Nam Au Go Go:

TV-A-Go-Go Jake Austen, 2005-07 From Elvis and a hound dog wearing matching tuxedos and the comic adventures of artificially produced bands to elaborate music videos and contrived reality show contests television as this critical look brilliantly shows has done a superb job of presenting the energy of rock in a fabulously entertaining but patently fake manner The dichotomy of fake and real music as it is portrayed on television is presented in detail through many generations of rock music the Monkees shared the charts with the Beatles Tupac and Slayer fans voted for corny American Idols and shows like Shindig and Soul Train somehow captured the unhinged energy of rock far more effectively than most long haired guitar smashing acts Also shown is how TV has often delighted in breaking the rules while still mostly playing by them Bo Diddley defied Ed Sullivan and sang rock and roll after he had been told not to the Chipmunks subversive antics prepared kids for punk rock and things got out of hand when Saturday Night Live invited punk kids to attend a taping of the band Fear Every aspect of the idiosyncratic history of rock and TV and their peculiar relationship is covered including cartoon rock music programming for African American audiences punk on television Michael Jackson's life on TV and the tortured history of MTV and its progeny

Defend and Befriend John Southard, 2014-07-08 After relatively successful military interventions in Iraq in 1992 and Yugoslavia in 1998 many American strategists believed that airpower and remote technology were the future of U S military action But America's most recent wars in the Middle East have reinforced the importance of counterinsurgency with its imperative to win hearts and minds on the ground in foreign lands In both Iraq and Afghanistan the U S military has studied and experimented with the combined action platoon CAP concept used from 1965 to 1971 by the Marine Corps in Vietnam Consisting of twelve Marines a medic and dozens of inexperienced local militiamen the American contingent of CAPs lived in South Vietnamese villages where they provided twenty four hour security and daily medical support for civilians and fostered social interaction through civic action projects such as building schools offices and wells Defend and Befriend is the first comprehensive study of the evolution of these platoons emphasizing how and why the U S Marine Corps attempted to overcome the inherent military social and cultural obstacles on the ground in Vietnam Basing his analysis on Marine records and numerous interviews with CAP veterans author John Southard illustrates how thousands of soldiers tasked with counterinsurgency duties came to perceive the Vietnamese people and their mission This unique study counters prevailing stereotypes and provides a new perspective on the American infantryman in the Vietnam War Illuminating the fear felt by many Americans as they served among groups of understandably suspicious civilians Defend and Befriend offers important insights into the future development of counterinsurgency doctrine
