Longest Day June 6 1944:

The Longest Day Cornelius Ryan, 2010-02-16 The unparalleled classic work of history that recreates the battle that changed World War II the Allied invasion of Normandy The Longest Day is Cornelius Ryan's unsurpassed account of D Day a book that endures as a masterpiece of military history In this compelling tale of courage and heroism glory and tragedy Ryan painstakingly recreates the fateful hours that preceded and followed the massive invasion of Normandy to retell the story of an epic battle that would turn the tide against world fascism and free Europe from the grip of Nazi Germany This book first published in 1959 is a must for anyone who loves history as well as for anyone who wants to better understand how free nations prevailed at a time when darkness enshrouded the earth The Longest Day, June 6, 1944 Cornelius Ryan, 1989

The Split History of the D-Day Invasion Michael Burgan, 2020-07-28 Every battle has two sides and the D Day Invasion during World War II is no different Experience the event from perspective of the Allies and then read the perspective of the Germans A deeper understanding of the battle from both sides will give readers a clearer view of this historic event

World War II, Film, and History John Whiteclay Chambers II, David Culbert, 1996-10-10 The immediacy and perceived truth of the visual image as well as film and television's ability to propel viewers back into the past place the genre of the historical film in a special category War films including antiwar films have established the prevailing public image of war in the twentieth century For American audiences the dominant image of trench warfare in World War I has been provided by feature films such as All Quiet on the Western Front and Paths of Glory The image of combat in the Second World War has been shaped by films like Sands of Iwo Jima and The Longest Day And despite claims for the alleged impact of widespread television coverage of the Vietnam War it is actually films such as Apocalypse Now and Platoon which have provided the most powerful images of what is seen as the reality of that much disputed conflict But to what degree does history written with lightning as Woodrow Wilson allegedly said represent the reality of the past To what extent is visual history an oversimplification or even a distortion of the past Exploring the relationship between moving images and the society and culture in which they were produced and received World War II Film and History addresses the power these images have had in determining our perception and memories of war Examining how the public memory of war in the twentieth century has often been created more by a manufactured past than a remembered one a leading group of historians discusses films dating from the early 1930s through the early 1990s created by filmmakers the world over from the United States and Germany to Japan and the former Soviet Union For example Freda Freiberg explains how the inter racial melodramatic Japanese feature film China Nights in which a manly and protective Japanese naval officer falls in love with a beautiful young Chinese street waif and molds her into a cultured submissive wife proved enormously popular with wartime Japanese and helped justify the invasion of China in the minds of many Japanese viewers Peter Paret assesses the historical accuracy of Kolberg as a depiction of an unsuccessful siege of that German city by a French Army in 1807 and explores how the film released by Hitler

s regime in January 1945 explicitly called for civilian sacrifice and last ditch resistance Stephen Ambrose contrasts what we know about the historical reality of the Allied D Day landings in Normandy on June 6 1944 with the 1962 release of The Longest Day in which the major climactic moment in the film never happened at Normandy Alice Kessler Harris examines The Life and Times of Rosie the Riveter a 1982 film documentary about women defense workers on the American home front in World War II emphasizing the degree to which the documentary's engaging main characters and its message of the need for fair and equal treatment for women resonates with many contemporary viewers And Clement Alexander Price contrasts Men of Bronze William Miles's fine documentary about black American soldiers who fought in France in World War I with Liberators the controversial documentary by Miles and Nina Rosenblum which incorrectly claimed that African American troops liberated Holocaust survivors at Dachau in World War II In today's visually oriented world powerful images even images of images are circulated in an eternal cycle gaining increased acceptance through repetition History becomes an endless loop in which repeated images validate and reconfirm each other Based on archival materials many of which have become only recently available World War II Film and History offers an informative and a disturbing look at the complex relationship between national myths and filmic memory as well as the dangers of visual images being transformed into reality

Defenders of Fortress Europe Samuel W. Mitcham, 2009 The year 1944 bore witness to the fifth long year of World War II Death rained from the skies of Germany her cities were ablaze or in rubble the extermination camps operated with cold blooded efficiency and the Eastern Front's guns roared day and night Hardly a German family had not lost a loved one Most terribly the Russian Front's floodgates creaked ominously If they gave way the Red Army would engulf the eastern marshlands and perhaps the entire Fatherland in a flood of barbarism not seen since the Dark Ages Yet as the Wehrmacht retreated Germans still had hope If the men of the Western Front could repulse the great invasion dozens of units including panzer divisions SS regiments and paratrooper formations would arrive to thwart the Red advance German scientists needed at least another year to develop their wonder weapons such as V 2 rockets submarines jet airplanes and perhaps even an atomic bomb Everything depended on the Western Front's warlords Defenders of Fortress Europe introduces the men who had once believed they would conquer the world By 1944 however they were trying to throw the Allies back into the sea or just check them before they could reach Germany The Fatherland's defense was in the hands of Nazis non Nazis and anti Nazis professional soldiers and professional troublemakers heroes murderers and war criminals the efficient geniuses and the incompetent the famous the infamous and the unknown soldiers sailors SS men and air force officers all men who fought out of fanaticism courage personal ambition a sense of honor duty love of country misplaced patriotism or simply habit
