Surgery for Nurses (Classic Reprint) John McWilliams Berry, 2015-06-29 Excerpt from Orthopedic Surgery for Nurses The chief asset of a trained nurse is to possess a thorough knowledge of the principles and practice of nursing but in addition she should understand enough about medical and surgical subjects to make her own work comprehensive and give intelligent advice to inquiring friends and patients In this latter connection it is important that a nurse should understand something about Orthopedic Surgery A knowledge of how to recognize orthopedic deformities at an early stage the danger that exists in not recognizing them the possibilities of cure and the sad results of lack of proper treatment would be of advantage to all parents and individuals interested in children and such knowledge should be expected of all trained nurses The object of Orthopedic Surgery for Nurses is not so much to supply nurses with a text book in the sense of a medical student's text book as to give them a book which will discuss clearly and simply the recognition diagnosis prognosis and treatment of the more common and important orthopedic deformities In order to elucidate and emphasize the text many free hand outline illustrations have been added I wish to express my thanks to Mrs Ralph B Post formerly Supervising Nurse at the Albany Hospital for her criticism of the work and to Dr William P Howard for the free hand illustrations About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
