this book discusses whether Coordinated Diversity fits with the current legal order in the EU as well as the EU constitutional settlement more generally and suggests some ways that it might be made compatible with this order with relative ease The book's impact could be significant changing the results in individual cases the way cases are argued and what information is relevant More importantly it builds the theoretical foundations for fundamentally altering the way in which the EU and the Member States competition authorities interact allowing space for disagreement and uncertainty The aim is to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of competition policy making and enforcement in Europe It should also increase the legitimacy in this field rebalancing towards the Member States Coordinated Diversity provides a new way of seeing the EU that better blends difference when this is demanded with uniformity and its benefits as necessary A timely and ambitious work this book will be read with interest by all practitioners and academics interested in EU competition law as well as the related fields of political science and economics

Public Procurement and the EU Competition Rules Albert Sánchez Graells, 2015-06-25 Public procurement and competition law are both important fields of EU law and policy intimately intertwined in the creation of the internal market Hitherto their close connection has been noted but not closely examined This work is the most comprehensive attempt to date to explain the many ways in which these fields often considered independent of one another interact and overlap in the creation of the internal market This process of convergence between competition and public procurement law is particularly apparent in the 2014 Directives on public procurement which consolidate the principle of competition in terms very close to those advanced by the author in the first edition This second edition builds upon this approach and continues to ask how competition law principles inform and condition public procurement rules and whether the latter in their revised form are adequate to ensure that competition is not distorted The second edition also deepens the analysis of the market behaviour of the public buyer from a competition perspective Proceeding through a careful assessment of the general rules of competition and public procurement the book constantly tests the efficacy of these rules against a standard of the proper functioning of undistorted competition in the market for public procurement It also traces the increasing relevance of competition considerations in the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and sets out criteria and recommendations to continue influencing the development of EU Economic Law

The Internationalisation of Competition Rules Brendan J. Sweeney, 2009-09-10 The widespread move towards more market driven models of political economy combined with the expanding internationalisation of business and commerce has led to a series of proposals for global competition rules To date these proposals have been hotly contested A critical issue is whether some form of international rule making is required or whether soft law solutions are sufficient Competition rules may be required to combat the damage done by global cartels and to diffuse the tensions created when more than one nation seeks to regulate the same conduct Competition rules may also be required to protect the integrity of the world trading system International rule making however presents its own problems not the least of which is a concern with protecting national sovereignty

Challenges for Russian Economic Reform Alan Smith,2010-12-01

The transition to a market economy proves to be far more difficult in Russia than in the former centrally planned economies of eastern Europe The Russian economy continues to face serious problems including substantial inflationary pressures falling output and capital flight The most positive aspect of the transition has been the relatively fast pace of privatization Challenges for Russian Economic Reform contains papers published by the post Soviet Business Forum at the Royal Institute of International Affairs that have been revised for this volume The contributors specialists in Russian economic affairs examine the principal economic and institutional factors that have hindered transformation in Russia The sheer size of the country has complicated the problem of exposing domestic producers to foreign competition and has weakened the ability of central authorities to control the regions Economic stabilization has been hampered by the difficulties in establishing sound economic relations with the former Soviet republics David Dyker and Michael Barrow analyze the problems of monopoly and competition policy in Russia Philip Hanson assesses the obstacles to economic stabilization posed by regional economic interests and examines regional diversity in reform implementation Michael Kaser examines the problems of privatization by regions and sectors in Russia and the CIS and the institutional obstacles encountered by foreign investors Alan Smith explores the problems created by the breakup of traditional trade and payment relations with the non Russian republics of the former Soviet Union and bilateral trade links with Eastern Europe He also provides an overall assessment of Russian economic performance since the collapse of communism

Competition Rules for the 21st Century Ky Ewing,Ky P.

Ewing,2006-01-01 Ky Ewingand s magisterial work on international competition law is here updated to take stock of the prodigious expansion of anti cartel enforcement throughout the world in the intervening years Although the book has been highly regarded as a major reconsideration of the foundations of competition law and policy it has also proven enormously valuable for its wealth of information and practical guidance Among its most useful features some new to the second edition are the following and a vast amount of statistical and other information about public competition law enforcement agencies and their resources around the world and in depth analysis of the differences in competition law regimes and the various economic and legal theories from which they derive and detailed attention to jurisprudence and legal commentary over many decades and probing of the meaning of and lowand and and fairand as applied to prices and suggestions for carrying out re
