On Socialists and "the Jewish Question" After Marx Jack Jacobs, 1992 This work explores the attitudes and ideologies of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century Marxist and social democratic intellectuals toward Zionism anti-Semitism Jewish socialist movements and the nature and future of Jewry publisher description Between Redemption & Perdition Robert S. Wistrich, 2020-04-06 Originally published in 1990 this book focuses on the challenge to Jewish identity posed by the conflicting forces of enlightenment emancipation modern political antisemitism and secular ideologies like Zionism nationalism and socialism At the heart of his discussion stands the intense tortured and ultimately tragic encounter of Jews with Germans and Austrians He also deals at length with the new problems of Jewish cultural and political identity posed by the existence of the state of Israel and its embattled position among the nations In the course of the analysis the book looks at the tragedy of assimilation in central Europe with the optimistic dream of Enlightenment and Bildung coming to a climax in the nightmare of racial antisemitism and the Holocaust He explores the ambivalent relationship of the Jews with the European Left showing how many Jewish intellectuals found a new political home in radical and socialist movements though these movements often retained negative stereotypes of Jews and Judaism and exhibited a fierce opposition to the maintenance of any separate Jewish identity The role of Zionism is discussed and the more recent challenges to its legitimacy examined Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto-biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as routine and calculable responses to demands In fact he argues the more stable a liberal democracy the less freedom of action for transformal leadership Anton Pelinka uses a wellspring of historical fact to argue that politics always means having to choose between the lesser of two evils and that democracy reduces any possibility of personal leadership According to Pelinka Jaruzelski s politics of democratization in Poland in the 1980s which led to the first free and competitive elections in a communist system illustrate personal leadership hampered by democracy Jaruzelski initiated the roundtable process that transformed Poland into a democracy yet this process ultimately ended with his abdication Pelinka further emphasizes contradictions between transformal leadership and democracy by comparing the leadership styles of Hitler Stalin and Mao He de scribes collaboration resistance and tensions between domestic and international leadership using the American examples of Presidents Wilson Roosevelt Kennedy Johnson and Nixon and the European examples of Petain and Churchill Pelinka then turns to the tragic fate of the Judenrate under the Nazi regime to illustrate the lesser evil approach He closes with a discussion of moral leadership and how abstaining from office just as Gandhi and King did may be particularly suited to stable democracies Pelinka s unique use of rich empirical evidence from twentieth century history is this volume s hallmark He is critical of mainstream political theory and its neglect of deviant examples of democracies such as Switzerland Italy and Japan where there is traditionally much less emphasis placed on leadership Pelinka s noteworthy study will be essential reading for political scientists and theorists political philosophers and political sociologists with special interest in political ethics and contemporary historians Searching for a New German Identity Theresa M.
