Management Software DRM applied Star Mounds Ross Hamilton, 2012-05-01 Star Mounds is a full color illustrated study of the precolonial monuments of the greater Ohio Valley woven together with over fifty medicine stories inspired by Native American mythology that demonstrate the depth of the knowledge held by indigenous peoples about the universe they lived in. The earthworks of the region have long mystified and intrigued scholars, archeologists and anthropologists with their impressive size and design. The landscape practices of pioneer families destroyed much of them in the 1700s but during the first half of the 1800s some serious mapmaking expeditions were able to record their locations. Utilizing many nineteenth century maps as a base including those of the gentlemen explorers Ephraim Squier and Edwin Davis, author Ross Hamilton reveals the meaning and purpose of these antique monuments. Together with these maps, Hamilton applies new theories and geometrical formulas to the earthworks to demonstrate that the Ohio Valley was the setting of a manitou system, an interactive organization of specially shaped villages that was home to a sophisticated society of architects and astronomers. The author retells over fifty ancient stories based on Native American myth such as The One Eyed Man and The Story of How Mischief Became Hare that clearly indicate how knowledgeable the valley's inhabitants were about the constellations and the movement of the stars. Finally, Hamilton relates the spiritual culture of the valley's early inhabitants to a kind of golden age of humanity when people lived in harmony with the Earth and Sky and looks forward to a time when our own culture can foster a similar spiritual technology and life giving relationship with nature.

Index to Fairy Tales, Myths and Legends Mary Huse Eastman, 1915 Maze Tales Alan Robbins, The Formation of Campaign Agendas Holli A. Semetko, Jay G. Blumler, Michael Gurevitch, David H. Weaver, Steve Barkin, 2013-04-15 This unusual volume seeks to accomplish three related goals: to assess the extent and limits of media power in election campaigns; to extend the concept of media agenda setting to include the contributions of powerful news sources in the process of election agenda formation; to evaluate the impact of national system variables, differences in political and media systems on the balance of party and media forces in the formation of campaign agendas. In the process, it searches for ways of measuring the discretionary power of the media in electoral politics, testing this in terms of the relative ability of journalists and politicians to shape election campaign agendas.

Prisons and Punishment in Texas Hannah Thurston, 2016-06-20 This book explores the identity of Texas as a state with a large and severe penal system. It does so by assessing the narratives at work in Texas museums and tourist sites associated with prisons and punishment. In such cultural institutions, complex narratives are presented which show celebratory stories of Texan toughness in the penal sphere as well as poignant stories about the witnessing of executions, comical stories that normalize the harsher aspects of Texan punishment, and presentations about prison officers who have lost their lives in the war on crime. In analysing these representations, the book shows that Texan history plays an important role in the production of Texan self identity and that to understand the Texan commitment to harsh punishment we must be prepared to focus on Texan myths and memories. Prisons and Punishment in Texas draws on diverse interdisciplinary work including criminology cultural studies about Southern values as well as research on cultural memory and dark tourism Museums are shown to be under researched sites of criminological significance which offer rich evidence through which penal imaginaries and the cultural role of punishment can be explored The book will be of great interest to criminologists as well as scholars of sociology cultural studies museum studies and politics The Canadian Federal Election of 2006 Jon H.
