Matter Mind And Medicine Transforming The Clinical Methodvalue Inquiry Series 93:

Malthus, Medicine & Morality Brian Dolan, 2000 Thomas Robert Malthus's reputation has lately been rehabilitated in the fields of social biology demography environmentalism and economics In the midst of this current interest and with the chance to mark the occasion of the bicentenary of the first edition of the Essay on Population 1798 the contributors to this volume take this timely opportunity to examine the historical conditions in which Malthus constructed his theory and in which the concept of a Malthusian and Neo Malthusian philosophy first emerged The essays redress the balance between Malthus's original argument the immediate responses to Malthus by medics and theologians in Britain and on the Continent and some of the ways that his ideas were later attacked appropriated or misrepresented Included here are essays that not only re-evaluate the development of Malthus's theory but also offer critical perspectives on the generation of the Malthusian league and debates about birth control in Britain and on the Continent and Malthus's influence on the emergence of social science and Darwinian evolutionary biology Structuralist Knowledge Representation Wolfgang Balzer, Joseph D. Sneed, Carles Ulises Moulines, 2000 On Comparing and Evaluating Scientific Theories , 2022-04-19 Contents Leon KOJ Methodology and values Leon KOJ Science as system Adam GROBLER Explanation and epistemic virtue Piotr GIZA Intelligent computer systems and theory comparison Henryk OGRYZKO WIEWIEROWSKI Methods of social choice of scientific theories Kazimierz JODKOWSKI Is the causal theory of reference a remedy for ontological incommensurability Wolfgang BALZER On approximative reduction C ULISES MOULINES Is there genuinely scientific progress Adam JONKISZ On relative progress in science Matter, Mind, and Medicine J. R. Kriel, 2000 This book critically assesses the implications of modern medicine's claim to be a natural science Medicine models its scientific and clinical self understanding on an obsolete positivist conception of science reality and consciousness In this view the body is modeled as a biological machine disease as breakdown of the machine and therapy as physical measures to fix the machine The problems besetting medical science and practice are rooted in the inadequacy of the positivist philosophical assumptions regarding the nature of science reality and consciousness To base the diagnostic practices and therapeutic regimes purely on knowledge of physical processes in the human body is in view of this analysis at best grossly inadequate at worst thoroughly dehumanizing Anton van Niekerk Editorial Foreword This means that medicine's clinical method cannot be transformed without transforming the underlying view of science of reality and of the human person The book proposes a broader model of science which overcomes the outdated dichotomy between human and natural sciences Science is viewed as an interdisciplinary exercise generating multiple perspectives The insights of the human sciences are essential for scientific clinical medicine Utilizing evolutionary biology and complexity theory the author proposes an alternative understanding of reality and human consciousness as a basis for a transformed clinical method Reality is a hierarchy of systems of increasing complexity Different levels can be distinguished namely material systems living material systems conscious living material systems and self conscious living material systems Each level represents a new manner of being which requires a different scientific discourse of understanding Using this model of reality the author argues against understanding human consciousness as a byproduct of physical processes in the brain The human person is a self conscious complex psycho somatic system whose well being is conditioned by much more than physical processes
