Colonialism and the Modern World Gregory Blue,Martin Bunton,Ralph C. Croizier,Croizier, Ralph,2016-07-08 This collection fills the need for a resource that adequately conceptualizes the place of non European histories in the larger narrative of world history These essays were selected with special emphasis on their comparative outlook The chapters range from the British Empire India Egypt Palestine to Indonesia French colonialism Brittany and Algeria South Africa Fiji and Japanese imperialism Within the chapters key concepts such as gender land and law and regimes of knowledge are considered A Brief History of Stuff DK,2024-06-25 Learn how 30 000 bath toys and the work of amateur beachcombers

Gould,2020-12-10 Antarctica that icy wasteland and extreme environment at the ends of the earth was at the beginning of the 20th century the last frontier of Victorian imperialism a territory subjected to heroic and sometimes desperate exploration Now at the start of the 21st century Antarctica is the vulnerable landscape behind iconic images of climate change In this genre crossing narrative Gould takes us on a journey to the South Pole through art and archive Through the life and tragic death of Edward Wilson polar explorer doctor scientist and artist and his watercolours and through the work of a pioneer of modern anthropology and opponent of scientific racism Franz Boas Gould exposes the legacies of colonialism and racial and gendered identities of the time Antarctica the White Continent far from being a blank and white canvas is revealed to be full of colour Gould argues that the medium matters and that the practices of observation in art anthropology and science determine how we see and what we know Stories of exploration and open air watercolour painting of weather experiments and ethnographic collecting of evolution and extinction are interwoven to raise important questions for our times Revisiting Antarctica through the archive becomes the urgent endeavour to imagine an inhabitable planetary future

Works of travel have been the subject of increasingly sophisticated studies in recent years This book undermines the conviction with which nineteenth century British writers talked about darkest Africa It places the works of travel within the rapidly developing dynamic of Victorian imperialism Images of Abyssinia and the means of communicating those images changed in response to social developments in Britain As bourgeois values became increasingly important in the nineteenth century and technology advanced the distance between the consumer and the product were justified by the scorn of African ways of eating The book argues that the ambiguities and ambivalence of the travellers are revealed in their relation to a range of objects and commodities mentioned in narratives For instance beads occupy the dual role of currency and commodity The book deals with Henry Morton Stanley s expedition to relieve Emin Pasha and attempts to prove that racial representations are in large part determined by the cultural conditions of the traveller s society By looking at Joseph Conrad s Heart of Darkness it argues that the text is best read as what it purports to be a kind of travel narrative Only when it is seen as such and is regarded in the context of the fin de siecle can one begin to appreciate both the extent and the limitations of Conrad s innovativeness Special Bibliographic Series US Army Military History Research Collection, 1978 University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Subjects University of California (System).
