Receptacle of the Sacred Jinah Kim,2013-04-12 In considering medieval illustrated Buddhist manuscripts as sacred objects of cultic innovation Receptacle of the Sacred explores how and why the South Asian Buddhist book cult has survived for almost two millennia to the present A book manuscript should be understood as a form of sacred space a temple in microcosm not only imbued with divine presence but also layered with the memories of many generations of users Jinah Kim argues that illustrating a manuscript with Buddhist imagery not only empowered it as a three dimensional sacred object but also made it a suitable tool for the spiritual transformation of medieval Indian practitioners Through a detailed historical analysis of Sanskrit colophons on patronage production and use of illustrated manuscripts she suggests that while Buddhism s disappearance in eastern India was a slow and gradual process the Buddhist book cult played an important role in sustaining its identity In addition by examining the physical traces left by later Nepalese users and the contemporary ritual use of the book in Nepal Kim shows how human agency was critical in perpetuating and intensifying the potency of a manuscript as a sacred object throughout time

The Holy Land Reborn Toni Huber,2008-09-15 The Dalai Lama has said that Tibetans consider themselves the child of Indian civilization and that India is the holy land from whose sources the Tibetans have built their own civilization What explains this powerful allegiance to India In The Holy Land Reborn Toni Huber investigates how Tibetans have maintained a ritual relationship to India particularly by way of pilgrimage and what it means for them to consider India as their holy land Focusing on the Tibetan creation and recreation of India as a destination a landscape and a kind of other in both real and idealized terms Huber explores how Tibetans have used the idea of India as a religious territory and a sacred geography in the development of their own religion and society In a timely closing chapter Huber also takes up the meaning of India for the Tibetans who live in exile in their Buddhist holy land A major contribution to the study of Buddhism The Holy Land Reborn describes changes in Tibetan constructs of India over the centuries ultimately challenging largely static views of the sacred geography of Buddhism in India Interpreting Southeast Asia's Past Peter Sharrock,Ian C. Glover,Elizabeth A. Bacus,2008-01-01 Interpreting Southeast Asia s Past Monument Image and Text features 31 papers read at the 10th International Conference of the European Association of Southeast Asian Archaeologists held in London in September 2004 The volume covers monumental arts sculpture and painting epigraphy and heritage management across mainland Southeast Asia and as far south as Indonesia New research on monumental arts includes chapters on the Bayon of Angkor and the great brick temple sites of Champa There is an article discussing the purpose of making and erecting sacred sculptures in the ancient world and accounts of research on the sacred art of Burma Thailand and southern China including the first study of the few surviving Saiva images in Burma of a spectacular find of bronze Mahayana Buddhas and of the sculpted bronzes of the Dian culture New research on craft goods and crafting techniques deals with ancient Khmer materials including recently discovered ceramic kiln sites the sandstone sources of major Khmer sculptures and the rare remaining traces of paint plaster and stucco on stone and brick buildings More widely distributed goods also receive attention including Southeast Asian glass beads and there are contributions on Southeast Asian heritage and conservation including research on Angkor as a living World Heritage site and discussion of a UNESCO project on the stone jars of the Plain of Jars in Laos that combines recording safeguarding bomb clearance and eco tourism development Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology ,1994 Tibetan Arts Wenbin Xiong,2005 Buddhist Art Charles F.
