The Protection of the Underwater Cultural Heritage Sarah Dromgoole, 2006-09-01 The legal protection of the underwater cultural heritage is a field in which there is growing international interest Shipwrecks and other underwater cultural remains in every maritime zone are threatened both by activities directed at them such as treasure hunting and by activities incidentally affecting them such as mineral exploration and exploitation pipeline and cable laying dredging and fishing Since the first edition of this collection published in 1999 the urgent need for an international legal framework to regulate these activities has been formally recognised by the adoption in 2001 of the UNESCO Convention on the Protection of the Underwater Cultural Heritage While the prospects for this Convention remain uncertain it will undoubtedly have a profound influence on national laws and practice in this field This second collection of essays examines the present state of law policy and practice in sixteen different jurisdictions around the world in light of the 2001 Convention Among other things the viewpoint of each jurisdiction in respect of the Convention is considered and the impact that the Convention is already having and is likely to have in the future is explored Eight of the essays are entirely new and several additional jurisdictions are covered Finland the Federated States of Micronesia the Netherlands New Zealand and Norway The other essays have been thoroughly updated and revised to take account of the Convention The contributors come from a variety of backgrounds but all have specialist knowledge and experience of their particular jurisdiction and a keen interest in the field Sea Hunt

Dale A. Dye, 2018-10-02 She is most definitely a chip off the old Shake Davis block In fact her Dad is more than a little proud of his daughter who is both a research scientist oceanographer at the famed Woods Hole Institute and a U S Navy Reserve officer When Tracey Davis is called to do her annual active duty stint at the Navy s diving center in the Florida panhandle her retired Marine father thinks its a great opportunity where his only child will be well occupied and out of harms way He s right and wrong Lt j g Tracey Davis is well occupied leading active duty sailors at the base Ocean Systems office but she s hardly safe When an old friend from her days working in Belize shows up looking for one of the girls they saved from sex traffickers in Central America Tracey finds herself in very deep and dangerous waters full of marauding sharks and deadly human predators Dye is a superb storyteller who gets his details and language right When you pick up a Dale Dye book you know it will be professional well written and a page turner David Wilson VVA Books The Holy Bible, In the Authorized
