Malekula A Vanishing People In The New Hebrides:

Malekula Arthur Bernard Deacon, Alfred Cort Haddon, 1934 Malekula A. Bernard Deacon, 1990 Malekula Bernard Deacon, 1970 They Married Adventure Pascal James Imperato, 1999-03 Martin and Osa Johnson thrilled American audiences of the 1920s and 30s with their remarkable movies of far away places exotic peoples and the dramatic spectacle of African wildlife Their own lives were as exciting as the movies they made sailing through the South Sea Islands dodging big game at African waterholes flying small planes over the veldt taking millionaires on safari Osa Johnson s ghostwritten autobiography I Married Adventure became a national bestseller The 1939 film version was billed as the story of World Exploration s First Lady whose indomitable daring would be stayed by neither snarling lion nor crouching leopard tropic tempest nor savage tribesman Heroes to millions Osa and Martin seemed to embody glamor daring and the all American ideal of self reliance Probing beneath the glamor of the Johnsons public image Pascal and Eleanor Imperato explore the more human side of the couple s lives and ways the Johnsons shaped for better and for worse America s vision of Africa Drawing on many years of research access to a wealth of letters and archives interviews with many who worked closely with the Johnsons and their own deep knowledge of Africa the authors present a fascinating and intimate portrait of this intrepid couple Routes James Clifford, 1997-04-21 When culture makes itself at home in motion where does an anthropologist stand In a follow up to The Predicament of Culture one of the defining books for anthropology in the last decade James Clifford takes the proper measure a moving picture of a world that doesn t stand still that reveals itself en route in the airport lounge and the parking lot as much as in the marketplace and the museum In this collage of essays meditations poems and travel reports Clifford takes travel and its difficult companion translation as openings into a complex modernity He contemplates a world ever more connected yet not homogeneous a global history proceeding from the fraught legacies of exploration colonization capitalist expansion immigration labor mobility and tourism Ranging from Highland New Guinea to northern California from Vancouver to London he probes current approaches to the interpretation and display of non Western arts and cultures Wherever people and things cross paths and where institutional forces work to discipline unruly encounters Clifford s concern is with struggles to displace stereotypes to recognize divergent histories to sustain postcolonial and tribal identities in contexts of domination and globalization Travel diaspora border crossing self location the making of homes away from home these are transcultural predicaments for the late twentieth century The map that might account for them the history of an entangled modernity emerges here as an unfinished series of paths and negotiations leading in many directions while returning again and again to the struggles and arts of cultural encounter the impossible inescapable tasks of translation Gender, Christianity and Change in Vanuatu Annelin Eriksen, 2016-04-22 Focusing on cultural change and the socio political movements in the Pacific island nation of Vanuatu this book uses both anthropological and historical analysis to examine the way the relationship between gender and Christianity has shaped processes of social change Based on extensive research conducted over several decades it is one of the few books available to focus on Vanuatu and on the impact of Christianity in Melanesia more generally as well as on the significance of gender relations in understanding these developments Providing a model for understanding and comparing processes of change in small scale societies this fascinating book will appeal to scholars and students interested in the ethnography of Melanesia and in issues related to contemporary cultural change and gender more generally La Austrialia del Espiritu Santo Celsus Kelly O.F.M,G. R. Parsonson,2017-05-15 Pedro Fern ndez de Quir s was a remarkable navigator and explorer Having sailed in 1595 as chief pilot in the ill fated Spanish expedition to the Solomon Islands he returned to the Austral Lands the area of the New Hebrides in 1605 with another expedition which is the subject of this volume In his Introduction Father Kelly sets out to resolve some of the outstanding historical problems of this Quir s expedition in the light of recently discovered documents At the same time he gives a brief description of the Franciscan missionary apostolate its contribution to geographical discovery in the Pacific and its missionary plans for the natives of the Austral lands He also provides a systematic survey of source material in Spanish Roman and other European archives The volume contains 32 documents concerning the 1605 expedition including Munilla s Relaci n as well as the Franciscan Missionary Plan All these have been translated by Father Kelly Continued in Second Series 127 with which the main pagination is continuous This is a new print on demand hardback edition of the volume first published in 1966 Reclaiming Sodom Jonathan Goldberg,2024-12-15 Within the Judeo Christian tradition Sodom and Gomorrah represent locales in which threats to national formation are couched in sexual terms The biblical narrative insists on a particular social invisibility for those sexual activities not blessed by the bonds of matrimony Reclaiming Sodom surveys a number of institutions that have had an interest in perpetuating these views the police the state the church and the law The collection ranges through biblical scholarship an investigation of the Founding Fathers beliefs the legal mobilization towards the category of sodomy in 18th and 19th century England and the US Supreme Court s 1986 Bowers vs Hardwick decision Analysis is provided of the ways in which the Judeo Christian tradition has shaped anthropological accounts of the same sex practices of non Western people as well as essays on how colonial gestures have marked lesbian identity in the Carribean and derformed narratives about the racial geography of AIDS Reclaiming Sodom explores alternatives to the force of the Sodomitic biblical narrative in Islamic non western and western traditions and discusses the ways in which sodomy calls into question normative definitions of sexuality and gender The collection pursues the pleasures and dangers of these alternatives and takes on Proust s refusal to imagine a social movement founded on the stigma of Sodom The collection examines the relations between sex gender identities and sexual acts in important and provocative ways and argues for the political use and usefulness of both Sodom and sodomy Reclaiming Sodom makes an important and controversial contribution to the literature on sexuality and gender as well as the nature of sex in our culture

Cultural and Spiritual Significance of Nature in Protected Areas Bas Verschuuren,Steve Brown,2018-08-15

Cultural and spiritual bonds with nature are among the strongest motivators for nature conservation yet they are seldom taken into account in the governance and management of protected and conserved areas. The starting point of this book is that to be sustainable, effective and equitable approaches to the management and governance of these areas need to engage with people's deeply held cultural, spiritual, personal and community values alongside inspiring action to conserve biological, geological and cultural diversity. Since protected area management and governance have traditionally been based on scientific research, a combination of science and spirituality can engage and empower a variety of stakeholders from different cultural and religious backgrounds. As evidenced in this volume, stakeholders range from indigenous peoples and local communities to those following mainstream religions and those representing the wider public. The authors argue that the scope of protected area management and governance needs to be extended to acknowledge the rights, responsibilities, obligations and aspirations of stakeholder groups and to recognise the cultural and spiritual significance that nature holds for people. The book also has direct practical applications. These follow the IUCN Best Practice Guidelines for protected and conserved area managers and present a wide range of case studies from around the world including Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe and the Americas.

Risky Shores George Behlmer, 2018-07-17 In sparkling, seamless prose Risky Shores offers fresh insights into the cultural encounters between the British and the Melanesians. Dane Kennedy, author of Decolonization: Why did the so-called Cannibal Isles of the Western Pacific fascinate Europeans for so long? Spanning three centuries from Captain James Cook's death on a Hawaiian beach in 1779 to the end of World War II in 1945, this book considers the category of the savage in the context of British Empire in the Western Pacific, reassessing the conduct of Islanders and the English-speaking strangers who encountered them. Sensationalized depictions of Melanesian savages as cannibals and headhunters created a unifying sense of Britishness during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. These exotic people inhabited the edges of empire and precisely because they did, Britons who never had and never would leave the home islands could imagine their nation's imperial reach. George Behlmer argues that Britain's early visitors to the Pacific—mainly cartographers and missionaries—wielded the notion of savagery to justify their own interests. But savage talk was not simply a way to objectify and marginalize native populations; it would later serve also to emphasize the fragility of indigenous cultures. Behlmer, by turns, considers cannibalism, headhunting, missionary activity, the labor trade and Westerners' preoccupation with the perceived primitiveness of indigenous cultures, arguing that British representations of savagery were not merely straightforward expressions of colonial power but also belied home-grown fears of social disorder. A wonderful book, beautifully researched, compellingly written and vitally important to debates about race, relations and agency in the Pacific world. The result is an intellectual feast. Jane Samson, author of Race and Redemption.

Race and Redemption Jane Samson, 2017-11-06 Race and Redemption is the latest volume in the Studies in the History of Christian Missions series, which explores the significant yet sometimes controversial impact of Christian missions around the world. In this historical examination of the encounter between British missionaries and people in the Pacific Islands Jane Samson reveals the paradoxical yet symbiotic nature of the two stances that the missionaries adopted othering and brothering She shows how good and bad intentions were tangled up together and how some blind spots remained even as others were overcome Arguing that gender was as important a category in the story as race Samson paints a complex picture of the interactions between missionaries and native peoples and the ways in which perspectives shaped by those encounters have endured

Modern Folk Devils Martin Demant Frederiksen, Ida Harboe Knudsen, 2021-12-13 The devilish has long been integral to myths legends and folklore firmly located in the relationships between good and evil and selves and others But how are ideas of evil constructed in current times and framed by contemporary social discourses Modern Folk Devils builds on and works with Stanley Cohen's theory on folk devils and moral panics to discuss the constructions of evil The authors present an array of case studies that illustrate how the notion of folk devils nowadays comes into play and animates ideas of otherness and evil throughout the world Examining current fears and perceived threats this volume investigates and analyzes how and why these devils are constructed The chapters discuss how the devilish may take on many different forms sometimes they exist only as a potential threat other times they are a single individual or phenomenon or a visible group such as refugees technocrats Roma hipsters LGBT groups and rightwing politicians Folk devils themselves are also given a voice to offer an essential complementary perspective on how panics become exaggerated facts distorted and problems acutely angled Bringing together researchers from anthropology sociology political studies ethnology and criminology the contributions examine cases from across the world spanning from Europe to Asia and Oceania Claude Lévi-Strauss Maurice Godelier, 2018-08-07 One of the world's leading anthropologists assesses the work of the founder of structural anthropology As a young man Maurice Godelier was Claude Lévi-Strauss's assistant Since then Godelier has drawn on this experience to develop a profound and intimate grasp on the writings of his former teacher one of the most influential thinkers of the twentieth century Meticulously researched Lévi-Strauss A Critical Study of His Thought will prove indispensable to students of Lévi-Strauss and to structural anthropologists more generally It is a compelling and comprehensive study destined to become the definitive work on the evolution of Lévi-Strauss's ideas at the heart of which lies his analysis of kinship and myth

Field Linguistics Terry Crowley, 2007 This book is a comprehensive practical guide to field linguistics It deals in particular with the problems arising from the documentation of endangered languages Terry Crowley shows how to prepare for that task and how to record analyse and describe languages in the field Mixing formal instruction and anecdote the author shares his rich experience with the new generation of linguistic fieldworkers The Other Side John Patrick Taylor, 2008-07-08 The Other Side is the first major ethnographic and historical study of the Sia Raga people of north Pentecost Island a region that was home to the late Father Walter Lini Vanuatu's first prime minister Exploring Raga social spatial and historical consciousness this richly poetic account provides important theoretical contributions to ongoing debates in Pacific anthropology about the relation between structure and history and place and time It reveals important insights into the convergence of indigenous and exogenous cosmologies and hegemonies historically and shows how these are implicated in contemporary social ritual and material cultural expressions These analyses engage with broader concerns relating to colonial and postcolonial identities political economy and globalization in island Melanesia The Other Side combines original and substantial ethnography with sophisticated theoretical reflection that will appeal broadly across the field of anthropology It will also be of considerable value to scholars of Pacific and Melanesian history politics and society The clear writing and entertaining narrative combine to create a work that is accessible to a wide audience The volume s critical and reflective analysis of anthropological research makes it a valuable teaching aid in courses that focus on ethnographic methods and writing Students in Pacific anthropology will find it especially useful 37

Women and Sacrifice
William Beers, 1992 Women and Sacrifice is an original and lucid book that explores the anthropology and developmental psychology of male violence in blood sacrifice and its implications in religion and culture It is the first comprehensive study of the psychology of gender and religion using the controversial ideas of Heinz Kohut and self psychology Beers not only makes an important contribution to our psychological understanding of sacrifice he explores how narcissistic anxiety fuels rituals and social structures that subordinate women He bases his provocative theory on three general premises sacrifice is traditionally performed only by men the gender specificity of sacrifice can be traced to gender specific developments of men and women and is reflected in religions throughout the world and the male violence of sacrifice is related to other forms of male violence Beers reviews the theories of symbol formation of Freud Jung Klein and Winnicott and argues that Kohut s self psychology is more appropriate for understanding the psychology of symbolic ritual The psychological claims in the book are presented in the context of social structures cultural expressions and individual and group history Beers includes critiques of such leading theorists of ritual and sacrifice as Durkheim Levi Strauss Douglas Turner Geertz Freud Jung and Girard In analyzing sacrifice among the Malekulans of Melanesia and the eucharist of the American Episcopal Church Beers develops the theory that such rituals have a psychological function that diminishes and controls women He claims that men so fear women that religious ritual excludes women in order that men can gain and retain power over them

Archaeological Perspectives on Conflict and Warfare in Australia and the Pacific Geoffrey Clark, Mirani Litster, 2022-03-08 When James Boswell famously lamented the irrationality of war in 1777 he noted the universality of conflict across history and across space even reaching what he described as the gentle and benign southern ocean nations This volume discusses archaeological evidence of conflict from those southern oceans from Palau and

Guam to Australia Vanuatu and Tonga the Marquesas Easter Island and New Zealand The evidence for conflict and warfare encompasses defensive earthworks on Palau fortifications on Tonga and intricate pa sites in New Zealand It reports evidence of reciprocal sacrifice to appease deities in several island nations and skirmishes and smaller scale conflicts including in Easter Island This volume traces aspects of colonial era conflict in Australia and frontier battles in Vanuatu and discusses depictions of World War II materiel in the rock art of Arnhem Land Among the causes and motives discussed in these papers are pressure on resources the ebb and flow of significant climate events and the significant association of conflict with culture contact The volume necessarily selective eclectic and wide ranging includes an incisive introduction that situates the evidence persuasively in the broader scholarship addressing the history of human warfare The Scope of Anthropology Laurent Dousset, Serge Tcherkézoff, 2012-04-01 Some of the most prominent social and cultural anthropologists have come together in this volume to discuss Maurice Godelier's work They explore and revisit some of the highly complex practices and structures social scientists encounter in their fieldwork From the nature culture debate to the fabrication of hereditary political systems from transforming gender relations to the problems of the Christianization of indigenous peoples these chapters demonstrate both the diversity of anthropological topics and the opportunity for constructive dialogue around shared methodological and theoretical models Pentecostalism and Witchcraft Knut Rio, Michelle MacCarthy, Ruy Blanes, 2017-10-29 This open access book presents fresh ethnographic work from the regions of Africa and Melanesia where the popularity of charismatic Christianity can be linked to a revival and transformation of witchcraft The volume demonstrates how the Holy Spirit has become an adversary to the reconfirmed presence of witches demons and sorcerers as manifestations of evil We learn how this is articulated in spiritual warfare in crusades and in healing or witch killing raids The contributors highlight what happens to phenomena that people address as locally specific witchcraft or sorcery when re molded within the universalist Pentecostal demonology vocabulary and confrontational methodology
