The Sustainable Urban Development Reader Stephen M. Wheeler, Timothy Beatley, 2004 Bringing together classic readings from a wide variety of sources this key book investigates how our cities and towns can become more sustainable Thirty eight selections span issues such as land use planning urban design transportation ecological restoration economic development resource use and equity planning Section introductions outline the major themes whilst the editors' introductions to the individual writings explain their interest and significance to wider debates Additional sections present twenty four case studies of real world sustainable urban planning examples sustainability planning exercises and further reading Providing background in theory practical application and vision in a clear accessible format The Sustainable Urban Development Reader is an essential resource for students professionals and indeed anyone interested in the future of urban environments

Environmental Rights Steve Vanderheiden, 2017-07-05 The essays selected for this volume present critical viewpoints from the debate about the need to establish rights on behalf of greater environmental protection Three main areas for developing environmental rights are surveyed including extensionist theories that link existing rights for example to subsistence or territory to threats of harm from exacerbated resource scarcity pollution or rapid environmental change proposals for rights to specified environmental goods or services such as

rights to a safe environment and the capacity to assimilate greenhouse gas emissions and rights that protect the interests of parties not currently recognized as having rights including nonhuman subjects natural objects and future generations This volume captures the potential for and primary challenges to the development of rights as instruments for safeguarding the planet's life support capacities and features proposals and analyses which argue the need to create an avenue of recourse against ecological degradation whether on behalf of human or nonhuman right holders The Postcolonial Subject Vivienne Jabri, 2013 This book places the lens on postcolonial agency and resistance in a social and geopolitical context that has witnessed great transformations in international politics What does postcolonial politics mean in a late modern context of interventions that seek to govern postcolonial populations Drawing on historic and contemporary articulations of agency and resistance and highlighting voices from the postcolonial world the book explores the transition from colonial modernity to the late modern postcolonial era It shows that at each moment wherein the claim to politics is made the postcolonial subject comes face to face with global operations of power that seek to control and govern As seen in the Middle East and elsewhere these operations have variously drawn on war policing as well as pedagogical practices geared at governing the political aspirations of target societies The book provides a conceptualisation of postcolonial political subjectivity discusses moments of its emergence and exposes the security agendas that seek to govern it Engaging with political thought from Hannah Arendt to Frantz Fanon Michel Foucault and Edward Said among other critical and postcolonial theorists and drawing on art literature and film from the postcolonial world this work will be of great interest to students and scholars of critical international relations postcolonial theory and political theory Environmental Justice in the New Millennium F. Steady, 2009-06-22 Environmental Justice is one of the most important human rights challenges today It refers to inequitable environmental burdens born by groups such as racial minorities residents of economically disadvantaged areas or residents of developing nations This book explores this subject with case studies from various parts of the world Introducing Human Geographies Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2013-12-05 Introducing Human Geographies is the leading guide to human geography for undergraduate students explaining new thinking on essential topics and discussing exciting developments in the field This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated and coverage is extended with new sections devoted to biogeographies cartographies mobilities non representational geographies population geographies public geographies and securities Presented in three parts with 60 contributions written by expert international researchers this text addresses the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject Part I Foundations engages students with key ideas that define human geography's subject matter and approaches through critical analyses of dualisms such as local/global society/space and human/nonhuman Part II Themes explores human geography's main sub disciplines with sections devoted to biogeographies cartographies cultural geographies development geographies economic geographies environmental geographies historical geographies political geographies population geographies social geographies urban and rural geographies Finally Part III Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non representational geographies This comprehensive stimulating and cutting edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures maps and photos These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com/9781444135350 Southern Exposure Barbara P.

Thomas-Slayter,2003 Calling increasing poverty and inequality in the Global South sometimes known as the third world as among our most urgent problems today Thomas Slayter seeks to explore the problems of globalization from the perspective of ordinary non elite people of the South After offering a brief history of imperialism and colonialism she presents chapters looking at issues of globalization and the nation state human rights and international refugees the role of international economic organizations in creating inequality the links between population the environment and development food security and global politics and the rise of anti globalization movements First World Petro-Politics Laurie Adkin,2016-08-04

First World Petro Politics examines the vital yet understudied case of a first world petro state facing related social ecological and economic crises in the context of recent critical work on fossil capitalism A wide ranging and richly documented study of Alberta s political ecology the relationship between the province s political and economic institutions and its natural environment the volume tackles questions about the nature of the political regime how it has governed and where its primary fractures have emerged Its authors examine Alberta s neo liberal environmental regulation institutional adaptation to petro state imperatives social movement organizing Indigenous responses to extractive development media framing of issues and corporate strategies to secure social license to operate Importantly they also discuss policy alternatives for political democratization and for a transition to a low carbon economy The volume s conclusions offer a critical examination of petro state theory arguing for a comparative and contextual approach to understanding the relationships between dependence on carbon extraction and the nature of political regimes Epistemic Freedom in Africa Sabelo Ndlovu-Gatsheni,2018-06-27

Epistemic Freedom in Africa is about the struggle for African people to think theorize interpret the world and write from where they are located unencumbered by Eurocentrism The imperial denial of common humanity to some human beings meant that in turn their knowledges and experiences lost their value their epistemic virtue Now in the twenty first century descendants of enslaved displaced colonized and racialized peoples have entered academies across the world proclaiming loudly that they are human beings their lives matter and they were born into valid and legitimate knowledge systems that are capable of helping humanity to transcend the current epistemic and systemic crises Together they are engaging in diverse struggles for cognitive justice fighting against the epistemic line which haunts the twenty first century The renowned historian and decolonial theorist Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni offers a penetrating and well argued case for centering Africa as a legitimate historical unit of analysis and epistemic site from which to interpret the world whilst simultaneously making an equally strong argument for globalizing knowledge from Africa so as to attain ecologies of knowledges This is a dual process of both deprovincializing Africa and in turn provincializing Europe The book highlights how the mental universe of Africa was invaded and colonized the long standing struggles for an African university and the trajectories of contemporary decolonial movements such as Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall in South Africa This landmark work underscores the fact that only once the problem of epistemic freedom has been addressed can Africa achieve political cultural economic and other freedoms This groundbreaking new book is accessible to students and scholars across Education History Philosophy Ethics African Studies Development Studies Politics International Relations Sociology Postcolonial Studies and the emerging field of Decolonial Studies The Open Access versions Chapter 1 and Chapter 9 available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780429492204> have been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Human Rights and Public Goods William F. Felice, Diana Fuguitt, 2020-09-21 This powerful and empowering text offers a way forward for alleviating human suffering presenting a realistic roadmap for enhanced global governance that can create workable solutions to mass poverty William Felice and Diana Fuguitt emphasize the critical links between international human rights law international political economy and global organizations to formulate effective public policy to alleviate human suffering and protect basic human rights for all They introduce students to the key legal and economic concepts central to economic and social human rights including the right to education a healthy environment food basic health care housing and clean water They analyze the legal approaches undertaken by the United Nations and explain the key theories of international political economy including liberalism nationalism and structuralism and central economic concepts including global public goods economic equality and the capabilities approach In the last decade a backlash against economic globalization has been fueled by a variety of politicians around the world A resurgent nationalism is often pitted against international organizations and frameworks for global cooperation In this new edition Felice and Fuguitt account for how the current global political climate has affected national and global policies for the provision of public goods and the protection of human rights They focus on practical policies and actions that both state and nonstate actors can take to uphold economic and social rights As the first book to integrate these legal and economic approaches it provides a practical path to action for students academics and policy makers alike

The Palgrave Handbook of African Political Economy Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-23 This handbook constitutes a specialist single compendium that analyses African political economy in its theoretical historical and policy dimensions It emphasizes the uniqueness of African political economy within a global capitalist system that is ever changing and complex Chapters in the book discuss how domestic and international political economic forces have shaped and continue to shape development outcomes on the continent Contributors also provoke new thinking on theories and policies to better position the continent's economy to be a critical global force The uniqueness of the handbook lies in linking theory and praxis with the past future and various dimensions of the political economy of Africa

Sustainable Urban Development Reader Stephen M. Wheeler, Timothy Beatley, 2014-10-03 Building on the success of its second edition the third edition of the Sustainable Urban Development Reader provides a generous selection of classic and contemporary readings giving a broad introduction to this topic It begins by tracing the roots of the sustainable development concept in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries before presenting readings on a number of dimensions of the sustainability concept Topics covered include land use and urban design transportation ecological planning and restoration energy and materials use economic development social and environmental justice and green architecture and building All sections have a concise editorial introduction that places the selection in context and suggests further reading Additional sections cover tools for sustainable development international sustainable development visions of sustainable community and case studies from around the world The book also includes educational exercises for individuals university classes or community groups and an extensive list of recommended readings The anthology remains unique in presenting a broad array of classic and contemporary readings in this field each with a concise introduction placing it within the context of this evolving discourse The Sustainable Urban Development Reader presents an authoritative overview of the field using original sources in a highly readable format for university classes in urban studies environmental studies the social sciences and related fields It also makes a wide range of sustainable urban planning related material available to the public in a clear and accessible way forming an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the future of urban environments

The Palgrave Handbook of Critical International Political Economy Alan Cafruny, Leila Simona Talani, Gonzalo Pozo Martin, 2016-07-05 Challenging the assumptions of mainstream International Political Economy IPE this Handbook demonstrates the considerable value of critical theory to the discipline through a series of cutting edge studies The field of IPE has always had an inbuilt vocation within Historical Materialism with an explicit ambition to make sense from a critical standpoint of the capitalist mode of production as a world system of sometimes paradoxically and sometimes smoothly overlapping states and markets Having spearheaded the growth of a vigorous critical scholarship in the 1960s and 1970s however Marxism and neo Gramscian approaches became increasingly marginalized over the course of the 1980s The authors respond to the exposure of limits to mainstream contemporary scholarship in the wake of the onset of the Global Financial Crisis and provide a comprehensive overview of the field of Critical International Political Economy Problematising socioeconomic and political structures and considering these as potentially transitory and subject to change the contributors aim not simply to understand a world of conflict but furthermore to uncover the ways in which purportedly objective analyses reflect the interests of those in positions of privilege and power

Fifty Key Thinkers on Development David Simon, 2006-05-02 The essential guide to the world's most influential development thinkers this authoritative text presents a unique guide to the lives and ideas of leading contributors to the contested terrain of development studies Reflecting the diverse interdisciplinary nature of the area the book includes entries on modernisers like Hirshman Kindleberger and Rostow dependencistas such as Frank Cardoso and Amin progressives like Prebisch Helleiner and Streeten political leaders

enunciating radical alternative visions of development such as Mao Nkrumah and Nyerere progenitors of religiously or spiritually inspired development such as Gandhi and Ariyaratne development environment thinkers like Blaikie Brookfield and Shiva This is a fascinating and readable introduction to the major figures that have shaped the field ideal for anyone studying or working in the area

International Criminal Law—A Counter-Hegemonic Project? Florian Jeßberger, Leonie Steinl, Kalika Mehta, 2022-11-25 This book enquires into the counter hegemonic capacity of international criminal justice It highlights perspectives and themes that have thus far often been neglected in the scholarship on critical approaches to international criminal justice Can international criminal justice be viewed as a counter hegemonic project And if so under what conditions In response to these questions scholars and practitioners from the Global South and North reflect inter alia on the engagement with international criminal justice in the context of Ukraine Palestine and minorities in South Asia while also highlighting the hegemonic tendencies built into the institutional structure of the International Criminal Court on the axes of gender and language Florian Jeßberger is Professor of Criminal Law and Director of the Franz von Liszt Institute for International Criminal Justice Humboldt Universität zu Berlin Germany Leonie Steinl is a Senior Lecturer in Criminal Law at Humboldt Universität zu Berlin Germany Kalika Mehta is an Associate Researcher at the Franz von Liszt Institute for International Criminal Justice Humboldt Universität zu Berlin Germany

Simon Dalby: A Pioneer in International Relations Simon Dalby, Roger Boyd, 2025-06-11 This book profiles Simon Dalby's academic contributions in the fields of critical geopolitics environmental security and the intersection of international relations and the Anthropocene It includes reprints of key essays that highlight innovations in critical thought at the intersections between geopolitics environment and security Starting with an analysis of American reconstructions of the Soviet threat in the 1970s an early contribution to the emerging field of critical geopolitics subsequent papers focus on the emergent formulations of environmental security in the aftermath of the Cold War and the environmental costs of globalization Focusing on the implicit geographical framing in discourses of globalization offered a critique that extended the ambit of critical geopolitics to grapple with the issues of environmental security and the rising concern with climate change as well as the political identities invoked in that debate In the aftermath of 9 11 similar arguments about contextualization applied to the American global war on terror and the revival of discussions of empire and its geographies both in arguments for invading Iraq as well as the wider discussions in policy discourse and popular culture Simultaneously the emergence of earth system science and the concept of the Anthropocene offered another way to highlight the dangers of fossil fueled economic activities The necessity of fundamentally rethinking the premises of security policy in light of this recontextualization is emphasized in more recent contributions on climate security and the current ecological crisis Critical geopolitics Environmental security Global war on terror Firepower in the Anthropocene

Power of Development Jonathan Crush, 2005-07-22 Post colonial post modern and feminist critiques have challenged the ways we theorise and practice development Development is not just the conclusion of economic logic its histories reveal a legacy of contested power illuminating the contemporary battlefields of knowledge These essays explore the language of development its rhetoric and meaning within different political and institutional contexts The contested ideas behind world development are explained with illustrative material sensitive to place and time chiefly drawn from Asia Africa and Latin America This book examines the power of development to imagine new worlds and to constantly reinvent itself as the solution to problems of national and global disorder

Concepts of Cabralism Reiland Rabaka, 2014-07-16 By examining Amilcar Cabral's theories and praxes as well as several of the antecedents and major influences on the evolution of his radical politics and critical social theory Concepts of Cabralism Amilcar Cabral and Africana Critical Theory simultaneously reintroduces chronicles and analyzes several of the core characteristics of the Africana tradition of critical theory Reiland Rabaka's primary preoccupation is with Cabral's theoretical and political legacies that is to say with the ways in which he constructed deconstructed and reconstructed theory and the aims objectives and concrete outcomes of his theoretical applications and discursive practices The book begins with the Negritude Movement and specifically the work of Leopold Senghor Aimé Césaire and Jean Paul Sartre Next it shifts the focus to Frantz Fanon's discourse on radical disalienation and revolutionary decolonization Finally it offers an extended engagement of Cabral's critical theory and contributions to the Africana tradition of critical theory Ultimately Concepts of Cabralism chronicles and critiques revisits and revises the black radical tradition with an eye toward the ways in which classical black radicalism informs or should inform not only contemporary black radicalism African nationalism and Pan Africanism but also contemporary efforts to create a new anti racist anti sexist anti capitalist anti colonialist and anti imperialist critical theory of contemporary society what has come to be called Africana critical theory
