Matrifocal Family Power Pluralism And Politics:

The Matrifocal Family Raymond T. Smith, 2014-04-23 The essays in this collection focus attention on the enormous contribution made by women in maintaining family relations in situations of both racial and gender domination Dilemmas of Ethnic Policy John Gaffar La Guerre, 2017-01-03 The Dilemmas of Ethnic Policy A Global Perspective argues that ethnic conflict increases or decreases in relation to changes in the social structure and the location and distribution of political power Ethnic grievances derive from lack of access to valued resources and elites play a crucial role in allocating those resources This book examines the experiences of five countries with a history of ethnic conflict former Yugoslavia Bosnia Herzegovina Guyana Trinidad and Tobago and the United States It finds that in many cases solutions adopted to mitigate ethnic conflict have unintended consequences Often supposed solutions confuse cause and effect and in fact worsen ethnic conflict Attempts to address identity issues by pandering to them often led to further ethnic demands This book argues that based on the experiences of the countries under examination the best course is to adopt policies that encourage alliances between and among ethnic groups Sexuality, Gender and Power Anna G. Jónasdóttir, Valerie Bryson, Kathleen B. Jones, 2011 Including studies of the sexual self and sexual subjectivities socio political processes of normativization and social structures of sexuality and gender in national and transnational contexts this book offers a view of sexuality as a broad and complex dimension of historically changing social cultural and human material reality EBL Motherhood, Social Policies and Women's Activism in Latin America Alejandra Ramm, Jasmine Gideon, 2019-07-10 This book is a critical resource for understanding the relationship between gender social policy and women s activism in Latin America with specific reference to Chile Latin America's mother centered kinship system makes it an ideal field in which to study motherhood and maternalism the ways in which motherhood becomes a public policy issue As maternalism embraces and enhances gender differences it has been criticized for deepening gender inequalities Yet invoking motherhood continues to offer an effective strategy for advancing women s living conditions and rights and for women themselves to be present in the public sphere In analyzing these important relationships the contributors to this volume discuss maternal health sexual and reproductive rights labor programs paid employment women miners unionization housing policies environmental suffering and LGBTQ A Companion to Gender Studies Philomena Essed, David Theo Goldberg, Audrey intimate partner violence Kobayashi, 2009-03-16 A Companion to Gender Studies presents a unified and comprehensive vision of its field and its new directions It is designed to demonstrate in action the rich interplay between gender and other markers of social position and dis privilege such as race class ethnicity and nationality Presents a unified and comprehensive vision of gender studies and its new directions injecting a much needed infusion of new ideas into the field Organized thematically and written in a lucid and lively fashion each chapter gives insightful consideration to the differing views on its topic and also clarifies each contributor s own position Features original contributions from an international panel of leading experts in the field and is co edited by the well known and internationally respected David Theo Goldberg Food in Cuba Hanna Garth, 2023-05-25 Garth s in depth and intimate ethnography portrays the shortcomings in Cuba s welfare system and the profound consequences for the way people eat Megan A Carney author of The Unending Hunger Food in Cuba follows Cuban families as they struggle to maintain a decent quality of life in Cuba's faltering post Soviet welfare state by looking at the social and emotional dimensions of food access Based on extensive fieldwork with families in Santiago de Cuba Hanna Garth examines Cuban families attempts to acquire and assemble a decent meal unraveling the household dynamics community interactions and individual reflections on everyday life in today's Cuba With the collapse of the Soviet Union in the 1990s Cuba lost its most significant trade partner Although trade agreements have improved the quantity and quality of rationed food in Cuba many Cubans still report living with food shortages and economic hardship Garth tells the stories of families that face the daily challenge of acquiring not only enough food but food that meets personal and cultural standards She argues that these ongoing struggles produce what the Cuban families describe as a change in character and that for some this shifting concept of self leads to a transformation of Cuban identity Playing with Languages Amy L. Paugh, 2014-05-01 Over several generations villagers of Dominica have been shifting from Patwa an Afro French creole to English the official language Despite government efforts at Patwa revitalization and cultural heritage tourism rural caregivers and teachers prohibit children from speaking Patwa in their presence Drawing on detailed ethnographic fieldwork and analysis of video recorded social interaction in naturalistic home school village and urban settings the study explores this paradox and examines the role of children and their social worlds It offers much needed insights into the study of language socialization language shift and Caribbean children's agency and social lives contributing to the burgeoning interdisciplinary study of children's cultures Further it demonstrates the critical role played by children in the transmission and transformation of linguistic practices which ultimately may determine the fate of a language Sexing the Caribbean Kamala Kempadoo, 2004-12 The primary focus of the book is to illuminate intersections of gender sexuality work race and economic relations in the Caribbean

Colonial Relations Adele Perry, 2015-04-02 A new perspective on the nineteenth century imperial world through one family s history across North America the Caribbean and United Kingdom Revealing how these figures demonstrate complicated historical trajectories of empire and nation Adele Perry illustrates how gender intimacy and family were key to making and remaking imperial politics

Central Africa in the Caribbean Maureen Warner Lewis, Maureen Warner-Lewis, 2003 Maureen Warner Lewis s pioneering study analyses some of the main lineaments of the Central African cultural legacy in the Caribbean with fascinating transatlantic comparative data She identifies Central African cultural forms in areas settled by the Koongo Mbundu and Ovimbunda the two present day Congos and Angola and illuminates Caribbean thought and customs through comparison with those cultures Back cover

Changing Britain Susan McRae, 1999 Major changes have happened in households and people s lives in most countries in the developed world Marriage rates have fallen divorce has risen women are having fewer children and later in life and there has been a rise in childbearing outside marriage One in four families is headed by a lone parent We are all getting older These changes have significance that goes beyond the individual families with implications for housing demand social security benefits labour force participation health and social services Changing Britain provides a comprehensive portrait of British families and households at the end of the 20th Century The book examines more generally the nature of economic and labour market change Britain's place in Europe and changing attitudes towards family life Specifically the book also deals with issues such as older people s lives non heterosexual families one person households young mothers and single parents and divorce Social Media in Trinidad Jolynna Sinanan, 2017-11-21 Drawing on 15 months of ethnographic research in one of the most under developed regions in the Caribbean island of Trinidad this book describes the uses and consequences of social media for its residents Jolynna Sinanan argues that this semi urban town is a place in between somewhere city dwellers look down on and villagers look up to The complex identity of the town is expressed through uses of social media with significant results for understanding social media more generally Not elevating oneself above others is one of the core values of the town and social media becomes a tool for social visibility that is the process of how social norms come to be and how they are negotiated Carnival logic and high impact visuality is pervasive in uses of social media even if Carnival is not embraced by all Trinidadians in the town and results in presenting oneself and association with different groups in varying ways The study also has surprising results in how residents are explicitly non activist and align themselves with everyday values of maintaining good relationships in a small town rather than espousing more worldly or cosmopolitan values Striving and Surviving Leah Schmalzbauer, 2013-10-08 Drawing on data the author gathered in Honduras and the United States from weekly time diaries in depth interviews participant observation and interpretive focus groups she looks specifically at the experience and prospects of transmigrant labor in the United States the aspirations and consumption practices of transnational family members in the United States and Honduras especially as the relate to the American Dream and she explores the ways in which families negotiate caretaking responsibilities both financial and emotional while striving and surviving in a transnational space This is the first daily life study of undocumented immigrants and the first transnational analysis of Close Kin and Distant Relatives Susana M. Morris, 2014-02-04 The black family in the United States Honduran families and the Caribbean often holds contradictory and competing meanings in public discourse on the one hand it is a site of love strength and support on the other hand it is a site of pathology brokenness and dysfunction that has frequently called forth an emphasis on conventional respectability if stability and social approval are to be achieved Looking at the ways in which contemporary African American and black Caribbean women writers conceptualize the black family Susana Morris finds a discernible tradition that challenges the politics of respectability by arguing that it obfuscates the problematic nature of conventional understandings of family and has damaging effects as a survival strategy for blacks The author draws on African American studies black feminist theory cultural studies and women s studies to examine the work of Paule Marshall Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat and Sapphire showing how their novels engage the connection between respectability and ambivalence These writers advocate instead for a transgressive understanding of affinity and propose an ethic of community support and accountability that calls for mutual affection affirmation loyalty and respect At the core of these transgressive family systems Morris reveals is a connection to African diasporic cultural rites such as dance storytelling and music that help the fictional characters to establish familial connections The Creolisation of London Kinship Elaine Bauer, 2010 In the last 50 years the United Kingdom has witnessed a growing proportion of mixed African Caribbean and white British families With rich new primary evidence of mixed race in the capital city The Creolisation of London Kinship thoughtfully explores this population Making an indelible contribution to both kinship research and wider social debates the book emphasises a long term evolution of family relationships across generations Individuals are followed through changing social and historical contexts seeking to understand in how far many of these transformations may be interpreted as creolisation Examined too are strategies and innovations in relationship construction the social constraints put upon them the special significance of women and children in kinship work and the importance of non biological as well as biological notions of family relatedness P 4 of cover African Re-Genesis Jay B Haviser, Kevin C MacDonald, 2016-07-01 Ripped from motherland and family ethnically mixed to quell the potential of uprisings and brutalized by regimes of hard labor the heart the spirit of Africa did not stop beating in the New World Rather it survived and has re emerged changed by contacts with new cultures and environments but still part of the continuum of African tradition an African Re Genesis This is the first volume in its field to emphasize the interdisciplinary temporal and geographic comparative research of Archaeology Anthropology History and Linguistics to allow us to form unique perspectives on broader trends in the transformation and re emergence of African Diaspora cultures African Re Genesis confirms that regardless of discipline from continental Africa to Europe the Western Hemisphere and Indian Ocean all Diaspora research requires a relevance to modern communities and sensitivity to the interplay with contemporary cultural identities Matters concerning race and cultural diversity though ostensibly de fused by the vocabulary of political correctness remain contentious Indeed the topic of racial relations has become to the twenty first century what sex was to the nineteenth century something best not discussed in public and better talked around than confronted directly African Re Genesis strikes at the nerve of urgency that the past present and future globalization of African cultures is a cornerstone of the entire human experience and it thus deserves recognition as such Indigeneity in African Religions Afe Adogame, 2021-11-18 Based on religious ethnography in depth interviews and archival data Indigeneity in African Religions explores the historical origins worldviews cosmologies ritual symbolism and praxis of the indigenous Oza people in South West Nigeria The author's locationality and positionality plugs the book within decolonizing knowledges and indigeneity discourses thus unpacking the complexity of indigeneity and contributing to its conceptual understanding within socioreligious change in contemporary Africa The future of Oza indigeneity in the face of modernity is illuminated against the backlash of encounters contestations with multiple hegemonies transmissions of Christianity and Islam and indigenous re appropriations. Thus any theorizations of such encounters must be cognizant of instantiations of indigeneity politics and identity culture tradition and power dynamics Through decolonizing burdens of history memory and method Afe Adogame demonstrates a framework of understanding Oza indigenous religious sociocultural and political imaginaries Work in Economic Life Gracia Clark, 2003 This new volume from SEA illuminates the importance of gender as a frame of reference in the study of economic life The contributors are economic anthropologists who consider the role of gender and work in a cross cultural context examining issues of historical change the construction of globalization household authority and entitlement and entrepreneurship and autonomy The book will be a valuable resource for researchers in anthropology and in the related fields of economics sociology of work gender studies women s studies and economic development Published in cooperation with the Society for Economic Anthropology Visit their web page Fathers in Cultural Context David W.
