Schoneveld, 2023-11-27 Scholarly treatment of Anglo Dutch cultural relations with a focus on the 17th and 18th centuries

The Global South and Literature Russell West-Pavlov, 2018-03-08 The Global South has largely supplanted the Third World in discussions of development studies postcolonial studies world literature and comparative literature respectively The concept registers a new set of relationships between nations of the once colonized world as their connections to nations of the North diminish in significance Such relationships register particularly clearly in contemporary cultural theory and literary production The Global South and Literature explores the historical cultural and literary applications of the term for twenty first century flows of transnational cultural influence tracing their manifestations across the Global Southern traditions of Africa Asia and Latin America This collection of interdisciplinary contributions examines the origins development and applications of this emergent term employed at the nexus of the critical social sciences and developments in literary humanities and cultural studies This book will be a key resource for students graduates and researchers working in the field of postcolonial studies and world literature English National Identity and the Image of the Dutch Andrew Fleck, 2024-01-03 This book makes newly visible the sustained engagement of the English and the Dutch throughout a critical century in their cultural and national development It reads a broad selection of early modern literary texts some never before treated in Anglophone scholarship in which the Dutch and the English wrote about each other and themselves This interdisciplinary study brings to light the key affinities of these two nations their embrace of liberty turn toward Protestantism and pursuit of commerce It shows that as Catholic colonial powers worked to prevent the rise of early modern Europe's two great Protestant states those similarities as well as a combination of English admiration envy and distrust of the Dutch produced an emulous rivalry that remade the two nations and their literature

Transatlantic Literary Studies
Susan Manning, Andrew Taylor, 2007 This reader brings together a wide range of material that engages with the theoretical and literary possibilities of the transatlantic as an arena for textual and intellectual exchange In their introduction to the volume the editors suggest ways in which the transatlantic paradigm offers renewed possibilities for literary study that for too long has been tied to the ideological and political requirements of the nation state The reader is designed to provide accessible annotated examples of theoretical frameworks that might provoke further work in the field as well as important pieces of literary criticism that demonstrate different possibilities of comparative analysis The book aims to represent and promote the conceptualisation of American culture within a broader framework of transatlantic activity

English Influences in Dutch Literature and Justus Van Effen as Intermediary William James Bennie Pienaar, 1971

Maritime Mobilities in Anglophone Literature and Culture Alexandra Ganser, Charne Lavery, 2023-03-25 This open access edited collection explores various aspects of how oceanic mobilities have been framed and articulated in the literary and cultural imagination It covers the entanglements of maritime mobility and immobility as they are articulated and problematized in selected literature and cultural forms from the early modern period to the present In particular it brings cultural mobility studies into conversation with the maritime and oceanic humanities The contributors examine the interface between the traditional Eurocentric imagination of the sea as romantic and metaphorical and the materiality of the sea as a deathbed for racialized and illegalized humans as well as non human populations
