Pressure Cooker Sarah Bowen, Joslyn Brenton, Sinikka Elliott, 2019-01-07 Food is at the center of national debates about how Americans live and the future of the planet Not everyone agrees about how to reform our relationship to food but one suggestion rises above the din We need to get back in the kitchen Amid concerns about rising rates of obesity and diabetes unpronounceable ingredients and the environmental footprint of industrial agriculture food reformers implore parents to slow down cook from scratch and gather around the dinner table Making food a priority they argue will lead to happier and healthier families But is it really that simple In this riveting and beautifully written book Sarah Bowen Joslyn Brenton and Sinikka Elliott take us into the kitchens of nine women to tell the complicated story of what it takes to feed a family today All of these mothers love their children and want them to eat well But their kitchens are not equal From cockroach infestations and stretched budgets to picky eaters and conflicting nutrition advice Pressure Cooker exposes how modern families struggle to confront high expectations and deep seated inequalities around getting food on the table Based on extensive interviews and field research in the homes and kitchens of a diverse group of American families Pressure Cooker challenges the logic of the most popular foodie mantras of our time showing how they miss the mark and up the ante for parents and children Romantic images of family meals are inviting but they create a fiction that does little to fix the problems with the food system The unforgettable stories in this book evocatively illustrate how class inequality racism sexism and xenophobia converge at the dinner table If we want a food system that is fair equitable and nourishing we must look outside the kitchen for answers The Publishers Weekly ,1912 Fungal Biopolymers and Biocomposites Sunil K.
