Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, Irene Bald Romano, 2006 Romano describes each piece completely with measurements accession data where known report of condition a list of the published sources and commentary reflecting the most recent scholarship Photographs provide additional information for each entry An accompanying CD includes 54 color images many of which are of the pieces Various audiences will appreciate the accessibility of the scholarship presented here students may engage in further study on some of the topics raised by individual pieces or groups of sculptures and the scholarly community will welcome a work that provides an up to date and comprehensive examination of a significant Classical sculpture collection BOOK JACKET Art Hand-book, Sculpture, Architecture, Painting David Gray, 1901 Hellenistic Sculpture Brunilde Sismondo Ridgway, 1990 This is the final volume in Brunilde Sismondo Ridgway's series of books covering the entire range of Greek sculpture from its inception to its virtual end as it merged into the production of the Roman Imperial world Volume III discusses sculptural works both architectural and free standing from approximately 100 B C to the Battle of Actium 31 B C which removed from power the last Hellenistic ruler Although some monuments may belong to the years just before or just after this timespan Ridgway's aim is to concentrate on works plausibly dated to the first century B C even those with highly controversial chronologies Famous sculptures the Laocoon the epic groups from the Sperlonga cave the Belvedere Torso the bronze Boxer in the Terme Museum and many others are discussed together with less well known pieces Ridgway gives special emphasis to the finds from two shipwrecks the Mahdia and the Antikythera wrecks that provide a reasonable terminus ante quem and argues that many of the stylistic trends and decorative objects usually considered typically Roman instead have their roots in the Greek world This last Hellenistic phase is perhaps the most interesting of the three because it documents to a great extent the transformation of the products of one culture into those of another with different interests and priorities Far from being an unimaginative inferior output driven by commercial considerations the statuary of the first century B C is vibrant and inventive drawing from many sources in a stylistic eclecticism

Nazi Propaganda Through Art and Architecture Norman Ridley,2024-07-30 When the Nazis came to power in January 1933 they began a program of transforming Germany from a democracy into a totalitarian state but it was not a matter of simply enforcing compliance The people had to be coaxed into believing in the new regime Hearts and minds had to be won over and one of the ways the Nazis did that was to create an ideal of German nationhood in which everyone could feel proud This was especially the case with art which came to be used as a powerful tool of propaganda both to disseminate the myth amongst the population and indicate to the Nazi administrators the sort of cultural environment they should create It was not an easy thing to do While the nation was being re created as a dynamic modern and powerful industrial giant all the signals coming from Hitler indicated that his own idyllic view of the German nation was of a traditional rural people deep rooted in a romantic mystical aesthetic Hitler s own experience as an artist in Vienna before the First World War had shown that while technically proficient his work was detached and impersonal Despite being rejected by the Vienna Academy of Fine Arts he continued to see himself as artistically gifted especially in the field of architecture This book looks at how the artistic side of Hitler s personality dominated Nazi aesthetics and the ways in which the Third Reich manipulated public opinion and advanced its political agenda using the power of art Despite his early setbacks Hitler always thought of himself first and foremost an artist He would frequently break off discussions with diplomats and soldiers to veer off on a lecture about his ideas on art and architecture which had been formed during his time in Vienna Nazi Propaganda Through Art and Architecture explores how Hitler s artistic and architectural vision for Germany led to the monumental structures which we now associate with the Third Reich alongside the rural idyl he sought to espouse and how they came to symbolise the re emergent power of a German nation which would dominate Europe

Sculpting Doughboys Jennifer Wingate,2017-07-05

Redressing the neglect of World War I memorials in art history scholarship and memory studies Sculpting Doughboys considers the hundreds of sculptures of American soldiers that dominated the nation s sculptural commemorative landscape after World War I To better understand these doughboys the name given to both members of the American Expeditionary Forces and the memorials erected in their image this volume also considers their sculptural alternatives including depictions of motherhood nude male allegories and expressions of anti militarism It addresses why doughboy sculptures came to occupy such a significant presence in interwar commemoration even though art critics objected to their unrefined realism by considering the social upheavals of the Red Scare America s burgeoning consumer and popular culture and the ambitions and idiosyncrasies of artists and communities across the country In doing so this study also highlights the social and cultural tensions of the period as debates grew over art s changing role in society and as more women and immigrant sculptors vied for a place and a voice in America s public sphere Finally Sculpting Doughboys addresses the fate of these memorials nearly a century after they were dedicated and poses questions for reframing our relationship with war memorials today
