Malay Peasants Coping With The World Breaking The Community Circle:

Malay Peasants Coping with the World Rodolphe de Koninck,1990 Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Malaysia Meredith Weiss,2014-10-17 The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Malaysia offers a broad analytical survey of Malaysia It provides a comprehensive survey of significant topics in Malaysian politics economy and society today focussing on issues institutions and trends It is divided into four thematic sections which are all introduced by the editor Domestic politics Economics Social policy and social development International relations and security The volume brings together an international team of experts an interdisciplinary mix of forty contributors from Malaysia and elsewhere including many of the leading specialists on Malaysian affairs The chapters included in the volume form an accessible and fascinating window onto contemporary Malaysia They each introduce a different aspect of the Malaysian polity economy or society offering both historical perspective and a current assessment or investigation Designed for general readers and specialists alike chapters may be read individually each stands on its own or conjointly Up to date interdisciplinary and academically rigorous the Handbook will be of interest to students academics policymakers and others in search of reliable information on Malaysian politics economics and society Unsettling Absences Eric C. Thompson,2007 In Unsettling Absences Eric Thompson argues that urbanism is a cultural force unbound from the city and is a pervasive presence in the Malaysian countryside Transported to rural communities urbanism has motivated migration transformed the social lives of rural inhabitants and created a deep ambivalence about personal identity This has left rural Malays feeling out of place in both the city and the village Kuala Lumpur epitomises modernity but rural Malays who move there are often marginalised in squatter settlements on its periphery The kampung symbolises home and the locus of Malay identity but schoolbooks and television have projected urbanism that marks rural life as backwards and marginal in a forward looking nation into the kampung The book challenges city bound urban studies by locating urbanism in a wider world that extends outside of the city and shows the conflicted realities of rural dwellers in an overwhelmingly urban world As others have challenged the meaning of modernity Thompson challenges the meaning of urban while still recognising the powerful effects of an ideology of urbanism Unsettling Absences is a call to take seriously place based identities and cultural geographies in a world where the urban rural divide is dissolving in practice but in cultural terms remains as powerful as ever Southeast Asia Jonathan Rigg,1997 Drawing on case studies from across Southeast Asia this work assesses poverty and the ways in which the poor are identified and viewed Progress and change in the rural and urban worlds are examined in detail focusing on the strengthening rural urban interaction as farmers make a living in the urban industrial sector and factories relocate into industrial areas Giving prominence to indigenous notions of development based on Buddhism Islam and the so called Asian Way the author critically assesses the conceptual foundations of the development ideas of post developmentalism and the miracle thesis The Southeast Asia Handbook Patrick Heenan,Monique Lamontagne,2013-04-03 The Regional Handbooks of Economic Development series provides accessible overviews of countries within their larger domestic and international contexts focusing on the relations among regions as they meet the challenges of the twenty first century The series allows the non specialist student to explore a wide range of complex factors social and political as well as economic that affect the growth of developing regions in Asia Europe and South America Each Handbook provides an overview chapter discussing the region s economic conditions within an historical and political context as well as 20 or more chapter length essays written by recognized experts which analyze the key issues affecting a region s economy its population natural resources foreign trade labor problems and economic inequalities and other vital factors In addition the volumes offer useful support materials including a series of appendices that include a detailed chronology of events in the region a glossary of terms biographical entries on key personalities an annotated bibliography of further reading and a comprehensive analytical index

Chinese Business in the Making of a Malay State, 1882-1941 Wu Xiao An, 2003-12-08 This book examines how Chinese family and business networks focused around activities such as revenue farming including opium the rice trade and pawnbroking and related legal and labour organization activities were highly influential in the process of state formation in Malaya It shows how Chinese family and business networks were flexible and dynamic and were closely interlocked with economic and social structures around which government and states developed It considers the crucial role of wealth and power in the process of state formation and challenges accepted views of Chinese ethnicity and migration Chinese Circulations Eric Tagliacozzo, Wen-chin Chang, 2011-04-13 This collection of twenty essays provides an unprecedented overview of Chinese trade through the centuries highlighting its scope diversity complexity and the commodities that have linked it with Southeast Asia

A Generation Later James F. Eder, 1999-09-01 A Generation Later moves beyond analytical models of rural change that focus on the peasant agricultural aspect of rural communities and makes a convincing case for an approach that integrates farm and nonfarm occupations and does justice to the conditions of occupational multiplicity that characterize to an increasing extent many of the rural communities in Asia In this context it challenges conventional and simplistic peasant to proletarian views of change Rather than finding a dreary and dispirited landscape of sameness and hardship it offers some empirical support for amore optimistic view of the region s future one of growing household prosperity and widespread individual opportunity

The Geography of Southeast Asia Thomas A. Rumney, 2010-04-07 In The Geography of Southeast Asia Rumney discusses an area that has long been of interest to geographers and other academics As interest in Southeast Asia has grown particularly over the past forty years the volume and variety of scholarly publications on the varied geographical aspects of the region have also increased This collection is an attempt to identify organize and present as many of these works as possible The region as a whole and each individual country of the area are covered in individual chapters Each chapter is further systematically organized by topic including general works cultural social geography economic geography historical geography physical geography political geography and urban geography This book presents a myriad of sources such as atlases books chapters articles dissertations and theses are included as well as works written in English French German and other languages providing the reader with a thorough view of Southeast Asian geography More than the Soil Jonathan Rigg,2014-09-25 More than the Soil focuses on the social cultural economic and technological processes that have transformed rural areas of Southeast Asia The underlying premise is that rural lives and livelihoods in this region have undergone fundamental change No longer can we assume that rural livelihoods are founded on agriculture nor can we assume that people envisage their futures in terms of farming The inter penetration of the rural and urban and the degree to which rural people migrate between rural and urban areas and shift from agriculture to non agriculture raises fundamental questions about how we conceptualise the rural Southeast Asia and the households to be found there Living with Transition in Laos Jonathan Rigg,2012-10-12 Laos the Lao People s Democratic Republic is one of the least understood and studied countries of Asia Its development trajectory is also one of the most interesting as it moves from state or perhaps more appropriately subsistence to market Based on extensive original research this book assesses how economic transition and marketisation are being translated into progress or not at the local level and at the resulting impact on poverty inequality and livelihoods It concludes that the process of transition in fact contributes to the growth of poverty for some people and shows how people manage to cope in very unfavourable circumstances Southeast Asia Transformed Chia Lin Sien,2003 Southeast Asia with a total population of 520 million remains a region characterized by fragmentation diversity and considerable internal conflict despite the unifying influence of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN formed some thirty five years ago In the new millennium it has lost the distinction of being one of the worlds faster growing group of economies since the 1997 financial crisis While it has benefited from the winds of globalization it has now to cope with the painful adjustments to problems that stem from the inadequacies of good governance and structural changes The Earthscan Reader in Rural-Urban Linkages Cecilia Tacoli,2018-10-24 With accelerating urbanization and growing inter dependence of rural and urban dwellers on the markets and resources they each offer rural urban linkages have become a very important focus in recent years for research and policy relating to local and national economic development poverty reduction and governance The emergence of new livelihoods based on diversified income sources and mobility reflects profound social cultural and economic transformations and new forms of resource allocation and use This volume collects the key contributions in the field covering the conceptual background the key issues and the current debates locating different approaches in their wider intellectual and historical contexts It also includes important recent empirical work from all the relevant geographical regions that that will be the basis for future thinking Fifteen papers are clearly organized around the principal themes and accompanied by a valuable editorial introduction clearly setting out the issues the arguments and the evidence Suggestions for further reading and additional information sources are also included Published with IIED Rural Capitalists in Asia Mario Rutten,2005-08-18 This is a comparative study of small capitalists and rural industrialists in three

Asian countries Studies on the entrepreneurial class in South Asia tend to focus on the structural aspects of entrepreneurial behaviour while studies on this class in Southeast Asia tend to focus on cultural aspects of their behaviour In fact this book points to striking similarities between Indian overseas Chinese and Muslim businessmen in Asia similarities usually hidden under variations in analytical approaches Although this study emphasizes similarities within Asia it does not support the view of a specific Asian business pattern different to the rise of non Asian especially European entrepreneurs The findings are of major interest not just within the fields of anthropology and entrepreneurship but to all scholars working on South or Southeast Asia who will find much of interest in the author s observations of variable research results between the two regions Agrarian Angst and Rural Resistance in Contemporary Southeast Asia Dominique Caouette, Sarah

Turner, 2009-09-10 Agrarian transformations market integration and globalization processes are impacting upon rural Southeast Asia with increasingly complex and diverse consequences In response local inhabitants are devising a broad range of resistance measures that they feel will best protect or improve their livelihoods ensure greater social justice and equity or allow them to just be left alone This book develops a multi scalar approach to examine such resistance occurring in relation to agrarian transformations in the Southeast Asian region The contributors take a fresh look at the diversity of sites of struggle and the combinations of resistance measures being utilized in contemporary Southeast Asia They reveal that open public conflicts and debates are taking place between dominators and the oppressed at the same time as covert critiques of power and everyday forms of resistance The book shows how resistance measures are context contingent shaped by different world views and shift according to local circumstances the opening and closing of political opportunity structures and the historical peculiarities of resistance dynamics By providing new conceptual approaches and illustrative case studies that cut across scales and forms this book will be of interest to academics and students in comparative politics sociology human geography environmental studies cultural anthropology and Southeast Asian studies It will also help to further debate and action among academics activists and policymakers Annual Report Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, 1992

Bibliography of Southeast Asia Kim See Ch'ng, 2003 The Bibliography of Southeast Asia A Decade of Selected Social Science Publications in the English Language 1990 2000 comprises 6 521 entries of published works The selection broadly represents the documentation of the political economic and social and cultural processes of one of the most interesting eras of the previous millennium Migration, Agrarian Transition, and Rural Change in Southeast Asia Philip F.

Kelly, 2013-10-18 Rural life in Southeast Asia is being transformed by new and intensifying processes of migration and mobility Migration out of rural areas creates new forms of class mobility familial relations production processes and income Migration into rural areas creates a new and sometimes marginalized workforce contestation over resource access and the juxtaposition of culturally different groups At the same time everyday mobility stretches the spatial boundaries of village and family life The bounded space of the village is no longer adequate to understand the dynamics that are driving and resulting from rural social change This collection of original studies explores the cultural economic and environmental dimensions of intensifying migration and mobility in rural Southeast Asia at multiple scales Diverse processes are explored including rural urban flows rural rural movement everyday mobilities and international migrations into regional and global labour markets Drawing on fieldwork in six countries across the region these essays also explore what migration means for our understanding of class citizenship gender and the state in a rapidly changing part of the world This book was based on two parts of a special issue of Critical Asian Studies Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1993-11 Changing Marriage Patterns in Southeast Asia Gavin W. Jones, Terence H. Hull, Maznah Mohamad, 2015-08-04 Various forms of partnering such as officially registered marriages cohabiting relationships and other kinds of relatively stable relationships are crucial in the formation of families throughout the world Although today forms of partnering in the region are not restricted to formal marriage the norm remains for couples to marry to establish a new family and to accept the cultural requirement to have children This book provides a comprehensive and up to date picture of partnerships and marriage in the Southeast Asian region using quantitative data alongside qualitative approaches Through the research of demographers sociologists and anthropologists it examines the way trends in the formation and dissolution of marriages are related to changes in the region's economy and society illuminating both the broad forces affecting marriage patterns and the way these forces work out at the individual and family level Presenting the variety of contemporary marriage patterns in the region with an emphasis on the ways in which marriage issues impinge on the welfare of those concerned this book will be essential reading for students and scholars of Southeast Asia and the sociology of the family
