Sculptural Imagination:

The Sculptural Imagination Alex Potts, 2017 In the modern period sculpture has often been viewed as more limited more literal and also more primitive than the leading visual art painting But precisely because of its marginal status Alex Potts points out in this stimulating and original book sculpture has played a complex and intriguing role in modern ideas and fantasies surrounding visual art Potts explores the special qualities of sculpture as a free standing three dimensional entity and he considers the distinctive demands sculpture places on the viewer The book begins in the late eighteenth century when a systematic formal distinction began to be made between painting and sculpture Following changing attitudes toward sculpture through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Potts analyzes for the first time the radical transformation that has occurred not only in the nature of sculptural works but also in their display and reception He focuses on a broad range of texts by major writers who have in some way been obsessed by sculpture and by such artist theorists as Adolf Hildebrand and Donald Judd The author also offers a detailed view of selected iconic works by key players in modern thinking about the sculptural The impact of minimalism features prominently in this discussion for it placed the phenomenology of viewing three dimensional objects for the first time at the center of debate about modern visual art Publisher's description

The Photobook Patrizia Di Bello, Colette Wilson, Shamooin Zamir, 2020-08-07 The photograph found a home in the book before it won for itself a place on the gallery wall Only a few years after the birth of photography the publication of Henry Fox Talbot's The Pencil of Nature heralded a new genre in the history of the book one in which the photograph was the primary vehicle of expression and communication or stood in equal if sometimes conflicted partnership with the written word In this book practicing photographers and writers across several fields of scholarship share a range of fresh approaches to reading the photobook developing new ways of understanding how meaning is shaped by an image's interaction with its text and context and engaging with the visual tactile and interactive experience of the photobook in all its dimensions Through close studies of individual works the photobook from fetishised objet d'art to cheaply printed booklet is explored and its unique creative and cultural contributions celebrated Artwork, 1924 Photography and Sculpture Sarah Hamill, Megan R.

Luke, 2018-01-02 Ever since the mid nineteenth century when the new medium of photography was pressed into service to illustrate sculpture photographs of sculptural objects have directed viewers as to what in the course of ambling around a sculpture was the single perfect moment to stop and look What is the photograph's place in writing the history of sculpture How has it changed according to culture generation critical conviction and changes in media Photography and Sculpture The Art Object in Reproduction studies aspects of these questions from the perspectives of sixteen leading art historians Their essays consider iconic photographs archival collections new and forgotten technologies and conceptual challenges in photographing three dimensional forms that have directed changing historical and stylistic attitudes about how we see write about and narrate histories of sculpture Chapters on such varied topics as picturing Conceptual art manipulating sacred images in India to be non photographs and framing Roman art with an iPad illustrate the latent visual and narrative powers and ever expanding potential of these images of sculpture

Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe Imogen Hart, Claire Jones, 2020-10-29 By foregrounding the overlaps between sculpture and the decorative this volume of essays offers a model for a more integrated form of art history writing Through distinct case studies from a seventeenth century Danish altarpiece to contemporary British ceramics it brings to centre stage makers objects concepts and spaces that have been marginalized by the enforcement of boundaries within art and design discourse These essays challenge the classed raced and gendered categories that have structured the histories and languages of art and its making Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe is essential reading for anyone interested in the history and practice of sculpture and the decorative arts and the methodologies of art history

Art and Thought Dana Arnold, Margaret Iversen, 2008-04-15 Art and Thought is a collection of newly commissioned essays that explores the relationship between the discipline of art history and important movements in the history of western thought Brings together newly commissioned essays that explore the relationship between the discipline of art history and movements in the history of western thought Considers the impact of the writings of key thinkers including Aristotle Kant and Heidegger on the way in which objects are perceived and understood and histories of art are constructed deconstructed and reconfigured according to varying sets of philosophical frameworks Introduces the reader to the dynamic interface between philosophical reflections and art practices Part of the New Interventions in Art History series which is published in conjunction with the Association of Art Historians

Modern Sculpture Reader Jon Wood, David Hulks, Alex Potts, 2012-08-21 In many anthologies of art sculpture is given short shrift in relation to other media if it is treated at all Modern Sculpture Reader aims to rectify this situation by presenting a collection of important texts that have defined sculpture s radically changing status and role since the end of the nineteenth century a time marked by a general reappraisal of the forms and functions of art From the rigorously theoretical to the experimental and poetic Modern Sculpture Reader offers a lively discourse on the medium by a range of artists writers critics and poets Marcel Duchamp Louise Bourgeois Claes Oldenberg Andr Breton Ezra Pound and Clement Greenberg in a variety of genres poems lectures transcribed interviews newspaper and magazine articles and artists statements These diverse text selections offer valuable insight into the development of the critical language of sculpture and its connections to other media in an era of increasingly conceptual artistic practice Many of the essays highlight key ongoing concerns such as sculpture s physical properties and conditions of display both of which have important implications for the viewer s tactile and emotional interaction with sculptural works

The Sculpted Ear Ryan McCormack, 2020-04-17 Sound and statuary have had a complicated relationship in Western aesthetic thought since antiquity Taking as its focus the sounding statue a type of anthropocentric statue that invites the viewer to imagine sounds the statue might make The Sculpted Ear rethinks this relationship in light of discourses on aurality emerging within the field of sound studies Ryan McCormack argues that the sounding statue is best thought of not as an aesthetic object but as an event heard by people and subsequently conceptualized into being through acts of writing and performance Constructing a history in which hearing plays an integral role in ideas about anthropocentric statuary McCormack begins with the ancient sculpture of Laocoön before moving to a discussion of the early modern automaton known as Tipu's Tiger and the statue of the Commendatore in Mozart's Don Giovanni Finally he examines statues of people from the present and the past including the singer Josephine Baker the violinist Aleksandar Nikolov and the actor Bob Newhart with each case touching on some of the issues that have historically plagued the aesthetic viability of the sounding statue McCormack convincingly demonstrates how sounding statues have served as important precursors and continuing contributors to modern ideas about the ontology of sound technologies of sound reproduction and performance practices blurring traditional divides between music sculpture and the other arts A compelling narrative that illuminates the stories of individual sculptural objects and the audiences that hear them this book will appeal to anyone interested in the connections between aurality and statues in the Western world in particular scholars and students of sound studies and sensory history

Arts of Healing Arleen Ionescu, Maria Margaroni, 2020-06-22 This book occurs at the intersection of philosophy critical theory psychoanalysis and the visual arts Each chapter looks at art produced in various traumatogenic cultures detention centres post Holocaust film autobiography and many more Other chapters look at the Juarez femicides the production of collective memory of makeshift memorials acts of forgiveness and contemporary forms of trauma The book proposes new ways of thinking trauma foregrounding the possibility of healing and the task that the critical humanities has to play in this healing Where is its place in an increasingly terror haunted world where personal and collective trauma is as much of an everyday occurrence as it is incomprehensible What has become known as the classical model of trauma has foregrounded the unrepresentability of the traumatic event New revisionist approaches seek to move beyond an aporetic understanding of trauma investigating both intersubjective and intrasubjective psychic processes of healing Traumatic memory is not always verbal and iconic forms of communication are part of the arts of healing

Varieties of Modernism Paul Wood, 2004-01-01 This work discusses the art of the middle third of the twentieth century It consists of a short general introduction and four parts each concentrating on a key aspect of the art of the period

Image and Text in Conceptual Art Eve Kalyva, 2017-06-29 This book examines the use of image and text juxtapositions in conceptual art as a strategy for challenging several ideological and institutional demands placed on art While conceptual art is generally identified by its use of language this book makes clear exactly how language was used In particular it asks How has the presence of language in a visual art context changed the ways art is talked about theorised and produced Image and Text in Conceptual Art demonstrates how artworks communicate in context and evaluates their critical potential It discusses international case studies and draws resources from art history and theory philosophy discourse analysis literary criticism and social semiotics Engaging the critical and social dimensions of art it proposes three methods of analysis that consider the work's performative gesture its logico semantic relations and the rhetorical operations in the discursive creation of meaning This book offers a comprehensive method of analysis that can be applied beyond conceptual art David Smith in Two Dimensions Sarah Hamill, 2015-01-31 How does photography shape the way we see sculpture In David Smith in Two Dimensions Sarah Hamill broaches this question through an in depth consideration of the photography of American sculptor David Smith 1906-1965 Smith was a modernist known for radically shifting the terms of sculpture a medium traditionally defined by casting modeling and carving He was the first to use industrial welding as a sustained technique for large scale sculpture influencing a generation of minimalists to come What is less known about Smith is his use of the camera to document his own sculptures as well as everyday objects spaces and bodies His photographs of his sculptures were published in countless exhibition catalogs journals and newspapers often as anonymous illustrations Far from being neutral images these photographs direct a pictorial encounter with spatial form and structure the public display of his work David Smith in Two Dimensions looks at the sculptor's adoption of unconventional backdrops alternative vantage points and unusual lighting effects and exposures to show how he used photography to dramatize and distance objects This comprehensive and penetrating account also introduces Smith's expansive archive of copy prints slides and negatives many of which are seen here for the first time Hamill proposes a new understanding of Smith's sculpture through photography exploring issues that are in turn vital to discourses of modern sculpture sculptural aesthetics and postwar art In Smith's photography we see an artist moving fluidly between media to define what a sculptural object was and how it would be encountered publicly

Alfred Gilbert's Aestheticism Jason Edwards, 2017-07-05 Alfred Gilbert's Aestheticism presents the first sustained re evaluation of the life and work of one of the most acclaimed sculptors of the late Victorian period Drawing on important new archival sources this ground breaking study challenges the customary assumption that Aestheticism was primarily a literary painterly or architectural phenomena Jason Edwards reveals both the diverse ways in which Gilbert's sculptures operated within the context of Aestheticism and also how these works provided a unique and provocative commentary on the history of masculine friendship and eroticism in the period leading up to and beyond the Wilde trials in 1895 Detailed readings are offered of the relationship of Gilbert's work to essays by Pater and Swinburne poems plays and novels by Wilde and W S Gilbert and paintings by Burne Jones Leighton Rossetti Solomon Whistler and Watts With over 90 illustrations including key contemporary photographs showing Gilbert's works in their original contexts this book makes a major contribution to the field of Victorian sculpture studies

Badiou Reframed Alex Ling, 2016-12-18 He has been regarded with suspicion by some as an anti postmodernist who dared to write about unfashionable concepts such as truth and meaning But in recent years the philosopher Alain Badiou has risen in prominence pioneering new ways to produce conceptualise and discover art Badiou Reframed is an original book about an original thinker which applies for the first time Badiou's philosophy to the visual arts The six central concepts of this philosophy being and appearing event and subject and truth and ethics are elucidated through detailed analysis of a range of visual artworks including Marcel Duchamp's readymades the abstract paintings of Kazimir Malevich and Mark Rothko Banksy's contemporary street art the sculpture of Alberto Giacometti Stephane Mallarme's visual poetry and Victor Fleming's classic film The Wizard of Oz In focusing on Badiou's critical relationship with the visual arts Alex Ling reinterprets and represents not only the man but art itself

Dynamic Form Cara L. Lewis, 2020-07-15 Dynamic Form traces how intermedial experiments shape modernist texts from 1900 to 1950 Considering literature alongside painting sculpture photography and film Cara Lewis examines how these arts inflect narrative movement contribute to plot events and configure poetry and memoir As forms and formal theories cross from one artistic realm to another and back again modernism shows its obsession with form and even at times becomes a formalism itself but as Lewis writes that form is far more dynamic than we have given it credit for Form fulfills such various functions that we cannot characterize it as a mere container for content or matter nor can we consign it to ignominy opposite historicism or political commitment As a structure or scheme that enables action form in modernism can be plastic protean or even fragile and works by Henry James Virginia Woolf Mina Loy Evelyn Waugh and Gertrude Stein demonstrate the range of form's operations Revising three major formal paradigms spatial form pure form and formlessness and recasting the history of modernist form this book proposes an understanding of form as a verbal category as a kind of doing Dynamic Form thus opens new possibilities for conversation between modernist studies and formalist studies and simultaneously promotes a capacious rethinking of the convergence between literary modernism and creative work in other media

The Forces of Form in German Modernism Malika Maskarinec, 2018-09-15 The Forces of Form in German Modernism charts a modern history of form as emergent from force Offering a provocative alternative to the imagery of crisis and estrangement that has preoccupied scholarship on modernism Malika Maskarinec shows that German modernism conceives of human bodies and aesthetic objects as shaped by a contest of conflicting and reciprocally intensifying forces the force of gravity and a self-determining will to form Maskarinec thereby discloses for the first time German modernism's sustained preoccupation with classical mechanics and with how human bodies and artworks resist gravity Considering canonical artists such as Rodin and Klee seminal authors such as Kafka and Derrida and largely neglected thinkers in aesthetics and art history such as those associated with Empathy Aesthetics Maskarinec unpacks the manifold anthropological and aesthetic concerns and historical lineage embedded in the idea of form as the precarious achievement of uprightness The Forces of Form in German Modernism makes a decisive contribution to our understanding of modernism and to contemporary discussions about form empathy materiality and human embodiment Screening Statues Steven Jacobs, 2018-04-30 A dynamic scholarly engagement with Susanne Bier's work

Philosophy of Sculpture Kristin Gjesdal, Fred Rush, Ingvild Torsen, 2020-09-09 Sculpture has been a central aspect of almost every art culture contemporary or historical This volume comprises ten essays at the cutting edge of thinking about sculpture in philosophical terms representing approaches to sculpture from the perspectives of both Anglo American and European philosophy Some of the essays are historically situated while others are more straightforwardly conceptual All of the essays however pay strict attention to actual sculptural examples in their discussions This reflects the overall aim of the volume to not merely apply philosophy to sculpture but rather to test the philosophical approaches taken in tandem with deep analyses of sculptural examples There is an array of philosophical problems unique to sculpture namely certain aspects of its three dimensionality physicality temporality and morality The authors in this volume respond to a number of challenging philosophical questions related to these characteristics Furthermore while the focus of most of the essays is on Western sculptural traditions there are contributions that features discussion of sculptural examples from non Western sources Philosophy of Sculpture is the first full length book treatment of the philosophical significance of sculpture in English It is a valuable resource for advanced students and scholars across aesthetics art history history performance studies and visual studies

W. B. Yeats and the Language of Sculpture Jack Quin, 2022-06-30 This book comprehensively examines the relationship between literature and sculpture in the work of W B Yeats drawing on extensive archival research to offer revelatory new readings of the poet The book traces Yeats s literary and critical engagement with Celtic Revival statuary public monuments in Dublin the coin designs of the Irish Free State abstract sculpture by the Vorticists and modernists and a variety of carvings decorative sculptures and objets d art By charting Yeats s early art school education in Dublin his attempts to raise funds for public monuments in the city and to secure commissions for his favourite sculptors the book documents a lifelong interest in the plastic arts New and original readings of Yeats s poetry drama and prose criticism emerge from this concerted inter arts and interdisciplinary study

"Art, History and the Senses " Gabriel Koureas, 2017-07-05 Should sight trump the other four senses when experiencing and evaluating art Art History and the Senses 1830 to the Present questions whether the authority of the visual in visual culture should be deconstructed and focuses on the roles of touch taste smell and sound in the materiality of works of art From the nineteenth century onward notions of synaesthesia and the multi sensorial were important to a series of art movements from Symbolism to Futurism and Installations The essays in this collection evaluate works of art at specific moments in their history and consider how senses other than the visual have or have not affected the works meaning The result is a re evaluation of sensory knowledge and experience in the arts encouraging a new level of engagement with ideas of style and form
