Women and Mathematics Susan F. Chipman, Lorelei R. Brush, Donna M. Wilson, 2014-01-14 First published in 1985 In the mid seventies there was growing concern that early decisions not to study mathematics in high school might be limiting the occupational options available to women As part of a larger program on career development the Career Awareness Division of the Education and Work Group then one of the major organizational units of the National Institute of Education NIE initiated a special research grants program on women and mathematics Research information that would sort out the competing explanations for women's lower rate of participation seemed a useful contribution to debates about possible remedial actions Should there be for example widespread development and implementation of programs designed to reduce mathematics anxiety This volume represents the culmination of a research program with many contributions Resources in Education ,1990

Sociopolitical Dimensions of Mathematics Education Murad Jurdak,Renuka Vithal,2018-01-28 This book documents and expands on the diverse social and political dimensions of mathematics education issues concerns perspectives contexts and approaches presented in Topic Study Group 34 of the 13th International Congress on Mathematical Education ICME 13 The book also argues for and promotes the mainstreaming of the sociopolitical dimensions of mathematics education through an ongoing critique and inquiry into content policies practices and theories Accordingly the main theme throughout the book is captured and illuminated by bringing voices from the margin to the mainstream In this respect it is both aspirational and a reality as evidenced by the increasing references to the sociopolitical dimensions in other areas of mathematics education for example in several of the plenary presentations at the ICME 13 The authors have reflected on their ideas with a view to orienting and enhancing research in the sociopolitical dimensions of mathematics education that is grounded in current education systems within their specific sociocultural contexts A Survivor's Guide to Home Schooling Luanne
