Karol, 2022-04-28 This book takes an interdisciplinary transnational and cross cultural approach to reflect on critically examine and challenge the surprisingly robust practice of making art after death in an artist's name through the lenses of scholars from the fields of art history economics and law as well as practicing artists Works of art conceived as multiples such as sculptures etchings prints photographs and conceptual art can be and often are remade from original models and plans long after the artist has passed Recent sales have suggested a growing market embrace of posthumous works contemporaneous with questioning on the part of art history Legal norms seem unready for this surge in posthumous production and are beset by conflict across jurisdictions Non Western approaches to posthumous art from Chinese emulations of non living artists to Native American performances take into account rituals of generational passage at odds with contemporary market driven approaches The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history the art market art law art management museum studies and economics Solid Objects Douglas Mao, 1998-09-28 In this provocative and wide ranging study Douglas Mao argues that a profound tension between veneration of human production and anxiety about production's dangers lay at the heart of literary modernism Focusing on the work of Virginia Woolf Wyndham Lewis Ezra Pound and Wallace Stevens Mao shows that modernists were captivated by physical objects which regarded as objects seemed to partake of a utopian serenity beyond the reach of human ideological conflicts Under a variety of historical pressures Mao observes these writers came to revere the making of such things and especially the crafting of the work of art as the surest guarantee of meaning for an individual life Yet they also found troubling contradictions here since any kind of making be it handicraft or mass production could also be understood as a violation of the nonhuman world by an increasingly predatory and imperialistic subjectivity If modernists began by embracing production as a test of meaning then they frequently ended by testing production itself and finding it wanting To make this case Mao interweaves social and political history with readings in literature the visual arts philosophy and economics He explores modernism's relation to aestheticism existentialism and the culture of consumption joining current debates on the politics of engagement and the social meanings of art And he shows conclusively in this elegantly written and consistently surprising work that we cannot understand the theories and practices of modernism without addressing the question of the object and production's ambivalent allure Painting and Sculpture in Europe, 1880-1940 George Heard Hamilton, 1993-01-01 This new edition of a book that offers the best available grounding in its huge subject as the Sunday Times called it includes color plates and a revised and expanded bibliography Professor Hamilton traces the origins and growth of modern art assessing the intrinsic qualities of individual works and describing the social forces in play The result is an authoritative guide through the forest of
