Rosamond Lehmann:

Rosamond Lehmann Selina Hastings, 2012-02-29 The life of Rosamond Lehmann was as romantic and harrowing as that of any of her fictional heroines Her first novel the shocking Dusty Answer became wildly successful launching her career as a novelist and just as her novels depicted the tempestuous lives of her heroines Rosamond's personal life would be full of heartbreaking affairs and lost loves Escaping from a disastrous early marriage Rosamond moved right into the heart of Bloomsbury society with Wogan Philipps Later on she would embark on the most important love affair of her life with the poet Cecil Day Lewis nine years later he abandoned her for a young actress a betrayal from which she would never recover Selina Hastings masterfully creates a portrait of a woman whose dramatic life work and relationships criss crossed the cultural literary and political landscape of England in the middle of the twentieth century Dusty Answer Rosamond of British Writers Christine L. Krueger, 2014-07 This concise encyclopedic reference profiles more than 800 British poets

Rosamond Lehmann Judy Simons, 2011 Looking for Mr. Nobody Jenny Rees, 2018-01-16 Goronwy Rees 1909-1979 was one of the most gifted and promising figures in the constellation of British poets, journalists and intellectuals of the 1930s that included Louis MacNeice, W. H. Auden, C. Day Lewis, Isaiah Berlin and Anthony Blunt. Like many liberals of his generation, he was shocked by the effects of the Depression and correspondingly sympathetic to the Communist regime in Russia. Guy Burgess of the Cambridge spies, Burgess, Maclean, Philby and Blunt admitted his espionage to Rees. His association with Burgess was to blight the rest of Rees's life. When Burgess defected in 1951 and Rees denounced him to MI5, Rees was viewed more as a spy out to save his own skin than as an honorable citizen. His anonymous sensationalist articles in The People denouncing Burgess's political activities and all but naming names condemned him with the British intellectual community, not for his politics but for his betrayal of a friend. Colleagues and acquaintances accused him of trying to initiate a McCarthyite witch hunt. He lost his job. His academic career was ruined. In Looking for Mr. Nobody, Jenny Rees deals with many of the old charges made against her father in her search for the answer to her own question: Was he too a spy? Had he joined up with Burgess and Blunt and passed secrets to the Soviet Union? Her quest for the truth reveals a fascinating portrait of a brilliant but flawed man of letters, handsome and seductively charming, caught up in the radical political commitments of the 1930s: Communist Party membership and his tortured relationship with the notorious Cambridge spies. Recharting

the Thirties Patrick J. Quinn, 1996 The aim of Recharting the Thirties is to revitalize the awareness of the reading public with regard to eighteen writers whose books have been largely ignored by publishers and scholars since their major works first appeared in the thirties. The selection is not based on a political agenda but encompasses a wide and divergent range of philosophies, clearly the contrasts between Empson and Upward or between Powell and Slater indicated the wide-ranging vision of the period. Women writers of the period have largely been marginalized and the writings of Sackville West and Burdekin, for example, not only present distinct feminine voices of the period but also illuminate how much good literature has been forgotten. The Ballad and the Source Rosamond Lehmann, 1975 Literature as History Simon Barker, Jo

Gill, 2011-10-27 Literature as History presents a selection of specially commissioned essays by a range of key contemporary thinkers on the interdisciplinary study of literature and history. The unifying theme is the interrelationship between literary cultural production and its historical moment. The essays in the collection are astute and exciting in terms of their engagement with ever-changing developments in critical and theoretical practice while retaining an invaluable focus on familiar and engaging texts and authors. The contributors offer a reappraisal of the nature of literary studies today, looking back over the thirty-five years of Peter Widdowson's career, a career which has coincided with the emergence of challenges to and reformulations of critical theory and ask what the future holds particularly for the interdisciplinary ways of working which Widdowson pioneered. Bringing together distinguished scholars in the interdisciplinary study of English and History, it seizes the opportunity to take stock of the current field of literary studies and to ask searching questions about its future development

The Swan In The Evening Rosamond Lehmann, 2013-03-07 ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE BRITISH WRITERS OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY Full of her sensibility her funniness her own peculiar acumen ELIZABETH JANE HOWARD Lehmann legitimised a type of writing that took on deep personal themes ENGLISH PEN Combines something of the earthiness of Colette with the imaginative insight of Virginia Woolf CYRIL CONNOLLY Rosamond Lehmann one of the most distinguished British writers of this century published eight acclaimed works of fiction Her only autobiographical work The Swan in the Evening recreated first the child she was and the experiences that made her the woman she became moving on to tell the story of her beloved daughter Sally and the tragedy of her early death at the age of twenty four Then tentatively and persuasively Rosamond Lehmann relates the totally unexpected overwhelming and scrupulously recorded psychic and mystical experiences she underwent following that terrible loss The meaning of such events their messages of hope and comfort to others she then through a letter to her granddaughter passes to us

British Fiction in the 1930s James Gindin, 2016-07-27 British Fiction in the 1930s studies the literary climate of the British 1930s through a critical treatment of some of its influential and socially representative fiction The works depict in various ways a culture under the stress of seemingly insoluble economic and intensifying international dilemmas a culture that seems betrayed by the promise of its past and the paralysis of its present The fiction considers transforming solutions individual and sexual rebellions as well as the fears and attractions of social and political change

Elizabeth Bowen Patricia Laurence, 2021-07-21 Elizabeth Bowen A Literary Life reinvents Bowen as a public intellectual propagandist spy cultural ambassador journalist and essayist as well as a writer of fiction Patricia Laurence counters the popular image of Bowen as a mannered reserved Anglo Irish writer and presents her as a bold independent woman who took risks and made her own rules in life and writing This biography distinguishes itself from others in the depth of research into the life experiences that fueled Bowen's writing her espionage for the British Ministry of Information in neutral Ireland 1940 1941 and the devoted circle of friends lovers intellectuals and writers whom she valued Isaiah Berlin William Plomer Maurice Bowra Stuart Hampshire Charles Ritchie Sean O Faolain Virginia Woolf Rosamond Lehmann and Eudora Welty among others The biography also demonstrates how her feelings of irresolution about national identity and gender roles were dispelled through her writing Her vivid fiction often about girls and women is laced with irony about smooth social surfaces rent by disruptive emotion the sadness of beleaguered adolescents the occurrence of cultural dislocation historical atmosphere as well as undercurrents of violence in small events and betrayal and disappointment in romance Her strong visual imagination so much a part of the texture of her writing traces places scenes landscapes and objects that subliminally reveal hidden aspects of her characters Though her reputation faltered in the 1960s 1970s given her political and social conservatism now readers are discovering her passionate and poetic temperament and writing as well as the historical consciousness behind her worldly exterior and writing
