Making Schools Matter Good Teachers At Work:

Making Schools Matter Satu Repo, 1998 Making Schools Matter is an anthology of articles and interviews about classroom issues of continuing importance in education today. The contributors to this anthology are drawn from across Canada as well as abroad. They offer practical advice on how to develop anti-racism and anti-sexism programs to interest students in science, make history and social studies relevant, create a curriculum that is dedicated to social justice. Watching these good teachers at work, we too can learn to engage students in their subjects, stretch them as individuals, and help them to think as part of a larger community. Teachers who care about the role schools play in creating thoughtful, well-rounded individuals in a democratic society will find Making Schools Matter a rich source of ideas. An Our Schools Our Selves book

Making Schools Matter Satu Repo, 1998 Making a Difference: Volume I and II Sasha A. Barab, Kenneth E. Hay, Nancy Butler Songer, Daniel T. Hickey, 2017-09-05 William Wordsworth 1770-1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally. This broad-ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language, difference, and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period. It discusses many of Wordsworth's later poems, comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott. The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth's construction of community and his use of power relationships. A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included. Minnesota Journal of Education, 1927 Education and Training Policy Teachers Matter Attracting, Developing and Retaining Effective Teachers OECD, 2005-06-08 Teachers Matter provides a comprehensive international analysis of trends and developments in the teacher workforce in 25 countries around the world, including research on attracting, developing, and retaining effective teachers. American Education, 1982 Making Science Curriculum Matter Barbara Brauner Berns, Judith Opert Sandler, 2009 The D I centers helped many schools and districts change how they defined the goals of their science education program and the materials and methods they used to bring science to life for their students. This book will no doubt be another part of the centers' legacy. From the Foreword by Janice Earle, Senior Program Director, National Science Foundation. Promote science education reform that strengthens instruction and gives students a competitive edge. Based on the legacy of the National Science Foundation Instructional Materials Development program, this resource examines the opportunities and challenges of creating effective and equitable science education programs. The authors focus on the work of four dissemination and implementation centers that were established to promote the use of standards and research-based materials for classrooms. The book demonstrates how educators can establish innovative K-12 science programs. Create strong professional development opportunities to guide curriculum selection and classroom implementation. Drive reform efforts that serve to empower students with the skills and understanding required in today's worldwide scientific technical environment For any educator involved in making decisions about science curriculum instruction professional development and assessment Making Science Curriculum Matter is a key tool in strengthening our nation's science education Making Coaching Matter Sarah L. Woulfin, Isobel Stevenson, Kerry Lord, 2023 Districts and schools often count on coaching to promote student learning and organizational change Across the United States a wide variety of coaches engage in various types of work with teachers as well as school leaders But coaching is often loosely defined weakly supported and ultimately underutilized and as a consequence its promise and potential have not been fully realized In this book the authors address misconceptions about the goals of coaching what it involves and how it aligns with reform efforts They advance a new coherent framing of coaching as a lever for strategic equitable school improvement Bridging research theory policy and practice this book provides insights to help educational reformers and district and school leaders strengthen the structures and activities of coaching This timely book illustrates how to make coaching matter by assembling infrastructure and creating conditions so that coaching advances change in robust sustaining and equitable ways Book Features Provides useful information for educational leaders whose expertise may not extend to coaching including tools and reflective questions Offers a strong theoretical and research based foundation along with the authors collective experience as researchers and practitioners and the voices of coaches and other educational leaders Advocates for a coaching model that supports a district's overall strategy for centering equity and improving student learning Describes how to build capacity and continuously improve coaching and how to support coaching through leadership logistics and resources
