Raman Spectroscopy in Cultural Heritage Preservation Howell G. M. Edwards,Peter Vandenabeele,Philippe Colomban,2022-10-13 This book addresses the application of Raman spectroscopic techniques to a range of diverse problems which arise in the study conservation and restoration of artefacts and sites closely related to our cultural heritage as well as in authentication These themes are naturally wider than what at first might be considered as artworks and archaeological artefacts and the topics include pigments paintings ceramics glass sculpture and patination corrosion textiles industrial archaeology the degradation and preservation of biomaterials mummies and human skeletal remains An interesting feature is the inclusion of modern case studies which describe specific problems and approaches to the Raman spectral analysis of items important to our cultural heritage The text is prefaced with an introduction to the important parameters used in nondestructive Raman measurements and also highlights some future applications based upon novel miniaturised instrumentation for in field studies and potential screening work which will identify specimens which would repay further studies in the laboratory An attempt is made to give a snapshot of the state of the art evolution since the beginning of the technique 1970s and to point out potential further development The book is co edited by three international experts with many years experience in the application of Raman spectroscopy to artworks archaeological artefacts and in the investigation of materials and sites for cultural heritage preservation and each editor has undertaken to write individual chapters and different topics personally The adopted approach is designed to convey the sort of information which has become available from the adoption of analytical Raman spectroscopy to different problems in the field of cultural heritage preservation through the spectral interrogation of artefacts and how the interpretation of the spectral data can assist museum curators archaeologists and cultural heritage historians in the preservation and conservation of ancient materials and sites a particular advantage in this respect is the ability of Raman spectroscopy to determine generally in a strictly noninvasive procedure at the laboratory or on site with mobile instruments the presence of both organic and inorganic components in a particular specimen together nondestructively without any chemical and mechanical pretreatment being undertaken which is an essential requirement for rare and valuable samples An important aside from this work is the means of spectral identification of ongoing biodeterioration and biological colonisation in specimens in storage and the effects of environmental deterioration such as humidity and temperature upon their integrity The Pilgrim Art Robert

Finlay,2010-02-17 Illuminating one thousand years of history The Pilgrim Art explores the remarkable cultural influence of Chinese porcelain around the globe Cobalt ore was shipped from Persia to China in the fourteenth century where it was used to decorate porcelain for Muslims in Southeast Asia India Persia and Iraq Spanish galleons delivered porcelain to Peru and Mexico while aristocrats in Europe ordered tableware from Canton The book tells the fascinating story of how porcelain became a vehicle for the transmission and assimilation of artistic symbols themes and designs across vast distances from Japan and Java to Egypt and England It not only illustrates how porcelain influenced local artistic traditions but also shows how it became deeply intertwined with religion economics politics and social identity Bringing together many strands of history in an engaging narrative studded with fascinating vignettes this is a history of cross cultural exchange focused on an exceptional commodity that illuminates the emergence of what is arguably the first genuinely global culture Scientific Methods and Cultural Heritage Gilberto Artioli,2010-07-08 The scientific analysis of cultural heritage materials poses specific and often difficult analytical challenges This book attempts to rationalize the links between the most commonly asked questions in archaeology art history and conservation with the potential answers resulting from the vast array of scientific techniques presently available Six Dynasties Civilization Albert E. Dien,Professor Albert E Dien,2007-01-01 The Six

Dynasties also known as the Dark Age of Chinese history was a period of political disunity and conflict but also one of important developments in the arts religion and culture This comprehensive and extensively illustrated book covers the material culture of the Six Dynasties A D 220 to 589 Albert E Dien a foremost expert on the period draws on the archaeological findings of mainland China journals as well as historical and literary sources to clarify and interpret the database of over 1 800 tombs developed for this volume During the Six Dynasties the influences of non Chinese nomads the flourishing of Buddhism and increasing numbers of foreign merchants in the capitals brought about widespread change The book explores what the archaeological artifacts reveal about this era of innovation and experimentation between the Han and Tang dynasties The History of China , "Glass Exchange between Europe and China, 1550?800 " EmilyByrne

Curtis,2017-07-05 In this study Emily Byrne Curtis explores as her subject lenses spectacles aventurine glass and windows found in China from the sixteenth century She traces their technological development back to the glassworks in Murano Venice and explores their significance in terms of Venice s commerce with China Because glassware also figured among the gifts which three papal legates from the Vatican presented to the Kangxi and Yongzheng emperors the author examines many documents from the archives in Rome and the Vatican the study therefore touches to an extent on the history of the Catholic Church in China Curtis also discusses in the volume some contemporary Chinese references and verses to European glassware and in the case of enamel materials she discloses the pronounced effect their use had upon the decor of Chinese porcelains The East Asian Mediterranean Angela Schottenhammer,2008 The present volume is a collection of papers originally presented for the concluding conference of the research project The East Asian Mediterranean entitled The East Asian Mediterranean Maritime Crossroads of Culture Commerce and Human Migration and held at Munich University from November 2 3 2007 The papers in this volume have been arranged according to thematical sections that is Mediterranean Seas from East Asia to East Africa Merchants and merchant networks Commodities and transport and finally Trade parameters and perceptions each section covering a different aspect of trade diplomacy and perceptions across and within the East Asian and Asian waters In order to show the variety and the different qualities of interaction and exchange relations we have selected case studies with a main focus lying on Sino Japanese Sino Ryukyuan and Japanese Korean relations as well as the involvement of Muslim merchants in the Asian waters The volume in particular tries to draw the readers attention to the necessity and the advantages of international cooperation and interaction investigating topics of Asian history
