

I think the biggest innovations of the twenty-first century will be the intersection of biology and technology. A new era is beginning, just like the digital one was when I was his age.

Bowker, Ed, 2004 Who's who in Finance and Industry 2000-2001, 1999 Cities as Anticipatory Systems Salomón González-Arellano, Bruno Gandlgruber, 2025-02-17 The theory of anticipation suggests that systems both biological and social can adapt and update based on predictive models Cities which can be seen as complex systems that are associated with innovation are undergoing changes in response to current socio ecological transitions Therefore cities can be viewed as anticipatory systems that may signal future transformations that arise in response to the challenges posed by these ongoing socio ecological transitions This book combines futures studies and anticipation theories with urban studies and theories of urban transition Chapters address theoretical and empirical aspects of both fields and present case studies from a wide array of international perspectives These diverse examples demonstrate how cities implement arrangements and strategies to allow their actors of all kinds to anticipate change As such contributions in this edited volume explore possible scenarios and proposals for strengthening anticipatory competences in urban areas and examine the potential consequences of these innovations in the cities of the future

World City Network Peter J. Taylor, Ben Derudder, 2015-08-17 With the advent of multinational corporations the traditional urban service function has gone global In order to provide services to globalizing corporate clients the offices of major financial and business service firms across the world have generated networks of work It is the myriad of flows between office towers in different metropolitan centres that has produced a world city network Taylor and Derudder's unique and illuminating book provides both an update and a substantial revision of the first edition that was published in 2004 It provides a comprehensive and systematic description and analysis of the world city network as the skeleton upon which contemporary globalization has been built Through an analysis of the intra company flows of 175 leading global service firms across 526 cities in 2012 this book assesses cities in terms of their overall network connectivity the regional configurations they form and their changing position in the period 2000 12 Results are used to reflect on cities and city state relations in the context of the global ecological and economic crisis Written by two of the foremost authorities on the subject this book provides a much needed mapping of the connecting relationships between world cities and will be a valuable resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and planning
