The John Ford Encyclopedia Sue Matheson, 2019-12-02 The winner of four Academy Awards for directing John Ford is considered by many to be America's greatest native born director Ford helmed some of the most memorable films in American cinema including The Grapes of Wrath How Green Was My Valley and The Quiet Man as well as such iconic westerns as Stagecoach My Darling Clementine She Wore a Yellow Ribbon The Searchers and The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance In The John Ford Encyclopedia Sue Matheson provides readers with detailed information about the acclaimed director's films from the silent era to the 1960s In more than 400 entries this volume covers not only the films Ford directed and produced but also the studios for which he worked his preferred shooting sites his World War II documentaries and the men and women with whom he collaborated including actors screenwriters technicians and stuntmen Eleven newly discovered members of the John Ford Stock Company are also included Encompassing the entire range of the director's career from his start in early cinema to his frequent work with national treasure John Wayne this is a comprehensive overview of one of the most highly regarded filmmakers in history The John Ford Encyclopedia will be of interest to professors students and the many fans of the director's work The Look of Catholics Anthony Burke Smith, 2010-06-22

When John Kennedy ran for president some Americans thought a Catholic couldn't or shouldn't win the White House Credit Bing Crosby among others that he did For much of American history Catholics perceived allegiance to an international church centered in Rome excluded them from full membership in society a prejudice as strong as those against blacks and Jews Now Anthony Burke Smith shows how the intersection of the mass media and the visually rich culture of Catholicism changed that Protestant perception and in the process changed American culture Smith examines depictions of and by Catholics in American popular culture during the critical period between the Great Depression and the height of the Cold War He surveys the popular films television and photojournalism of the era that reimagined Catholicism as an important even attractive element of American life to reveal the deeply political and social meanings of the Catholic presence in popular culture Hollywood played a big part in this midcentury Catholicization of the American imagination and Smith showcases the talents of Catholics who made major contributions to cinema Leo McCarey's Oscar winning film Going My Way starring the soothing and Catholic Bing Crosby turned the Catholic parish into a vehicle for American dreams while Pat O'Brien and Spencer Tracy portrayed heroic priests who championed the underclass in some of the era's biggest hits And even while a filmmaker like John Ford rarely focused on clerics and the Church Smith reveals how his films gave a distinctly ethnic Catholic accent to his cinematic depictions of American community Smith also looks at the efforts of Henry Luce's influential Life magazine to harness Catholicism to a postwar vision of middle class prosperity and cultural consensus And he considers the unexpected success of Bishop Fulton J. Sheen's prime time television show Life is Worth Living in the 1950s which offered a Catholic message that spoke to the anxieties of Cold War audiences Revealing images of orthodox belief whose sharpest edges had been softened to suggest tolerance and goodwill Smith shows how such representations overturned stereotypes of Catholics as un-American Spanning a time when hot and cold wars challenged Americans' traditional assumptions about national identity and purpose his book conveys the visual style moral confidence and international character of Catholicism that gave it the cultural authority to represent America

Five Came Back Mark Harris, 2015-02-24 One of The Hollywood Reporter's 100 Greatest Film Books of All Time One of the great works of film history of the decade Slate Now a Netflix original documentary series also written by Mark Harris the extraordinary wartime experience of five of Hollywood's most important directors all of whom put their stamp on World War II and were changed by it forever Here is the remarkable untold story of how five major Hollywood directors John Ford George Stevens John Huston William Wyler and Frank Capra changed World War II and how in turn the war changed them In a move unheard of at the time the U.S. government farmed out its war propaganda effort to Hollywood allowing these directors the freedom to film in combat zones as never before They were on the scene at almost every major moment of America s war shaping the public s collective consciousness of what we ve now come to call the good fight The product of five years of scrupulous archival research Five Came Back provides a revelatory new understanding of Hollywood s role in the war through the life and work of these five men who chose to go and who came back John Ford Scott Eyman,Paul Duncan,2004 This text takes a critical look at the films of John Ford including Stagecoach The Fugitive and The Quiet Man Print the Legend Sidney A.
