The Cinema of Francesco Rosi Gaetana Marrone, 2020 Francesco Rosi is one of the great realist artists of post war Italian indeed post war world cinema In this book author Gaetana Marrone explores the rich visual language in which the Neapolitan filmmaker expresses the cultural icons that constitute his style and images Over the years Rosi has offered us films that trace an intricate path between the real and the fictive the factual and the imagined His films show an extraordinarily consistent formal balance while representing historical events as social emblems that examine shape and reflect the national self They rely on a labyrinthine narrative structure in which the sense of an enigma replaces the unidirectional path leading ineluctably to a designated end and solution Rosi's logical investigations are conducted by an omniscient eye and translated into a cinematic approach that embraces the details of material reality with the panoramic perspective of a dispassionate observer This book offers intertextual analyses within such fields as history politics literature and photography along with production information gleaned from Rosi's personal archives and interviews It examines Rosi's creative use of film as document and as spectacle It is also a study of the specific cinematic techniques that characterize Rosi's work and that visually compositionally express his vision of history and the elusive truth of past and present social and political realities

Death and the Dolce Vita Stephen Gundle, 2020-01-16 A brilliant methodical investigation of a murder scandal that convulsed the Roman political and social establishment in the 1950s Financial Times On April 9 1953 twenty one year old Wilma Montesi went missing from her family home in Rome Thirty six hours later her body was found washed up on a neglected public beach Some said it was suicide others a tragic accident But as the police tried to close the case darker rumors bubbled to the surface Could it be that the mysterious death of this quiet conservative girl was linked to a drug fueled orgy involving some of the richest and most powerful men in Italy Death and the Dolce Vita a hybrid of history and police detection brilliantly recreates the details of the Montesi affair in light of the postwar economic miracolo italiano that inspired Fellini's classic film of libertine frivolity As well as being a thriller it provides an excellent account of the virtues and misdeeds of Europe's most foxy political class Ian Thompson The Guardian UK An intense claustrophobic narrative of murder mystery and scandal worthy of a Verdi opera a page turning narrative that explores its extraordinary characters and even more extraordinary cover ups evasions and dissemblage reaching to the top of Italian political life The Scotsman UK

Fear of Freedom Carlo Levi, 2008 Carlo Levi was a painter writer and antifascist Italian from a Jewish family and his political activism forced him into exile for most of the Second World War While in exile he wrote Christ Stopped at Eboli a memoir and Fear of Freedom a philosophical meditation on humanity's flight from moral and spiritual autonomy and our resulting loss of self and creativity Brooding on what surely appeared to be the decline if not the fall of Europe Levi locates the human abdication of responsibility in organized religion and its ability to turn the sacred into the sacrificial In doing so he references the entire intellectual and cultural estate of Western civilization from the Bible and Greek mythology to Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung This edition features newly published pieces of Levi's artwork and publication of the work It also includes an introduction that discusses Levi's life and enduring legacy Fear of Freedom not only addresses a specific moment in history and a universal timeless condition but it is also a powerful indictment of our
