Originations Of Life From Volcanoes And Petroleum A Scientific Theory Opposed To Evolution:

Originations of Life from Volcanoes and Petroleum Donald E. Tyler, 1983 The Creation/Evolution Controversy James L. Hayward, 1998-04-30 This collection of 447 annotated references provides an overview of the literature addressing the creation evolution controversy for students teachers lawyers writers historians scientists sociologists clerics and other interested persons Fifty four annotations in the chapter on historical references highlight influential volumes published between 1543 and 1980 classic works that inform the views of later writers These historical works are listed chronologically in order of publication The remaining 393 entries feature books published from 1981 the year of the Scopes II trial in Arkansas to 1996 and include works that address historical sociological philosophical religious cosmological geological biological and anthropological issues surrounding the creation evolution controversy The annotations are written in an informative impartial style Except for references in the chapter containing historical sources and in the chapter featuring works on the history of the creation evolution controversy references are grouped under theistic and non theistic headings An introductory essay describes the history of evolutionary theory and creationism and defines the distinguishing features of each thought system An annotated list of periodicals featuring articles on creationism and evolutionism is also provided With author title and subject indexes Homo Americanus Donald E. Tyler, 1998 Creation Research Society Quarterly Creation Research Society, 1993 Earliest Man of America in Oregon, U.S.A. Donald E. Tyler, 1986 Recent Publications in Natural History, 1983 Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1915 American Paleolithic Donald E. Tyler, 1999 Publishers Directory, 1987 A Second Species of Early Man and a Folsom Point in Oregon, U.S.A. Ray D. Dickerson, Donald E. Tyler, 1999 Foreign Sperm Donald E. Tyler, 2004 The Deep Hot Biosphere Thomas Gold, 2013-12-01 This book sets forth a set of truly controversial and astonishing theories First it proposes that below the surface of the earth is a biosphere of greater mass and volume than the biosphere the total sum of living things on our planet's continents and in its oceans Second it proposes that the inhabitants of this subterranean biosphere are not plants or animals as we know them but heat loving bacteria that survive on a diet consisting solely of hydrocarbons that is natural gas and petroleum And third and perhaps most heretically the book advances the stunning idea that most hydrocarbons on Earth are not the byproduct of biological debris fossil fuels but were a common constituent of the materials from which the earth itself was formed some 4.5 billion years ago The implications are astounding The theory proposes answers to often asked questions Is the deep hot biosphere where life originated and do Mars and other seemingly barren planets contain deep biospheres Even more provocatively is it possible that there is an enormous store of hydrocarbons upwelling from deep within the earth that can provide us with abundant supplies of gas and petroleum However far fetched these ideas seem they are supported by a growing body of evidence and by the indisputable stature and seriousness Gold brings to any scientific debate In this book we see a brilliant and boldly original thinker increasingly a rarity in modern science as he develops potentially revolutionary ideas about how our world works Paleolithic Artifacts of American Early Man Donald E. Tyler, 2007

Origin and Evolution of Earth National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Earth Sciences and Resources, Committee on Grand Research Questions in the Solid-Earth Sciences, 2008-09-04 Questions about the origin and nature of Earth and the life on it have long preoccupied human thought and the scientific endeavor Deciphering the planet's history and processes could improve the ability to predict catastrophes like earthquakes and volcanic eruptions to manage Earth's resources and to anticipate changes in climate and geologic processes At the request of the U S Department of Energy National Aeronautics and Space Administration National Science Foundation and U S Geological Survey the National Research Council assembled a committee to propose and explore grand questions in geological and planetary science This book captures in a series of questions the essential scientific challenges that constitute the frontier of Earth science at the start of the 21st century Paperbound Books in Print 1995 Reed Reference Publishing, Reference Reed, 1995-12 Digest, 1894 God and Gaia Michael S Northcott, 2022-12-22 God and Gaia explores the overlap between traditional religious cosmologies and the scientific Gaia theory of James Lovelock It argues that a Gaian approach to the ecological crisis involves rebalancing human and more than human influences on Earth by reviving the ecological agency of local and indigenous human communities and of nonhuman beings Present day human ecological influences on Earth have been growing at pace since the Scientific and Industrial Revolutions when modern humans adopted a machine cosmology in which humans are the sole intelligent agency The resultant imbalance between human and Earthly agencies is degrading the species diversity of ecosystems causing local climate changes and threatens to destabilise the Earth as a System Across eight chapters this ambitious text engages with traditional cosmologies from the Indian Vedas and classical Greece to Medieval Christianity with case material from Southeast Asia Southern Africa and Great Britain It discusses concepts such as deep time and ancestral time the ethics of genetic engineering of foods and viruses and holistic ecological management Northcott argues that an ontological turn that honours the differential agency of indigenous humans and other kind and that draws on sacred traditions will make it possible to repair the destabilising impacts of contemporary human activities on the Earth System and its constituent ecosystems This book will be of considerable interest to students and scholars of the environmental humanities history and cultural and religious studies
